He Receives It for Achievement and Research in Dealing With the Problems of the Deaf.

CHOSEN FROM AMONG
25 NOMINATED

Second Presentation of This Certificate Made by Dean Loeb at Ceremony in Mayor's Office.

Dr. Max A. Goldstein, founder and director of Central Institute for the Deaf, today received the St. Louis Award for 1932-33, in recognition of his achievements and research in dealing with problems of the deaf. The certificate, carrying a $1000 prize check, was presented to him in a ceremony at the Mayor's office.

The award was provided by an anonymous donor, who wished to stimulate outstanding community service. It covers the year ending last May 31. Tom K. Smith, banker, was the first recipient, for 1931-32, for his work as chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment.

Dr. Goldstein was selected by the standing Award Committee from among 25 men and women nominated by citizens. He was one of 10 or more nominees suggested for the first year's prize also. Members of the committee are the Rev. Alphonse M. Schwitalla, dean of St. Louis University Medical School; Dr. George T. Moore, director of Shaw's Garden; Dr. Isidor Loeb, dean of the Washington University School of Business and Public Administration; Charles N. Davis, president and board chairman of Security National Bank, Savings & Trust Co.; and Gilbert Harris, executive secretary of the Y. M. H. A.-Y. W. H. A., who is secretary of the committee.

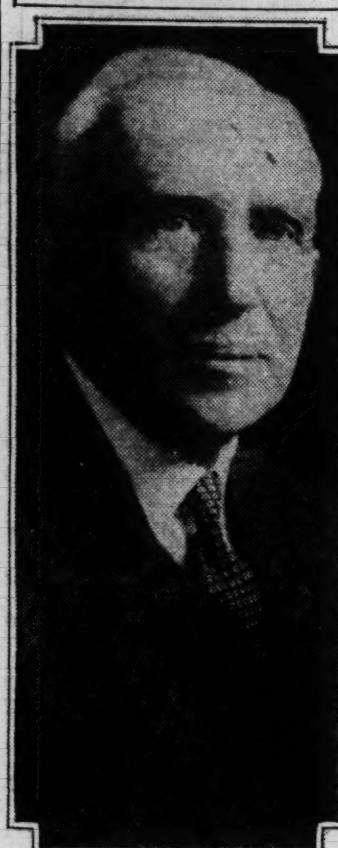

Presentation by Dean Loeb. City Counselor Hay opened this afternoon's public gathering, introducing Dr. Loeb. A hand-lettered parchment, bearing a colored picture of the statue of St. Louis in Forest Park, was handed Dr. Goldstein by Dr. Loeb. The parchment read:

"This certificate is awarded to Dr. Max A. Goldstein, eminent otologist, scientist and writer, founder and director of Central Institute for the Deaf, which, through methods devised and developed by him, has brought happiness and greater usefulness to those handicapped by deafness or defects in speech. His great contributions to humanity have brought the highest honor to Metropolitan St. Louis."

Dr. Loeb related that Dr. Goldstein, after 20 years of successful medical practice here, established Central Institute for the Deaf, which, through methods devised and developed by him, has brought happiness and greater usefulness to those handicapped by deafness or defects in speech. His great contributions to humanity have brought the highest honor to Metropolitan St. Louis.

Development of Research. "In order to give wider application to the new methods he had introduced, a teachers' training college was incorporated as an integral part of this institution. The outstanding character of the faculty he secured and the high standard of work maintained led to the recent affiliation of this college with Washington University, a recognition that no other training school in this field has secured from a standard institution of higher learning. "Throughout the entire period this man has been active in the publication of the results of the research pursued by him and his associates. This has culminated in a comprehensive volume dealing with the problems in this field and recording their experiences and research during a period of four years. It is safe to predict that this work will become classic and reflect the greatest credit not upon its author and the institution but upon the community which has had the good fortune to have

SAYS CORN PROCESSING TAX VIRTUALLY WILL CLOSE PLANT

Corn Products Co. Announces It No Longer Can Give Steady Work.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Officers of the Corn Products Refining Co. announced today that 2000 men employed at its large refinery at Argo would be out of steady jobs after today because of the processing tax of 28 cents a bushel on corn, effective after midnight Sunday.

The announcement said the plant might be reopened for short intervals next week, but there was little prospect for a return to steady production.

"The action in reducing operations at the Argo plant is in no sense a threat against the Administration," said an officer, "but we simply can't operate without orders, and buyers are not placing them since they became frightened by the announcement of the rate of the new processing tax."

EFFORTS TO PASS DRIVERS' LICENSE BILL DROPPED

Associate City Counselor Hods Measure Under Consideration Unconstitutional.

Efforts of the city to enact an automobile drivers' license bill were dropped today when First Associate City Counselor Wayman gave the Board of Aldermen a written opinion that the bill under consideration was in conflict with the State Constitution and motor vehicle code.

The bill, providing for a license fee of 50 cents, was referred back to the Public Safety Committee, where it will die. Vice-President Golden of the Board of Aldermen told his associates that city officials will go to Jefferson City Monday to urge Gov. Park to recommend passage of a State drivers' licensing law applicable to the residents of the larger cities.

In his opinion Wayman pointed out that section 7700 of the State law provides that it "shall be exclusively controlling on the regulation of chauffeurs, operators and other drivers of motor vehicles."

HEAD GARDENER OF PARKS FORCED OUT BY POLITICS

William C. Stuckmeyer Ousted After Quarrel With Commissioner Over Firing 58 of His Men.

HELPED DEVELOP THE "JEWEL BOX"

Offer to Resign When Administration Changed Turned Down — Then 'Pressure Got Too Great'

The job turnover in the Dickmann administration has reached the famous Jewel Box in Forest Park. After months of wrangling with Park Commissioner Miller over the discharge of 58 employees experienced in greenhouse and landscape gardening, Head Gardener William C. Stuckmeyer will go out Nov. 15.

Stuckmeyer has been in charge of the planting of trees, shrubbery and flowers in city parks for two years, succeeding the late John Moritz, who held the job through changing administrations for 38 years. As assistant gardener, Stuckmeyer carried on Moritz' duties for nearly five years due to the latter's ill health. Work under his supervision, particularly Government Hill in Forest Park and the Jewel Box displays, has attracted national notice.

A Technical Position. Selected to succeed Stuckmeyer is Joseph Haemmerl, 64 years old, a florist for 18 years at 4963 Natural Bridge avenue, until last spring, as he explained to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "the street widening and depression" put him out of business.

"This job has always been considered a technical position," Stuckmeyer said to a reporter today, commenting on his discharge, "and when I offered my resignation twice after elections, I was assured that the job was mine because of my qualifications. The pressure for jobs that was wrecking my organization by displacing my best men just got so strong it took me under with it."

Last May, shortly after the Florists' Club and Horticulturists' Society urged the Mayor to retain me, I received an order to let 20 of my 80 men go. They were replaced next day with 20 appointees who had never worked in a greenhouse before.

"I managed to save my most valuable men in this shakedown, but more firing orders came through, until June, when I had left only 27 of my old force. When they ordered five more changes, I gave up. I told Superintendent of Parks Skillern that I'd have to resign. I couldn't carry on my work with the type of men they were giving me. "Don't do it," he said, "We'll see you keep 20 of your old helpers," and I decided to try and get along. Later it was rumored around the department I was to be replaced by one of my new subordinates, rather than be kicked out. I again offered to resign and again was told by the Park Commissioner and Park Superintendent that the job was mine.

Two Best Men Let Out. "Well, sir, I was plus along the best I could under the circumstances, when out of a clear sky, Oct. 17, I was told to fire my two best men, Joseph Biernacki, the landscape man at Government Hill where horticulturists all over the country have stood and marveled at his work, and Henry Fortmann, in charge of the beautiful east end of Forest Park, Round Lake, Blair Monument and the Union boulevard entrance flower beds. Biernacki has been a Park employee for 20 years; Fortmann 18. And the men they named to replace them had never done any work of the kind in their lives.

"That burned me up. I told Miller and Skillern, again, that I would resign, that I would rather quit than try to run the place to my credit without these men. "I will say they were sympathetic. They said they would see what they could do and sure enough, on Oct. 20, they let me put Biernacki and Fortmann back to work, and repeated their assurance that I would remain head gardener.

"Last Saturday I was called over to the stable office. Park Commissioner Miller told me to sit down at a table with him and Skillern. 'I'm sorry,' Miller said, 'but I've got to ask for your resignation. I thought of all men I would be able to hold on to you, but the pressure on my own part, I was stunned. "I told him at first that I would resign. Later, thinking it over, I decided it would be unfair to the Horticulturists Society and Florists' Club, who had vouched for me, to go out as if my discharge were due to my own incompetence. I told them they'd have to fire me. I received notice of my dismissal Wednesday."

Stuckmeyer got $121.50 a month and a park residence.

PLAN TO FIX FARM PRICES DRAFTED AT CONFERENCE

Governors and Wallace Make Progress in Parley — Likely to Report to President Tomorrow.

QUOTAS WOULD BE PUT ON SALES

Program Calls for Crop Curtailment and Licenses for Both Processors and Distributors.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—A gigantic marketing agreement under the Farm Act, covering the major farm commodities of the Middle West and involving price-fixing, was proposed today at the conference between the administration and the Governors of five states as they sought agreement on an immediate farm price-lifting program.

This trend in the discussion was reached after Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had reported to the White House that difficulties had arisen in the effort to work out a satisfactory program.

Report to President Later. He said no report could be made to the President before tomorrow. Under the new suggestion before the conference an agreement would be drawn up under which farmers who signed would be guaranteed a fixed price for their products to be based on "parity" levels. It would be designed to give products the equivalent of their pre-war purchasing power.

The farmer would agree to curtail production in future years as far as necessary by the Department of Agriculture to fit the supply and demand situation for each commodity.

Individual farmers would then be assigned quotas of products which they would be entitled to sell at the fixed-price level. These quotas would be based on statistics of their production in prior years.

Processors and distributors would be licensed to fix the price of the products and to prevent circumvention of the agreement.

The administration's reaction to this proposal, advanced principally by Gov. Olson of Minnesota, Farmer Laborite, and given general approval by Governors Herring of Iowa, Berry of South Dakota, Langer of North Dakota and Schmiedeman of Wisconsin, remained uncertain.

Obstacles to Program. It was reported that, while Secretary Wallace and his aids had first listed price-fixing as "impossible," they offered numerous suggestions with a view toward making the proposed agreement effective.

The Governors turned to the agreement plan after encountering numerous legal and other obstacles to their original program, adopted at the Des Moines conference of governors. That plan called for an NRA code for agriculture, under which individual farmers would be licensed, and provided that prices be fixed to cover cost plus a "reasonable profit." They sought direct inflation also.

Olson said, "Compulsion is needed, all along the line, in order to make the farm program effective and to get higher prices for producers."

He asserted that while the proposed quotas would limit the marketing of farm products by producers in some instances to one-half of the quantity they have on hand, "it would be a lot better for the farmer to get a good price for half of his commodity than to get practically no price for all of it."

Gov. Langer, who earlier in the day had indicated impatience with the progress of the delegation's program, said "we are at last moving in the right direction but whether we will get there remains to be seen."

EIGHTH SUICIDE AMONG MEN LOSING CITY JOBS

Body of John Botz Jr. Found in Shallow Lake in Benton Park.

John Botz Jr., who lost his job as an attendant at the St. Louis Training School for the Feeble-Minded last month, ended his life early today by drowning. His body was found at 8:30 a. m. in a small lake in Benton Park, McNair avenue and Arsenal street.

Botz, 46 years old and unmarried, was the eighth city employee to end his life in recent months after losing jobs. City Hall records show that he resigned, but his father, who identified the body, told police he had referred several times to losing his job.

His strained financial conditions, of which he had frequently complained to relatives, were indicated by a note in his pocket, written by the landlord of a South Jefferson avenue rooming house where he lived until a week ago.

"What are you going to do about your room?" it read. "It must be paid at once. As soon as you come in, come down and pay it."

Another water-soaked note, in Botz' handwriting, read: "Notify my brother Bill, in the oil station at 1608 Clark avenue, that I drowned."

The elder Botz, who lives at 2330 South Ninth street, told policemen he did not know where his son had been living since leaving his rooming house. Physicians said that Botz, a strapping six-footer, had apparently died within three hours before the body was found. There was no money in his pockets.

Botz had worked for the city since June 24, 1932. He received $45 a month in addition to board, room and laundry.

TWO CLEVELAND BANKERS ARE SENTENCED TO PRISON

Former President Gets Two to 37 Years and Auditor One to 36 Years.

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, Nov. 3.—Two former officers of the Standard Trust Bank, which failed in 1931, were sentenced to the penitentiary yesterday. Convicted on charges of embezzling $19,000, C. Stirling Smith, former president, was sentenced to two to 37 years and was fined $10,000 and costs. Dale T. Winslow, former auditor, and co-defendant with Smith, received a sentence of from one to 30 years.

Addressing the two men before he sentenced them, Judge Arthur H. Day, who heard their nine-day trial without a jury, turned first to Smith:

"As the evidence unfolded," he said, "I became convinced that you were no longer a banker in these deals, but a brigand."

Judge Day overruled motions for new trials, but announced the men would be released on their present bail of $20,000 for Smith and $21,500 for Winslow pending appeal.

SUES TO COLLECT GOLD ON GOLD CERTIFICATES

New York Man Brings Action to Test Roosevelt's Suspension of Payments.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Halsey K. Davis of New York, demanding that a $20 gold certificate be redeemed in gold, has entered suit to test the constitutionality of President Roosevelt's regulations suspending such payment.

A petition in the nature of a writ of mandamus was filed against Secretary of the Treasury Woodin in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

In his suit Davis said he had made a demand on Oct. 25 for redemption of his gold certificate in gold coin and that payment had been refused on the ground that the President, acting under the National Banking Act, forbade such payments.

Contending he had been deprived of his property, Davis charged that the National Banking Act constituted an improper delegation of the power of Congress.

Justice Lettis issued an order today directing Woodin to show cause on Nov. 15 why a mandamus should not be awarded against him commanding him to give Davis 20 gold dollars.

MAN WITH $712 IN BANK HELD FOR GETTING FREE RELIEF

L. E. Koenig Accused of Obtaining $210 Meal Ticket From Citizens' Committee.

—Louis E. Koenig, 49-year-old unemployed florist, whose bank book indicates he has $712 on deposit in a savings account, was charged with obtaining a $210 meal ticket from the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment by fraud, in a misdemeanor warrant issued today.

Policemen reported that when they found Koenig in a vacant lot at 4025 Chouteau avenue yesterday afternoon, apparently under the influence of liquor, he had in his pocket his bank book as well as the meal ticket. The offense with which he is charged is punishable by a maximum sentence of $1000 fine and one year in the workhouse or jail.

Koenig, unmarried, resides in a rooming house in the 4000 block of McPherson avenue.

DR. C. H. M'MAHAN IS KILLED IN TEXAS

Auto in Which He Was Riding Hit Parked Truck Near Gainesville.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. GAINESVILLE, Tex., Nov. 3.—Dr. Claude H. McMahan, 59 years old, St. Louis specialist in treatment of narcotic cases, was fatally injured last night when an automobile in which he was riding, struck a truck parked on U. S. Highway 77, eight miles south of Gainesville. His chest crushed, he died half an hour after reaching a hospital.

McMahan's automobile was being driven at the time of the accident by E. M. Rider, 47 years old, of San Marino, Cal., who suffered minor injuries in the crash. He said Mr. McMahan, who had been in ill health for several months, was accompanying him to California to rest.

Dr. McMahan, who formerly operated the Anti-Narcotic Sanatorium on Lindell boulevard, just west of Grand, had offices at 4237 Olive street. He formerly lived on Westgate avenue, just south of Delmar boulevard, and was scoutmaster, 15 years ago, of a Boy Scout troop at the University City Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. McMahan lived at the Missouri Hotel with his sister, Miss Nell McMahan.

300 PCT. INHERITANCE TAX RATE INCREASE PROPOSED

Series of Bills Introduced in the Legislature by Senator Keoley.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 3.—A series of bills proposing an increase of about 300 per cent in inheritance tax rates in Missouri were introduced today by Senator Keoley of McDonald County. He said that on the basis of collections in 1931 and 1932 the proposed new rates would produce an income of about $12,000,000 in a biennium.

In addition to the increase in rates the bills propose to decrease exemption of inheritance by husband, wife or child from $20,000 to $5000, making all above that amount taxable, and permitting an exemption of only $1000 for all other persons.

STRENGTH IN COMMODITIES HELPS NEW YORK STOCKS

Rails Lead List With Gain of 2 Points; Profit-Taking Evident.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The stock market today absorbed profit-taking and weakness in the gold-mining shares with no great difficulty. The list also was aided by the strength in the commodity markets, notably wheat, which gained more than a cent a bushel on top of a similar spurt yesterday. The cotton market was steady, slightly above the previous close.

A greater than seasonal drop in loadings failed to disturb the upward movement in today's dealings. New York Central pushed up nearly 2 points. The utility shares also received good support.

ALSO DECLARES ITS OPPOSITION TO 'MANAGED CURRENCY' PLAN

L. F. Loree Applauded When He Waves $20 Bill and Calls It 'Mere Scrap of Paper' Under Present Conditions.

SAYS GOVERNMENT VIOLATES PLEDGES

Financial Interests of Much of East Represented at Session That Passed Resolution to Be Sent to Roosevelt.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The New York State Chamber of Commerce went on record today in strong opposition to a managed currency and demanded that the United States return to a permanent gold standard with the utmost promptness.

The action was taken at a special meeting attended by men eminent in the financial and business affairs of the State and nation.

Leonor F. Loree, head of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, declared that the abandonment of the gold standard by the United States was as great a violation of trust as Germany's disregard of Belgium's neutrality in 1914.

The sentiment of the Chamber of Commerce was one of the first organized attacks on the Administration's new monetary policy, particularly the recent gold purchasing policy.

Financial Interests Represented. At the meeting of the Chamber's representatives, financial interests of Wall Street and much of the East were represented. Opinion as evidenced from addresses made before the gathering was definitely in opposition to any attempt in currency experimentation and the managed commodity dollar.

The resolution stated that the Chamber, "taking cognizance of recent financial developments, hereby affirms its conviction that a gold standard is the most satisfactory monetary system from the standpoint of the American people as a whole, and expresses the belief that as a delay in the declaration of a definite policy will make the task more difficult, measures should be taken with the utmost promptness toward the restoration of a permanent gold standard in the United States."

An attempt was made to amend the section of the resolution for return to the gold standard both in regard to weight and fineness. Although the question was resolved by proponents of the amendment into one approving or disapproving return to the old gold dollar, it was defeated on the ground that such a move would be unwise at the present time and under existing financial conditions.

"Most of us," said Bayard P. Pope, member of the Resolutions Committee, "hope that a return to the historic gold dollar will occur ultimately. But to commit ourselves to that purpose immediately would be unwise."

The resolution stated that it was of importance to business recovery "that the Administration clearly and unequivocally announce that it will not adopt an automatic commodity dollar or a managed currency, but will adopt a policy directed toward the return to the gold standard."

The original committee resolution provided for incorporation of "certain economies in the use of gold," but this was struck out.

How to Increase Prices. The resolution further recorded the belief that "a rise in commodity prices should be accompanied by a rise in national income."

To accomplish such an end, it was declared that public confidence was necessary, but that it should be a confidence undisturbed by future uncertainties or alterations of the monetary unit.

Loree was applauded when he rose with a $20 note in his hand and said: "It is a curious phenomenon that

LAUNDRY BOMBING SHAKES SECTION OF EAST ST. LOUIS

Two Holes Torn in Wall of Plant at 1100 St. Clair, Windows in Nearby Buildings Broken.

FIRM'S WATCHMAN THROWN TO FLOOR

He and Another Escape Unhurt—Man Seen to Flee Through Alley Before Explosion.

A section of East St. Louis was shaken early today by the bombing of the St. Clair Laundry, 1100 St. Clair avenue.

The explosive, apparently dynamite, was placed against a side wall of the one-story building at the corner of Twelfth and St. Clair.

The force of the explosion tore two holes in the brick wall, and shattered three plate glass windows and several smaller windows in the building.

At the corner of Twelfth and St. Clair, a block away, one of two watchmen on duty inside the laundry, was thrown to the floor, but ran out unhurt with the other watchman, Oscar Struet. Damage to the building was estimated at $10,000.

Thirty-nine windows in a double row across the street were shattered, showering the beds of several of the occupants with glass.

There were no injuries, however. At the corner of Twelfth and St. Clair, a block away, one of two watchmen on duty inside the laundry, was thrown to the floor, but ran out unhurt with the other watchman, Oscar Struet. Damage to the building was estimated at $10,000.

Robert E. Hussey organized a railroad tie company which borrowed $400,000 from the $1,000,000 trust estate created by his father because other loans made by the estate had been repaid and its income from investments was declining.

Hussey declared he had no expectation of making a great profit for himself, pointing out that he had agreed to pay the estate 8 per cent for the borrowed money.

Robert Hussey, with his brother, Nolen and his mother, Mrs. Tennie Hussey, is defendant in an accounting suit brought by his sister, Mrs. James Bailey, who charges them with mismanagement of the estate, for which they were trustees, and complaints particularly of the loans to Robert's company, the Hussey Lumber Products Co.

He has contended that the loans were proper and would have been repaid in full had not other members of the family insisted, in 1929, that he reduce the indebtedness by half within a year. To accomplish that, he said, it was necessary for his company to sell unseasoned railroad ties at a loss, and the company, now insolvent, still owes about $200,000 to the estate.

The agreement to reduce the loans, it was brought out, was made after family conferences at which it was determined to give the National Bank of Commerce and later St. Louis Union Trust Co. supervision over investments of the trust estate.

Under that agreement its funds were to be invested in listed securities, Government and municipal bonds, high-grade stocks and bonds of utilities, railroads and industries. Previously the estate's investments had been chiefly in operating lumber companies controlled by members of the family, which borrowed money at 8 per cent.

Robert Hussey said he had objected to loans totaling $25,000, obtained by his brother Nolen in 1930 and 1931, because they did not come within the terms of the agreement. These loans figure also in Mrs. Bailey's complaint. Robert said part of the money was used by Nolen, an amateur aviator, to acquire an interest in an aviation concern.

Robert Hussey said he had objected to loans totaling $25,000, obtained by his brother Nolen in 1930 and 1931, because they did not come within the terms of the agreement. These loans figure also in Mrs. Bailey's complaint. Robert said part of the money was used by Nolen, an amateur aviator, to acquire an interest in an aviation concern.

MAYOR FILLS TWO EFFICIENCY BOARD POSTS

Appoints F. A. Renick, Democrat, and J. Philo Young, Republican, to $2000-a-Year Job.

Fred A. Renick, wounded and decorated World War veteran, and J. Philo Young, official of a land title insurance company, were appointed to two vacancies on the Efficiency Board yesterday by Mayor Dickmann.

The new members of the board succeed P. P. O'Neill, Democrat, whose resignation was accepted by the Mayor last Saturday following a long investigation of an examination of applicants for jobs as building inspectors, as a result of which the Mayor also notified Ernest Moser that his appointment, expiring Sept. 16, would not be renewed.

Renick, a securities salesman for G. H. Walker & Co., served as a member of the Efficiency Board from 1919 to 1925 under Mayor Kiel. He was an ambulance driver overseas during the World War and lost his right arm in action. He is the winner of the Distinguished Service Cross, and the French Medaille Militaire and Croix de Guerre. He is 45 years old, a bachelor and an active member of veterans' organizations. He resides at 6525 Clayton avenue.

Young, 56 years old and married, is vice-president of the Land Title Insurance Co., and resides at 701 Eastgate avenue. He has been a personal friend of Mayor Dickmann for 30 years. This is his first appointment to the first public office.

Salaries of Renick and Young will be $2000 a year. On the board they are associated with Maurice J. Cassidy, chairman, who gets $6000 a year and devotes full time to the office.

In announcing Saturday that O'Neill and Moser would be on the board no longer, Mayor Dickmann expressed himself as dissatisfied with their attitude in the investigation of the examination of applicants for inspectors' jobs, in which it was shown that some of the applicants had obtained advance copies of the questions to be asked.

O'Neill, the Mayor declared, made efforts to have the examination approved, although he had this knowledge, while Moser, he added, failed to co-operate with the City Counselor in investigating the situation.

Another proposal under consideration is to request Gov. Park to authorize the Legislature, now in special session, through a revision of his call, to consider an enabling act permitting the formation of a "joint water district" in the county, 30 per cent of the cost of construction to be asked for as a grant and the rest as a loan from the Public Works Administration. Revenue of the water plant would be pledged to repay the Federal loan, the project thus being self-liquidating.

The Mayors of the four towns, which consume 85 per cent of the water sold by the company, asked for a 25 per cent reduction in rates to private consumers, amounting to $200,000 annually, and a reduction from $48 to $30 in the annual rental paid for fire hydrants.

The company agreed to reduce hydrant rental to $36, which would amount to an annual saving of $14,000 by the four towns.

A letter from the company stating it could not comply with the demands except as to the concession made on hydrant rental, was delivered in person by Charles Polk, attorney for the company, to a meeting at Mayor Millars office. Polk and company officials who accompanied him, left without comment after delivering the letter.

The company is permitted to earn 7 per cent on the valuation approved by the Public Service Commission. The Mayors contend that a 5 per cent return during the depression is "most liberal." Public Service Commission figures show the company earned 6.92 per cent in 1932.

Two of City Counselor Hay's principal aids changed places on the staff today at Hay's direction. Edgar H. Wayman, an Associate Counselor since Hay took office May 1, was made First Associate. He is a Democrat. Oliver G. Senti, Republican, who has been in the Law Department about 15 years and First Associate for more than eight years, took the place vacated by Wayman.

Wayman will receive $4950 a year and Senti $3780. Senti was City Counselor for a short time in Mayor Kiel's administration. He has briefed most of the city's cases in the appellate courts for years and has handled the trial of many cases. Hay, in a statement, said Senti's "long experience, tremendous energy and unselfish devotion to the city's interests make him a valuable man." He also praised Wayman's ability.

BIG FIRMS PAY PROCESSING TAX UNDER PROTEST

$1,591,704 Collected by St. Louis Offices on Wheat, Cotton, Tobacco — $1,256,387 More Scheduled.

Large manufacturers in the Eastern District of Missouri whose Federal processing taxes on cotton, wheat and tobacco amounted to $2,848,092.55 up to Oct. 31, in most cases have filed notice with Collector Becker that their full or partial payments of the tax are made under protest.

Of the amount due, $1,591,704.60 has been paid. Returns have been made on the remaining $1,256,387.96 by manufacturers who took advantage of paying in quarterly installments taxes on the goods on hand when the taxes started.

Virtually all the large checks bear the notation that the tax is paid under protest. Some were accompanied by letters protesting that the processing tax to be used for farm relief is unconstitutional. Two large concerns, whose combined payments amounted to more than $700,000, filed applications for a refund. Few protests have been received from small manufacturers.

The wheat tax went into effect July 9, being levied on millers and on the flour stocks on hand of wholesalers and retailers, known as a flour tax. After the flour tax has been paid, only the millers or first processors will be subject to the tax.

The cotton tax, effective Aug. 1, applied to manufacturers of cotton goods with a floor tax against wholesale and retail dry goods firms, applicable only to the stock they had on hand at that time.

The tobacco processing tax became effective Oct. 1. Collector Becker said he expected annual collections here of the processing tax will exceed those under the income tax which, in this district, are expected to be about $12,000,000 this year.

PICKET CALLED FROM HOME, BEATEN BY FOUR MEN, WOMAN

Nicholas Johnson, Garment Striker, Suffers Cuts on Scalp and Forehead.

Nicholas Johnson, 43 years old, was treated at City Hospital last night for cuts on the scalp and forehead which he said were inflicted when he was attacked at his home, 1818 Ohio avenue, by four men and a woman.

Johnson, who has been picketing at a Lucas avenue garment company where workers are on strike, said a young woman he knows came to the house and told him her mother was in the automobile outside and wished to talk to him. He said that when he went out four men and another woman beat him, and that all drove away in the automobile.

BUREAU GETS JOBS FOR 1064 MEN AND WOMEN IN OCTOBER

Jobs for 1064 men and women were found during October through Citizens' Free Employment Bureau, 1806 Washington avenue, its director reported today. This was an increase of 138 over the preceding month.

Applications received during the month, 5375, were nearly 1000 more than in September, and brought the net total of applications on file to 109,070. Of the placements during October 617 were temporary, and 347 permanent.

MAN HURT, WINDOW BROKEN; SHOPLIFTERS CAUGHT IN CHASE

Policeman's Revolver Fired Accidentally Shatters Glass in Store at Ninth and St. Charles.

A bullet from the revolver of a traffic policeman, who was chasing a pair of shoplifters yesterday afternoon, smashed a window in the St. Charles Drug Co., Ninth and St. Charles streets, causing slight injury to a customer who was cut by glass. The officer said his revolver, which he had drawn, was accidentally discharged when he stumbled.

The chase started at Barney's Stores, 920 Washington avenue, when two Negroes picked up a jacket and a pair of trousers and ran out with two clerks in pursuit. The clerks shouted to Traffic Policeman Louis Kaufman, on duty at Ninth and Washington, and he joined in the chase as the fugitives turned south in Ninth street. As Kaufman neared St. Charles street his revolver was discharged. Robert Massenburg, 5516 Pershing avenue, seated near the window when the bullet struck it, was cut on the face by glass. The bullet passed through a woman's coat on a hanger in the store. The shot and the shouts of pursuers attracted the attention of other policemen, who caught the Negroes.

RELIEF APPOINTMENT PROTEST

A protest against appointment of Democratic Aldermen Hoedinger and Israel to sit with the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment was made today at the board's meeting by Alderman Waldman (Rep.) of the Twenty-eighth Ward, who said it was "injecting politics into relief work."

Previously Vice-President Golden of the board had appointed Alderman Petersen (Dem.) and Kralemann (Rep.) who also sit with the Citizens' Committee. Waldman's protest was cut short when the board adjourned for a week.

LA GUARDIA RETAINS LEAD IN DIGEST POLL

Final Returns Compiled in Straw Vote for New York City Mayor.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Fiorello H. La Guardia leads by a comfortable margin in the final returns of the Literary Digest's city-wide poll for Mayor, according to the returns which will be published in tomorrow's issue of the magazine. The Fusion candidate is shown with 47.98 per cent of the 545,024 votes tallied and leads all other contestants in every borough of the city with a total balloting for him of 281,517.

Joseph V. McKee, independent Democrat running under the Recovery emblem, is second, with 207,169 votes, or 38.01 per cent of the grand total, and John P. O'Brien is third with 60,129 ballots, or 11.03 per cent.

Solomon, the Socialist candidate, polls 13,391 votes, or 2.46 per cent. The minor candidates have a combined total of 2818 ballots, or .52 per cent.

In this straw poll, ballots were mailed to the 2,339,617 voters on the 1932 registration lists, which is 16,000 more than are on the 1933 registration lists.

La Guardia's lead slipped slightly during the last week, his percentage of the total vote falling from 48.06 to 47.98, while McKee's percentage advanced perceptibly from 37.49 to 38.01.

O'Brien's percentage has shown a steady decline in every week of the poll.

The Literary Digest calls attention to the fact that this is the first municipal poll it has ever conducted and that in a metropolitan city teeming with political cross-currents some overnight development may shift the alignment shown in the final returns of the poll.

At the same time the Digest calls attention to the forecast of its 1932 prohibition poll, which now has been shown 99.57 per cent accurate by a comparison with the official balloting in the 33 states which have voted on repeal to date.

The 33 states give a combined official vote of 11,298,905 for repeal to 3,717,472 against repeal, or 75.24 per cent for repeal.

The combined vote for the same states in the Digest's prohibition poll, taken more than a year in advance of the official elections, showed 2,377,368 for repeal to 764,556 against repeal, or 75.67 per cent for repeal.

APPROVES SALE OF PROPERTY OF MO. STATE LIFE

Policy Holders' Committee Votes 6 to 1, Transfer to American Life. Is Most Favorable Deal Possible.

The disposition of the business of the insolvent Missouri State Life Insurance Co. is approved by the Policyholders' Protective Committee in a report today which also traces the causes of the company's failure.

The sale of the company's assets to the General American Life Insurance Co., under a contract by which the latter company assumed all policy liabilities and agreed to manage the Missouri State assets for the benefit of the Missouri State policyholders, is said to be the most favorable arrangement that could have been made in the circumstances. The report, adopted by the committee last night, was agreed to by all except one of the seven members.

Caplan Does Not Sign Report.
The committee was created at a mass meeting of policyholders last Sept. 18. Its chairman is Robert C. Newman, insurance counselor, formerly a sales representative of the Missouri State Life. Other members are J. C. Hopewell, lawyer, secretary; W. W. Ferrier, investment dealer; Henry Glaser, real estate dealer, representative; J. Greenhouse, attorney; Chris Muckerman, insurance executive; Charles G. Bittel, insurance executive, and Ephraim Caplan, lawyer. Caplan did not sign the report and indicated he might prepare a minority report.

Payments Met to Date.

The Missouri State Life Insurance Co. was declared insolvent by the St. Louis Circuit Court last Aug. 28 on a petition filed by R. Emmet O'Malley, State Insurance Superintendent, and assented to by the company. After a hearing, the Court approved a contract by which O'Malley sold the assets to the General American Life Insurance Co.

The committee states that all outstanding and unpaid matured policy claims at the time the Missouri State Life was declared insolvent have been paid by the General American, and all policy claims maturing since then are being paid promptly.

The committee finds, "That the payment of each and every Missouri State Life and International Life insurance policy is guaranteed by the General American Life Insurance Co. under the management contract, and assumption certificates, evidencing the General American's obligation on all policies, are in the process of mailing at this time."

"Summing up the entire situation," the report concludes, "this committee earnestly feels that the security back of every Missouri State Life and International Life policy today is far greater than it has been for several years under the old order of things and that the policy claims will be paid when due, and we sincerely urge each policyholder to give sane thought to the matter before permitting his policy to lapse for non-payment of premium or interest on the lien."

Discussion of Liens.
A section of the report is devoted to the 50 per cent lien placed against the accumulated values of policies, and to the requirement for payment of 5 per cent annual interest on the policy liens until 1938, and 4 per cent annually thereafter.

The lien was made necessary, the report states, in order to give the General American Co. assets to offset the impairment of approximately $20,000,000 in assets of the Missouri State Life. The cash or loan values of the Missouri State policies subject to lien approximated $80,000,000.

The management contract provides that for 15 years all earnings of the Missouri State assets are to be applied for the benefit of the policy holders, the General American receiving only specified fees which the committee considers reasonable. It is the opinion of the committee that the liens will be paid from earnings in the 15-year period. The charging of interest on the liens was obligatory, the committee says, in order to meet the legal requirements for reserves.

Causes of Collapse.
Contributing causes of the collapse of Missouri State Life are stated by the committee briefly as follows:

First, the reinsurance in 1928 of the International Life Insurance Co., "resulting in a loss of approximately $10,000,000 by reason of the fact that assets of the International Life were carried at figures substantially above their actual value at the time the Missouri State Life acquired the International."

Second, mismanagement under the control of Caldwell & Co., Southern investment brokerage house, which failed in 1930. A loss of more than $2,000,000 is ascribed to the Caldwell transactions, one of which was the sale of a large block of securities to the insurance company.

Third, the bitter fight for control by various groups which continued from 1930 to 1933.

Fourth, the unfavorable publicity resulting from the $300,000 loan made by the company last December to a group headed by Julius Barnes, chairman of the company's board, to enable that group to gain control of the company.

Fifth, the general economic conditions, resulting in loss of income. Caplan said he thought the committee had not fully investigated many pertinent facts and that it was withholding much information

MID-CITY BUILDING BEING TORN DOWN

The Mid-City Building, erected 50 years ago on the southeast corner of Grand boulevard and Olive street and the first steam-heated apartment building in the city, is being torn down to make way for a modern two-story store and office building.

The upper floors of the three-story structure were damaged by fire in December, 1931, and the place has since been vacant except for a cigar store on the first-floor corner. The site, 160 feet on Olive by 64 feet on Grand, is owned by heirs of Myer A. Rosenblatt, former City Collector, and is under a 99-year lease to the Mid-City Realty Co., headed by Charles J. Cella.

For eight years after the building was put up it was known as the Lincoln Flats and among its tenants were members of the Garcesche, Pallen, Van Studdiford and Gratz families. Immediately south, where the Shubert-Rialto Building now stands, Rosenblatt constructed the Washington Flats, similar to the corner place. The old Olive street horse-car line at that time had its terminus there, turning south to Lindell and thence east.

In 1891 the two apartment buildings were converted into a 100-room residential hotel, known as the Grand Avenue Hotel, and operated by Joseph Gerardi. This use continued until 1908, when the Mid-City company obtained its lease. The south part of the hotel was then demolished and the upper floors of the present part converted into offices. The first floor had been used for stores from the first. At the time of the fire, which caused about $45,000 damage, the third floor was occupied by the City College of Law and Finance and the second floor by vocal and dancing schools. The removal of the Mid-City Building leaves only an old structure at the southwest corner as a reminder of the early days of the now busy intersection.

The new building, to cost about $50,000, will have nine stores on ground floor and offices above. It will be of fireproof construction with glazed terra cotta facing. Foundation will be capable of sustaining a five-story building.

NINE NEGROES KILLED IN TENEMENT FIRE

Victims Trapped on Roof of New York Building; Six Are Children.

By the Associated Press.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Nine Negroes, six of them children, were killed when fire swept a three-story building in a tenement district today.

Three others are in a hospital in a serious condition from burns. The dead were trapped on the roof and top floor of the building after the fire spread rapidly from the ground floor. Several other occupants made their way to safety in their nightclothes. Police pointed out suspicious circumstances in the origin of the fire and ordered an investigation.

CLOSING OF NATION'S BANKS HELD LEGAL

Decision by District of Columbia Supreme Court in Case of Suit for Bonds.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—President Roosevelt's proclamation closing the nation's banks last March has been declared legal by the District of Columbia Supreme Court. A decision upholding the legality of the March 6 proclamation, it was made known today, was handed down last week by Justice F. D. Letts.

It was made in the case of Daly Bros., Inc., of Washington, who had asked that Thomas P. Hickman, conservator of the Franklin National Bank of Washington City, be compelled to deliver certain bonds in his possession. The plaintiffs claimed that on Feb. 28 they presented at the bank a certificate of deposit for $25,896, requesting that the bank in lieu of payment buy $20,000 worth of Liberty loan bonds for them. The bank accepted and indorsed the certificate under the agreement to buy the bonds and pay over the balance to the plaintiffs after the purchase. On March 13, the Franklin Bank purchased the bonds through the Chase National Bank of New York. They were received here on the morning of March 14 and at 5 p. m. that day the conservator for the Franklin Bank was appointed. In asking that Hickman be compelled to deliver the bonds to them, the plaintiffs advanced the theory that the transaction was completed prior to the appointment of the conservator and thus vested in them the property rights in the bonds.

In dismissing their suit, Justice Letts held that the bank was officially closed on March 6 and that the transaction could not be considered as completed before appointment of the conservator since the bank had no authority to do business after the President's proclamation. Justice Letts said: "The court thinks the Chase National Bank had no more right to pay out money of the Franklin National Bank on March 23 than the Franklin National Bank had to expend its own funds. To hold otherwise would nullify the President's proclamation and defeat its obvious and lawful purpose."

NATIONALISTS ASK GRAU SAN MARTIN TO QUIT IN CUBA

Carlos Mendieta Does Not Expect Other Factions to Accept Coalition Cabinet Plan.

By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, Nov. 3.—The Nationalist leader, Carlos Mendieta, said today that he and his followers "are asking that President Ramon Grau San Martin resign." He virtually blasted the hopes of administration supporters for a coalition government.

"It is not a question of Cabinet portfolios, nor jobs, nor representation in the Government," said Mendieta. "The question is that President Grau lacks the force of public opinion necessary to govern Cuba."

"Were you not actually offered the presidency?" he was asked. He replied, "I refused because of many considerations, among them principally the Nationalist agreement not to accept positions in any provisional Government. In my personal opinion, none of the opposition sectors will accept a coalition proposal."

Other Nationalists expressed the opinion "the Government is dying," adding that they were "seeking an injection of new blood." The revolutionary junta named a commission of four to work out conciliation proposals.

President Grau San Martin's "authentic revolutionary" backers had offered the oppositionists a share in the Government—but not the Presidency.

After conferring for five hours at the residence of Sergio Carbo, a member of the Student Directory, while soldiers stood guard outside, the group ratified its support of Grau. It added, however, that it would immediately start "a campaign of rapprochement of opposition forces."

Apparently, as a result of the meeting during the night, Grau again had a majority of the original groups supporting him back in the fold today.

In well-informed quarters, reports that United States Marines would land if Mendieta became President without the support of the army were ridiculed.

A bomb explosion in a bakery at San Miguel and Gervasio streets today killed one person and wounded five. It was the ninth bomb explosion in the day.

A short time after the bakery blast, another explosion in another section of the capital wounded one person.

Employees of the public works department found a 16-inch bomb inside their building. The burning fuse was extinguished but work was discontinued and the building was cleared while the bomb was placed in a bucket of water pending the arrival of police.

Executed at Eddyville, Ky.; One Is Reputed Slayer of 10 Men.

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Nov. 3.—Two mountaineers, William (Bad Bill) Waters and Iahmel Scott, went to their deaths in the electric chair at Western State Penitentiary shortly after last midnight.

Waters was convicted of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Stanley Helton of Menifee County in a fight in which Deputy Sheriff Marion Appleton also was killed. The officers were trying to arrest Waters on a charge of slaying Charles Neal, his alleged partner in moonshining activities. Scott was convicted of killing Martin Stephens in Floyd County. Waters denied to the last that he had killed 10 men, as reported, and said he seldom carried a weapon of any kind.

Session Nov. 15 at Sheldon Memorial, Under Auspices of Urban League.

A code for domestic servants will be discussed at a meeting Nov. 15 at Sheldon Memorial, 3646 Washington boulevard, under auspices of the Urban League.

The elimination of child labor in industry, under the NRA, has compelled a large number of girls under 16 years old, forced to earn a living, to turn to housekeeping for their board and lodging. A social worker for the Urban League reported at a recent meeting of welfare workers that she had encountered cases where Negro servants were required to sleep in basements, in which there were no provisions for privacy. Other unsat-factory conditions led to the calling of the Nov. 15 meeting to discuss a code covering wages, hours and living conditions for house servants.

Speakers at the meeting, to be held morning and afternoon, will include Mrs. George Gelhorn, Mrs. Jerome Cook, Mrs. A. S. Langsdorf, Mrs. Jennie Buckner, Dr. Clara Menger, Mrs. Leona Evans, Miss Betty Inman, Dr. R. A. Hettler and Miss Charlotte Ring. Luncheon will be served at noon by the Women's Auxiliary of the Ethical Society.

A questionnaire circulated among the members of a servants' club conducted by the Y. W. C. A. brought to light the following objections to domestic service from the employees viewpoint: No future, hours too long, classed as an inferior, no chance for self-improvement, no privileges, no means for social contacts, children of employers disrespected.

REAL INSIDERS' TO BE GRILLED ON OIL STOCK PROFIT

Senators Call Sinclair and Cutten to Tell About $12,000,000 Netted in $35,000,000 Pool.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Senate banking committee investigators are directing their attention to what they describe as a "real insiders'" $35,000,000 pool, through which Harry F. Sinclair, Arthur Cutten, Albert H. Wiggin and others reaped a $12,000,000 profit in the boom days of 1929.

Sinclair, oil executive who went to jail for refusing to answer the questions of another Senate investigating committee, and Cutten, well known trader, will be subpoenaed to appear Thursday to tell about the pool. The committee recessed late yesterday until Wednesday.

The Senate Stock Market Committee decided to call them after trying for three days to get the story from Wiggin, former chairman of the Chase National Bank, who realized profits of nearly $1,000,000 by participating in the pool through one of his personal corporations.

Wiggin described the operation to the committee as an underwriting syndicate, but Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, characterized it as "an outstanding example of a real insiders' pool" and announced his determination to get more facts.

Some of Sinclair's Profits.
The committee wants to inquire particularly into evidence that Sinclair, chairman of the board of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Co., whose stock was traded in the pool, was sold 130,000 shares at cost aside from his profits of about $3,000,000 in the operation itself. The pool was dissolved just a few days before Sinclair went to jail for contempt of the Senate committee investigating the Teapot Dome oil scandals.

Formed in October, 1928, the pools acquired 1,130,000 shares of stock from the oil company at $30 a share and by April, 1929, had made profits of $12,000,000. A side pool, operated by the same participants, had profits of about half a million by a month later.

Cutten, Sinclair and Blair & Co. of New York, each had one-fourth interest in the two accounts. The Chase Securities Co. had a one-sixth interest, and Wiggin's corporation a one-twelfth interest.

Wiggin granted a sub-participation to several "key" officers of the Chase Securities Corporation, who were instrumental in turning some of the Chase Security offerings over to the Wiggin family company.

His Seventh Appearance.
When Sinclair is called it will be his seventh appearance before a Senate committee. Nine and a half years ago he made his sixth appearance before the Teapot Dome investigators.

It was on that occasion—March 22, 1924—that the 57-year-old oil operator, then only 48, refused to answer 10 questions regarding his lease of Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, a lease later canceled after the Supreme Court held it invalid.

Only four of the questions were regarded as of sufficient importance to submit to the court in the contempt action. Although found guilty on all four counts on March 16, 1927, he began his prison term more than two years later, appeal actions taking up the interim.

Sinclair was the second man convicted in the District of Columbia courts for contempt of the Senate. The first was Elverson B. Chapman, a New York stock broker, who was sentenced to one month and fined $100 in 1896 for refusing to reply to questions in a sugar trust investigation.

More of Wiggin's Activities Disclosed Yesterday.
Senate investigators late yesterday brought out in questioning Wiggin that the banker saved several hundred thousand dollars last year by selling stock in the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Co., of which he was a director, with knowledge that indicated the company would pass a dividend soon.

Committee Counsel Pecora developed that Gerhard Dahl, head of the B-M. T., was heavily indebted to the Chase bank, and that as of Oct. 13, 1933, he owed $3,176,016 to Chase, secured by collateral valued on that date at $1,300,000 and consisting largely of stock in the transit company.

Wiggin denied Pecora's contention that, because of knowledge the dividend would be passed, he sold 26,000 shares of B-M. T. stock at an average of $24 for $624,000, instead of $286,000 that would have been realized by the sale at $11 1/2, to which it fell almost immediately. The banker agreed with Pecora, however, that "there were indications it would be passed and he thought it would be," adding that notes were due at the bank at about that time.

Wiggin said that a few days later Dahl sold large blocks of the stock he had pledged with the Chase bank as collateral for his loans. Wiggin testified the loans reached a maximum of about $4,700,000 in 1930, with approximately $7,000,000 in collateral behind them.

Another Private Company.
Turning to the Waubesa Corporation, a private company of Dahl's which at one time owed the bank slightly more than $4,000,000, Pecora wanted to know why the

INDICTED FOR KILLING PARTNER

John Dolan, However, Said He Was Attacked.

John Dolan, 32 years old, was charged with manslaughter in an indictment voted by the grand jury yesterday after an investigation of the death of Harry E. Goldman, fatally shot by Dolan Oct. 23 in a row at the Cosmo Tavern, 1720 Olive street, of which they were co-proprietors.

Dolan told the police at the time that he shot Goldman when Goldman attacked him with a golf stick during a quarrel over business affairs outside Goldman's room in the Cosmo Hotel, above the tavern.

Free Bread With Bottle of Milk Tests State's Right to Fix Prices

Rochester (N. Y.) Grocer's Appeal to U. S. Supreme Court May Set Precedent for Challenges of NRA and AAA.

By the Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Beaten in the State courts, but still challenging the right of the State of New York to fix the price of milk, Leo Nebbia, Rochester grocer, has taken an appeal to the United States Supreme Court and the case has been set for hearing Dec. 4.

After the New York Milk Control Board had fixed the retail price of milk, Nebbia sold milk at the fixed price but began giving away a loaf of bread free with each bottle of milk.

"I sell a bottle of milk at what the law says," Nebbia explained. "At that price I make a good profit, so good that to my best customers, my friends and neighbors, I give them a loaf of bread free and still make money."

Nebbia was convicted in City Court of violating the minimum price regulations and was fined $5. His attorney carried the case to the Court of Appeals, where the conviction was upheld.

The attorneys in the case, Arthur E. Sutherland Jr., for Nebbia, and Henry S. Manley for the Milk Control Board, believe the issue drawn will be precedent-making for price-fixing regulations in other states and may become a focal point for a test of other Federal NRA and AAA price-fixing provisions. Sutherland once was a law clerk in the office of former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the Supreme Court.

Manley, in a recent speech, said the case might possibly be regarded as a test of the constitutionality of price-fixing regulations under the NRA and the AAA.

"I believe that briefs will be filed in its support by the Attorney-Generals of half a dozen interested states besides our own," he said.

GANGSTER ACQUITTED OF $5500 ROBBERY

Petroleum Company Employees Identified Him as Man Who Carried Machine Gun.

Henry Etzel, Cuckoo gangster, was acquitted by a jury at Clayton last night on a charge of robbery under the Henry law, in connection with the $5500 robbery of a money car of the Phillips Petroleum Co. in September, 1932.

Etzel was identified by three company employees as one of four robbers who held them up as they were unloading filling-station collections at the company office, 6291 Suburban avenue, Wellston. The employees said Etzel carried a sub-machine gun.

Three witnesses were put on the stand by Etzel's counsel to establish an alibi. The witnesses, who testified that Etzel was at a garage in Dupo, Ill., at the time of the robbery, were the garage proprietor, Samuel Hamilton; Joseph Wade of Dupo, former Deputy Sheriff of St. Clair County, and C. J. Kinder, 1617 Texas avenue, St. Louis, who said his automobile and one driven by Etzel had collided on a highway a short time before and that they were at the garage to have repairs made.

Etzel was the only defendant. The jury deliberated two hours and took two ballots. Evidence of attempts to influence two members of the jury panel before the jury was selected will be presented to the grand jury next week by Prosecuting Attorney Anderson. Anderson said there had been several instances of jury tampering recently but declined to state specific instances. Both prospective jurors in the Etzel case were stricken from the list and did not serve on the jury.

The two veniremen, Joseph C. Jobst, 4887 Hanover avenue, Gardenville, and Rancecker, 318 East Hancock avenue, Luxemburg, said that a young man came to their homes Wednesday night, called them by name and after asking if they were on the panel in the Etzel case, said: "I hope you'll do the best you can for Etzel, for he's a friend of mine."

Jobst and Rancecker told the Court they would not be influenced. However, they were dropped from the list by defense counsel, Sigmond Bass. Another member of the panel, Charles Schmick, 735 West Collins road, Glendale, who said he had met Etzel casually several days ago, was permitted to remain on the jury.

Etzel served three years of a 50-year sentence following his conviction of the slaying of Elmer Baltz, cashier of the First National Bank of Madison, in a $23,500 holdup in 1928, but his conviction and that of Carl Florida, also a Cuckoo gangster, were subsequently reversed by the Illinois Supreme Court.

YEAR FOR HAVING MAIL KEY

Railway Express Messenger Paroled by Judge.

William E. Coleman, former railway express messenger, was sentenced to a year in jail and paroled by Judge Davis today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of a mail pouch key.

Coleman, on a run between Nashville, Tenn., and St. Louis, was arrested here before he had an opportunity to use the key. In a plea for leniency in court today he admitted making the key with the intention of opening parcel post packages carried in the express car. He explained he feared he was going to lose his job, and wanted to make some provision for his wife and two small children. "I have learned my lesson," he stated in conclusion. His home is in Louisville, Ky.

money was loaned to it by the bank, of which Dahl was a director. "I think he (Dahl) believed in the BMT stock thoroughly and wanted to carry a lot," replied Wiggin. He explained later that, in March, 1930, a big personal loan was made to Dahl and the Waubesa debt to the bank was retired. Dahl no longer is a director of the bank.

Their message is as unusual as this method of presentation, and you'll actually revel in the beautiful and useful things priced lower than you have ever expected to see them again. ST. LOUIS DAY. Back after a six-year holiday. Back to "Do Its Part" to quicken the tempo of business. What a thrilling picture it conjures up. Crowds in a carnival spirit of buying. Crowds ten times those of a normal day. A sight to cheer.

When word was sent out by President Roosevelt to help get things going at a faster pace, we felt called upon to make a super-human effort. We stood ready to do all but the impossible itself. That's why we have brought back to life the event that grew to such gigantic stature that we were forced to abandon it in 1927.

Now, having added 1/3 more selling space, with profits subordinated to the sole idea of moving a mountain of merchandise, and with the largest number of employees in our history ready to serve you, we are confident that this event will set a record in volume of business. In so doing, ST. LOUIS DAY will be aiding the progress of the NRA program... as well as your budget.

By Jimmy Conzelman

Head Football Coach, Washington University.

If there were any outstanding developments in offensive play this season I should say it was in the unusual number of plays involving cross-blocking in the line. Since the widespread use of the spinner has tended to bring out a delayed line attack cross-blocking has been a natural result.

In the ordinary inside tackle play the offensive end blocks the tackle out, and the offensive tackle blocks the guard to the inside. In a spinner or any delayed line buck, where cross-blocking is involved, the end blocks the guard and gets in between the guard and the tackle to start his charge. The defensive tackle is then allowed to cross the line and come in toward the play and it is here that he is met usually by the tackle and a backfield man who carry him to the outside and allow the runner to cut on the inside. Several games I have seen this year have shown the cross-block used almost 50 per cent of the time. Fordham Favored Over St. Mary's. Interesting contests are in prospect in the East. Cornell and Columbia play at Ithaca with the latter a decided favorite. Two little giants of football, both coached by former Notre Dame stars, clash at New York when Jim Crowley's Fordham Rams tangle with Slip Madigan's St. Mary's eleven from the Pacific Coast. This is a difficult game to pick, but I believe Fordham enjoys an advantage on their own field.

Yale entertains Dartmouth at New Haven and should win. Harvard should beat Lehigh, but the Brown-Princeton game will provide many thrills. Princeton is the favorite. West Point has a breather in Coe.

Predicts Notre Dame Victory. Notre Dame should be able to find a place in the winning column against the Ann Arbor eleven. Lafayette has an excellent chance to beat Pennsylvania. The Gates plan isn't meeting with much success. The Syracuse-Penn State battle gives an edge to Syracuse. Neither team has shown much. Colgate is slightly favored over Tulane and Pittsburgh has ordinary opposition in view from Centre. Purdue will be too strong for Carnegie Tech, but Holy Cross should beat Detroit. Boston College plays an under-par Georgetown eleven and should win.

Picks Chicago to Beat Badgers. In the Big Ten, Michigan will continue an uninterrupted run of victories in the games with Illinois. The surprising Minnesota eleven is favored over Northwestern, while Chicago looks better than Wisconsin. The fighting Indiana team can scarcely hope to beat Ohio State and Iowa will win from Iowa State.

In the Big Six, Missouri seems doomed to suffer the loss of another game when Nebraska goes to Columbia Saturday. Nebraska has too much strength for Missouri. Kansas' lack of scoring punch makes the Oklahoma game look like a toss-up. Kansas Aggies' great backs should beat Michigan State.

In the Far West Stanford plays an Olympic Club that has shown little power. California is a heavy favorite over U. C. L. A. Washington State enjoys an advantage over Gonzaga and Santa Clara should beat Rice.

Below the Mason-Dixon line, Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt provide the outstanding game, with Tech a slight favorite. Georgia will beat Florida and Alabama should not be stopped by Kentucky. Duke

Cleveland's Injured Tackle Who Is Out for Season

PETE SMEREK, tackle on the Cleveland High School football team, who was injured last week in the game against Roosevelt, is literally having "his leg pulled." The weights are designed to keep Smerek's dislocated hip in place until torn ligaments in his leg have a chance to heal. It is not likely that Pete will be able to play any more this season.

Illinois Eleven All Pepped Up For Battle With "Perfect Team"; Zuppke Looks for a Close Game

By Bob Zuppke,

University of Illinois Football Coach.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 3.—Michigan and Illinois, the only teams undefeated and tied in Big Ten play, meet tomorrow in the Illinois stadium. Michigan has defeated an Ohio State team for which high hopes—probably too high—were entertained, and Chicago, as well as Michigan State and Cornell.

Illinois beat Wisconsin decisively in our only conference game, also Drake and Washington, losing a close game, 6-0, to an Army team that ran all over Yale and is now believed to be the best Cadet squad in years.

Michigan against Chicago looked like a team without a weak spot, but the Wolverine personnel outclassed the Illinois eleven. It's a great eleven, but not to be regarded as superhuman.

Illinois, everything depends on whether our boys have regained the spirit and dash which they went after Wisconsin. Perhaps because they had naturally been keyed so high for the Badgers, much of this fire and zip was missing when they met Army, although we did make a strong bid for victory.

Have Had Plenty of Rest. Illinois, with two weeks in which to get ready, had plenty of rest after the Army game and I believe our boys will go into the Michigan game with the same fire they showed against Wisconsin.

They are up against what many critics style the "perfect" team, but even these experts give Illinois its chance and we hope to make the most of it.

Minnesota and Purdue are the only ones undefeated in Big Ten teams. Purdue tied Minnesota, which was also tied by Indiana. Both Minnesota and Purdue hope to win the remainder of their games and either win or figure in the championship, which is possible.

Northwestern should give Minnesota a good game, but I believe the Gophers are better. They are a rugged, powerful outfit who pack a lot of drive and they have a big asset in Lund, who is a hard-running back likely to break up a game by his sheer drive. Lund should be the best back on the field at Evanston.

Purdue should defeat Carnegie Tech team, whose chief claim to fame is its 7-0 defeat of Notre Dame, but was tied by Washington and Jefferson last week. The Boilermaker backs showed their class.

meets a Tartar in Auburn, but the latter does not have the team of 1932. Looks like Duke, Tennessee and Georgia Washington play at Washington; it's a toss-up. I look for Louisiana State to beat South Carolina.

Locally, both St. Louis University and Washington University are on the road. I am not picking either team. Washington's record to date has followed my selection and I have got to take off the jinx. I would not care to pick the jinx of the St. Louis University-Wichita game, if I am not selecting the victor of the Washington-Creighton game.

HORNSBY TOLD TO CARRY OUT BROWNS' REBUILDING PROGRAM

WILLIAM R. CADY, SON-IN-LAW OF LATE PRESIDENT, NAMED DIRECTOR

Dan Howley Quits As Toronto Leader

By the Associated Press.
TORONTO, Nov. 3.—Dan Howley, veteran baseball manager, who has piloted two major league clubs, resigned yesterday as manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League.

Howley gave no indication that he had a new post in sight nor did club officials give out any word as to a possible successor, although John Heving was unofficially mentioned for the job.

It was learned that Howley yesterday declined an opportunity to purchase a share of the Toronto Baseball Club and continue as manager and part owner.

By J. Roy Stockton.

No effort will be made to sell the Browns in the immediate future, and Rogers Hornsby, selected by the late Philip deCadeby Ball to lead the club out of the doldrums, will be given every reasonable opportunity to rebuild the team, the Post-Dispatch was informed today, after it was announced that William R. Cady, son-in-law of the late owner, had been elected as the fifth member of the Board of Directors.

While the office of president, left vacant by the death of Mr. Ball, will not be filled for a time, it is expected that Cady, representing as he does the holders of approximately three-fourths of the stock, will be given extraordinary powers so that the club can function under a one-man direction, without the necessity of consulting the Board of Directors every time a move is made.

Hornsby wants to see Tommy Bramm needs a lot of adhesive tape.

The other members of the Browns' board are L. C. McEvoy and Walter Fritsch, vice-presidents; Louis B. von Weise, one of the executive members of the board; and S. L. Swartz, attorney. Swartz is named as one of the executives, but declined to serve because of ill health, and probably will not be active as a director.

Decision to carry out the rebuilding program outlined by Mr. Ball when he signed Hornsby as his manager, was reached when the directors concluded that it would be impossible at this time to sell the Browns without a tremendous sacrifice. There have been no serious bids for the property, and in view of the team's poor showing last year and general business conditions the chances of finding a buyer at this time are considered remote. However, it is still considered a certainty that the heirs will dispose of the club when and if a satisfactory deal can be arranged, and meantime the executive and President William Hornsby of the American League will be available if anybody with a sufficiently large bank roll wants an audience.

Now that the rebuilding machinery has been oiled and all the monkey wrenches removed, Hornsby will be free to carry on trade and buying negotiations. He will attend the minor league meeting at Galveston, Tex., Nov. 15, and arrange for the purchase of a few players. Negotiations have been carried on with several big league clubs, and the Rajah will try to do a bit of trading at the major league meeting at Chicago in December.

Members of the Browns will have a sigh of relief at the news that the club will not be hobbled by a Board of Directors' management, as no baseball organization has ever gone very far under that sort of an arrangement.

To Train at Palm Beach.
An Associated Press dispatch from West Palm Beach today stated that the city officials there had been informed by L. C. McEvoy that the Browns positively would go to the Florida city for their 1934 spring training. The West Palm Beach officials had questioned McEvoy by mail when he had expressed a desire to switch the Brownie camp to Texas.

Hockey Star Suspended.
The Associated Press.

QUERREY, Nov. 3.—Art Ross, manager of the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, who is preparing for the campaign here, today announced that Eddie Shore, the Bruins defense star, had been suspended.

Ross would not go beyond the bare announcement of the suspension and the statement that his suspension had been reported to league headquarters.

Shore has not been at the training camp and reports were that he had demanded a salary exceeding the maximum allowed by the league.

"Bowling, Plus Controlled Appetite, Makes Reducing Easy"—Mrs. M'Cutcheon

Champion Woman Bowler Warns Against Playing for One Hour and Then Eating for Two.

By Damon Kerby.

"Girls, you can reduce by taking up the game of bowling, if—"

Yes, there has to be an "if" in the prescription, and Mrs. Floretta McCutcheon, the world's greatest woman bowler who is now in St. Louis conducting the Post-Dispatch's second annual free bowling school for women, supplies it.

"If you don't allow your appetite to run away with you due to the increasing amount of exercise you obtain from bowling."

A Great Reducer.
"Bowling is the finest reducing exercise that one could hope for," explained the woman champion.

"There is no exercise in the world, outside of swimming, that exercises the body so evenly as bowling. Still, it is not too strenuous a game, but as with any other exercise, it needs to be done regularly. This is especially true if one hopes to reduce."

"But be careful not to do as one woman did. She asked me if I thought bowling would really reduce a person's weight. I answered 'yes.'"

"That's strange," said the woman. "I took up bowling several months ago in order to reduce, and I find I am gaining weight consistently."

"Have you watched your appetite?" I asked her.

"Well, I've watched it, but haven't done anything about it. Bowling has given me such a hearty appetite that whether I bowl morning, noon or night, I find myself eating a hearty lunch when I get home."

Mrs. McCutcheon said she told the woman, "You were bowling one hour and eating two hours. How could you reduce by that method?"

The point is, of course, Mrs. McCutcheon emphasized, that a woman should watch her eating if she expects to reduce, and be careful not to satisfy that bowling-induced appetite over freely—if she plans to reduce.

The woman champion said that the desire to keep active and in good physical trim probably draws more women into bowling than any other one thing. They stay in the game because it answers that need—and also supplies a lot of healthy fun.

With obviously no attempt to hand herself compliments, she explained: "I feel as though I am making a definite contribution in doing what I can to interest women in the pleasant and healthful game of bowling. I reach thousands of women every year. Many of them are housewives who, perhaps, haven't had an interest outside the home for years. If I can introduce them to an outside interest like bowling and give them, so to speak, a new perspective, I feel I am accomplishing something worth while."

BIKE RIDER IS INJURED IN 6-DAY RACE SPILL

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Jimmy Walthour, New York boy and Ewald Wissel, Germany; Reggie McNamara and Charley Winter, the Irishman and Dave Lands and Tony Schaller, the New Jersey-Illinois team, were tied for first place in Chicago's thirtieth international six-day bicycle race here today.

The leaders had covered 1603 miles and nine laps. One hundred laps were gained in the grind last night and early this morning bringing the total up to 873 for the race.

The teams of Cecil Walker and Charley Ritter and Harvey Black and Eddie Seufert were withdrawn from the race last night. Walker and Ritter were 17 laps back while Seufert and Black were fourteen laps behind.

One of the worst spills of the week occurred this morning when Eddie Trieste, Charley Winter and Giovanni Manera crashed up in a bad spill. Trieste and Winter were badly shaken up but resumed riding. Manera had six stitches in a bad gash under his left eye before he could continue the riding and his collar bone also had to be patched up.

Continue in Hockey League.
The Philadelphia Comets have decided to continue in the Tri-State Hockey League. Recently the Bronx club entered, making a five-club circuit. Atlantic City, Baltimore and Hershey are the others.

CAPTAIN ARENZ OF BILLIKENS TO BE BENCHED

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 3.—The smallest traveling squad which has represented St. Louis University under the regime of Chlie Walsh as head coach, arrived here this morning for a final workout this afternoon before their intercollegiate clash with the University of Wichita here Saturday afternoon.

Twenty-seven players were headed by Walsh on the trip here in addition to Assistant Coach Eddie Davidson and Trainer Bob Bauman.

Billikens Outweighed.
The St. Louis club was greatly surprised upon their arrival here to learn of the size of the starting Wichita eleven and it was generally agreed the Billikens would be outweighed for the second straight week. Last week Loyola outweighed them and this week it is expected the Shockers will have an advantage in weight both in the line and backfield.

Coach Walsh announced the club was in perfect condition and that he was expecting a mighty tough game.

"Scouts have reported Wichita as being exceedingly strong this year," Walsh said. "And we are sure it will be far from an easy game."

The Billikens were to hold a workout at the Shockers stadium this afternoon.

A pessimistic attitude was taken by Coach Al Gebert, former teammate of Walsh at Notre Dame, regarding the game and he expressed himself as hoping "they keep the score down pretty well."

The loss of Verell Wilson, center fullback, was expected to be a serious blow to the Wichita chances and Gebert will be forced to start reserve Earl Fulton in his place. Wilson is suffering from a broken ankle sustained last week and is expected to be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

Rapp Replaces Arenz.
Walsh announced a last minute switch in his lineup with Tom Hurley going in at halfback because of his fine work in the tough scoringing of Wednesday and his showing in the Loyola game. Manuel Rapp was to be the starting selection at fullback instead of Capt. Arenz with Thompson at quarter and Kane at right halfback.

Although the heavy rains of Thursday left the field in a soggy condition the bright skies of today were expected to dry it out for the game tomorrow and prospects were for a clear day.

A crowd of 10,000, the largest in the history of football here, was virtually assured and it was expected standing room would be at a premium.

The Billikens have been installed as an odds-on favorite, although local supporters were willing to take one touchdown.

With his squad in good condition, Coach Eric Epps' Lincoln Tigers were preparing for their sixth football game of this season with the Wilberforce University of Xenia, O., Armistice day afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the Public School Stadium.

Last Saturday afternoon the Tigers defeated the Fisk University team by a score of 25 to 0 before the largest crowd ever assembled at a Lincoln homecoming game.

Nathaniel Sweets, student manager of Lincoln University, will present this classic and promises a fast and thrilling game with a record-breaking attendance. This game is to be the chief entertainment feature for the Negro State Teachers who will convene here next week.

RESTRICTION ON ENTRIES CAUSED BY RUSH TO JOIN BOXING SCHOOL

So great has been the enrollment in the free boxing school conducted by the Post-Dispatch and the City Department of Recreation, that Benny Kessler, the instructor, has decided that no more applications will be received after next Tuesday, midnight. Those who desire to attend, and have not been able to, therefore, have a few more days in which to enroll.

The first week's attendance at the four community centers totaled about 1000, a number which so taxed the capacity of the instructors that Kessler has asked some of the city boxing champions to assist him. He already has applications from some, and any more who care to do so may get in touch with Kessler Saturday at room 330 Municipal Court Building or at Mullaphy Community Center Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Today the classes will be held at Sherman Park, which has the largest attendance in the city with about 125 boys in the afternoon class and about 250 in the evening class. It is at Sherman Park that Kessler will need the greatest amount of assistance.

The younger boys at Soudard Community Center will hold a class tomorrow afternoon with Tony Sestric as instructor.

Yesterday the boys at Buder Community Center had their second lesson.

MILLERS TO USE NEW LINEUP IN CONTEST WITH STIX ELEVEN

A rearranged lineup will take the field for the Ben Millers, when the eleven meets the Stix, Baer & Fullers in the St. Louis Soccer League game at Sportman's Park, Sunday.

With Benny Nash back in the fold and ready to play, he will be at inside left, with Leroy Coughlin going to halfback to replace Johnny Kane, according to the present plans of Manager Eddie Prosk.

Tate Brady, manager of the Stix, expects Eddie Flavin to play center forward, with Nilsen and Gonsalves at the inside positions and McNab and McLean on the wings. Under this arrangement, Jimmy Roe will be given a day of rest.

Phil Kavanaugh's Milt Rubs will enter the second game with the improved Andersons, with two of their star players on the sidelines nursing injuries. Capt. Ray Egan, speedy halfback, who missed last week's round of games because of a knee injury, and Bart Connors, center forward, who was forced to leave the team's last contest because of a knee injury, will be on the shelf for at least another week.

Manager Kavanaugh announced that Mickey O'Hara, veteran all-round player, again will fill in for Egan. With Connors out of action, Louis Garcia, one of the fastest players on Kavanaugh's eleven, will be changed from inside right to the pivot berth, and Ed Stratmann, a newcomer, will fill L. Garcia's shoes. Pat Ralby, Johnny Worden and Art Garcia will hold down the other positions on the scoring line. The Anderson combination will remain intact.

GEN. JOHNSON PRAISES DRESS CODE AS MODEL

Letter Commending Pact Made Public—40 St. Louis Plants Affected.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson hailed the code for the dress manufacturing industry as one of the "outstanding achievements of the NRA" in a letter transmitting it to the President, made public today.

The code, formally approved by the President last Tuesday, affects among others, 40 factories in St. Louis. In his letter to the President, Johnson described the outstanding features of the code as:

1. Establishment of a 35-hour week.
2. Establishment of minimum wage scales making impossible the operation of exploiters of labor and sweat shops.
3. Fixing responsibility for standards of industrial relation upon the outside manufacturer, or jobber, which hitherto has been most inadequately and unjustly loaded on the people and incompetent shoulders of the contractor.
4. Elimination of the ancient abuses of child labor and home work.
5. Establishment of a code authority on which all important interests of the industry are equipped with enforcement authority to issue or withhold NRA labels from violators.

Johnson told the President the code required that all manufacturers sew in NRA labels on every garment manufactured under the code. This label is to bear registration number specifically assigned to each employer in the industry. It is expected that use of the label will force all manufacturers to conform to all provisions of the code.

Under the code no employee, employer or individual operating on his own account shall work or be permitted to work in the mechanical processes of manufacture in excess of 35 hours, or more than five days in any one week. All other employees shall not work or be permitted to work in excess of 40 hours in any one week.

Under the code employees in the Eastern area of the United States receive wage scales ranging from 50 cents an hour or $15 a week to $1 an hour and $45 a week. In the Western area, the minimum wages are to be not less than 85 per cent of the minimum wages of the Eastern area, with a special provision that cleaners and pinkers shall not receive less than $14 a week.

$519,312.201 FROM SALE OF NEW GOVERNMENT BONDS

Entry Appears in Daily Statement of Treasury—Over-subscribed Three Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The Government's new issue of bonds made its first appearance in the treasury's daily statement today, with an entry showing that $519,312,201 had been sold. The offer originally was for $500,000,000 "or thereabouts." The issue was over-subscribed by more than three times.

Figures for the sale of the bonds were added into the receipts for Nov. 1, the date of today's statement, causing some comment on the extent of the cash flowing into the treasury on that date, the total being larger than the entire deficit for the year thus far. However, being borrowed money it is written off on the other side of the ledger and does not show in the receipts for the year.

The bonds are to bear interest at 4 1/2 per cent for the first year and 3 1/2 per cent thereafter, maturing in 12 years. In addition to the cash issue nearly two billion dollars of four 1/2 per cent bonds were called and new bonds identical with those offered for cash were available in exchange for the Liberties.

Taxes for 1933. Collector Koeln during October amounted to $7,902,359, or more than one-quarter of the total levy.

Payments were made in large volume two months earlier than usual this year, because of the new law allowing discounts for advance settlement. The October discount was 3/4 of 1 per cent, while the rate is 1/4 of 1 per cent this month and will be 1/4 of 1 per cent in December.

APPROVES THE FUNNY PAPERS

Wisconsin U. Man Says They Are Good for Children.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Nov. 2.—The comic sections of the daily newspapers constitute an important childhood literature, in the opinion of Dr. W. F. Lorenz, of the University of Wisconsin.

"The influence of the comic as emotional education for children is good," Dr. Lorenz said in an address on "Emotional Factors in Education" before the Wisconsin State Teachers' Association here. "The comic sections supply material for emotional exercise that is healthy and normal for a child. I see only good and no harm whatever for children in the comic sections of our daily papers." Dr. Lorenz also said the movies were healthy influences in the child's emotional life.

COTTON TENANT FARMERS LIKELY TO KEEP HOUSES

Clause in Tentative Control Contract Provides Owners Must Furnish Homes for Usual Families.

PLAN FOR GROWING OWN FOOD OFFERED

Government Could Let Them Use Land Which Will Be Taken Out of Cotton Production.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Landlords who join in the cotton production control plan for next year probably will have to agree to provide houses for the same number of tenant families on their farms as this year. Farm Administration officials are almost ready to accept this proviso as a compromise of the landlord-tenant question. The clause has been written into the tentative contract which growers who join in the cotton campaign will sign.

The landlord, however, would not be bound to furnish cotton land to the tenants, although the Farm Administration will urge that this be done wherever possible. The plan next year is to cut the acreage in cotton to 25,000,000, as compared to an annual average of around 40,000,000. This is a reduction of around 40 per cent and means that thousands of tenant farmers might be deprived of a means of livelihood.

Tenants Still Must Eat.

At first, some officials within the Farm Administration insisted that the landlords who sign contracts to reduce acreage next year bind themselves to furnish land for the same number of tenants they had in 1933.

They were informed by officials familiar with Southern conditions that this provision might defeat the cotton plan, since most property owners probably would balk at such a condition. It was pointed out also that land owners who joined in the wheat campaign did not have to accept such conditions and that owners of corn land were not expected to agree to such a stipulation.

Tenant problems will still remain, however, even after the owners agree to furnish shelter for those for whom they have no land. The tenants must eat and, lacking land, they also would lack credit from storekeepers.

Could Grow Own Food.

The Government might meet this situation by making available to the tenants the 15,000,000 acres taken out of production. The Farm Administration will pay from $3 to $11 an acre for this land and it takes the position that it then may sub-rent it as it sees fit.

Given land on which to grow food, tenants would still lack stock and tools, but the landlords are expected to co-operate in furnishing these. The administration feels that most of the land owners will go as far as they can in taking care of former tenants since the reduction program may not continue more than two years and the families who may not find cotton land next year would be needed after 1935.

County associations probably will receive power to make adjustments where land owners for various reasons may find themselves unable to retain families in houses occupied by tenants this year.

DEAF CHILDREN HOLD OWN UNDER MODERN TRAINING

They Keep Up With Normal Pupils, Dr. M. A. Goldman Tells Wisconsin Teachers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 2.—Totally deaf children who never have heard the sound of a human voice are holding their own with normal-hearing children in high schools, due to modern pedagogic methods, Mr. Max A. Goldman, director of Central Institute for the Deaf at St. Louis, said yesterday in addressing the Wisconsin State Teachers' Association.

"The modern teacher of the deaf has developed such children from pre-school to high school age by qualifying them in general scholarship and teaching fluent, understandable speech and efficient lip reading," he said. "They give a good account of themselves in scholarship and some are working for senior degrees in graduate schools of the universities."

Radio and telephone principles, in their recent rapid development, have proved useful accessories, Dr. Goldman said in describing the acoustic method of training developed at the St. Louis institute, by which remnants of hearing to be found in many congenitally deaf children are salvaged and developed.

GOV. HORNER ASKED TO PERMIT REOPENING OF PEABODY MINES

U. M. W. A. Delegation Presents Request; Two Shifts Were Closed After Rioting.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 2.—Gov. Horner yesterday heard from a delegation of Saline County members of the United Mine Workers of America a request that he permit reopening of mines No. 43 and No. 47 of the Peabody Coal Co. near Harrisburg. He took the request under advisement.

The mines were closed and National Guard troops sent into Saline County after 30 men had been wounded in a picketing riot four weeks ago. The Governor demanded assurance that further violence would not break out between members of the rival mine unions. The mine delegation told him that reopening of the mines would permit employment of 1400 men.

FEELS YEARS YOUNGER!

Look at him! Used to be so grouchy... now he's the liveliest fellow in the crowd

You never saw such an improvement in anyone. He used to be so irritable his own family wondered how they could stand it. And naturally! For he felt himself slipping. Aching, peevish, he simply couldn't figure out what was wrong. Yet in a few weeks he shook off years. Now he acts and looks like a new man.

What was wrong with him? And with millions like him—dragging along only half-alive—wondering, worrying? The answer is simple.

It's ASTHENIA

(Run-down condition, usually caused by Constipation)

That's the insidious thing about Asthenia... it drags you down, slows your mind, robs you of your joys and pleasures, yet you hardly realize you're slipping.

Would you like for once to brush the cobwebs from your eyes—be ready and eager for any task—experience all the glories of this glorious old world? Then rid yourself of Asthenia and stay rid of it.

You think that you're not the least bit clogged—you say that you're "regular" as can be—but physicians will tell you that it is only too easy to deceive yourself in this respect and stop doing with poisons. Thus millions of micro-organisms accumulate in the intestinal tract and produce that dull, aching, peevish feeling known as Asthenia.

Decide right now to turn the tables on Old Man Gloom. Take Pluto Water every morning for 10 mornings, and see a new world in 10 days.

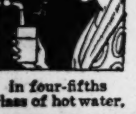

Don't miss a day. Take it before breakfast as recommended—one-fifth glass Pluto Water in four-fifths glass hot water—for ten straight days.

Gentle, Effective

Then you will understand why for nearly ninety years, from all over the world, people have traveled to French Lick Springs for this ten-day Pluto Water treatment.

And why physicians everywhere recommend it as a mild and effective laxative—non-irritating and non-habit-forming.

Two sizes—20c and 45c—at all drug counters. Bottled and sealed at French Lick Springs.

GERK ORDERS POLICE SEARCH FOR GANG OF DYNAMITERS

Chief Says He Is Informed Expert Bombers Have Been Brought to St. Louis.

General orders to make inquiries at all hotels and rooming houses in an effort to find a "number of expert bombers and dynamiters," he said he had been informed were brought here from Southern coal fields, were issued today by Chief of Police Gerke.

The information that bombers had been imported reached him yesterday, the Chief said, after the bombings of the home of Louis V. Vona, a garment worker, 1715 North Leffingwell avenue. No one was hurt and the damage was estimated at $150.

P. S. CO. RECEIVER IS NOW OPERATING PEOPLE'S BUSESSES

Details of Purchase Completed; Pneumatic Tires for Double-Deck Vehicles.

Buses of the People's Motorbus Co. are now operating under control of Receiver Kiel of the St. Louis Public Service Co.

Kiel announced today the completion of details of the purchase of the People's company by the Public Service Co., which was authorized recently by the Federal Court and the State Public Service Commission. The first step in improvement of bus service, Kiel said, will be the equipment of all double-deck green buses with pneumatic tires.

Plans are being made by Public Service Co. traffic engineers for extensive rerouting of buses and for installation of new routes. These plans will be worked out in co-operation with the Board of Public Service, which has regulatory power over bus operations.

The identity of the People's Motorbus Co. will be retained, although its stock is now owned by the Public Service Co.

FARM HAND DIES OF INJURY IN DYNAMITE EXPLOSION

William Rodemeyer of Mitchell Hurt Wednesday; Succumbs in Granite City Hospital.

William Rodemeyer, 46-year-old farm hand and World War veteran, died at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Granite City, yesterday of injuries suffered Wednesday when a stick of dynamite, with which he had been working, exploded on the farm of William Nick, a half mile southeast of Mitchell, where Rodemeyer resided and was employed.

Rodemeyer, Nick and a neighbor had set the dynamite to blast a drainage ditch in a field. When the stick failed to explode Rodemeyer tried to place another stick nearby. The drill accidentally struck the first stick and the explosion followed. He is survived by his widow.

EAST ST. LOUIS FIREMEN TO ACCEPT CUT IN PAY

East St. Louis firemen voted yesterday to accept a 10 per cent cut in pay by a vote of 38 to 19, postponing any further action until January, when they expect the cut to be restored.

The reduction was accepted in compliance with the city's economy plan to diminish operating expenses within its income, as insisted upon by East St. Louis banks, before they will make additional loans to the city on anticipation warrants. There are 52 firemen in the department. The city owes them five months' salary. The cut will reduce the monthly pay from $128.50 to $116.55.

VICTIM OF TRAIN IDENTIFIED

The body of a man killed Monday night by a Missouri Pacific freight train at Cliff Cave, St. Louis County, has been identified as that of Gus Christ, a quarry worker.

Identification was made by an employee of the Bussen Quarry Co., Jefferson Barracks, who said Christ worked for the company.

The employee was unable to give Christ's home address, but said he had relatives in East St. Louis. The body is at the C. Hoffmeister undertaking establishment, 7814 South Broadway.

DRAMA AT SHUBERT AT POPULAR PRICES

Theater to Open Nov. 26 As Link in Chain Presenting Road Shows.

The Shubert-Rialto Theater on Grand boulevard near Olive street will be opened Nov. 26 for a season of drama to be presented by road companies, at prices ranging from 25 cents to $1.

The theater has been leased to Arthur M. Oberfelder, Kansas City producer, as one link in the chain of legitimate theaters he has acquired in five cities. The others are in Kansas City, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Columbus.

Oberfelder has acquired the road rights to three recent hit shows and is negotiating for others to fill out a season of 30 weeks. The casts are to be organized in New York and the companies will make the round of the Oberfelder circuit in four weeks, with a split week in Indianapolis and Columbus.

"Dinner at Eight," featuring James Kirkwood, veteran of the stage and screen, is the first attraction. It opens tonight in Kansas City and will play at the other cities on the circuit before reaching St. Louis. This will be followed by "The Double Door," with Jessica Newombs and Patricia Hardy, and "There's Always Juliet," featuring Violet Heming.

Oberfelder emphasizes that there will be no element of stock company operation in his shows, that each will be presented by a new cast. "We've got to pack them in to make any money," he said, "but I'm betting that we can keep the houses filled with the sort of shows we are going to have."

There will be three matinees each week, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Road shows at popular prices, Oberfelder believes, can pull the theater business out of the doldrums. New York producers, he says, have lost interest in sending their shows on the road, and devote their efforts, when they have put a "hit" on Broadway, to selling it to the movies.

AYS CITY DECLINES AS AVIATION CENTER

Plane Executive Refers to Elimination of 12 Schedules at St. Louis.

That St. Louis is "slipping" as an aviation center, and that the Chamber of Commerce members are referred to as "badge wearers" by the Lambert-St. Louis Field personnel was stated at a meeting of the Municipal Airport Commission yesterday.

Gregory J. Brandewelle, vice president of the Curtiss-Wright Aircraft Co., speaking for the Lambert-St. Louis Field Association, said St. Louis has failed to keep abreast of other cities in number of air passengers and air mail load.

There has been a decline in interest in aviation here for the last three years, during which the city has shown an increase in air travelers and air mail, Brandewelle said. He urged the city and the Chamber of Commerce to take steps to stimulate interest in flying in a effort to avert further curtailment of operations. The speaker referred to the removal of the headquarters of American Airways and Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., from St. Louis to Kansas City, and the elimination of airline schedules to illustrate his point.

Maj. Phil Love, commander of the thirty-fifth Division aviation unit, said the flying field group referred to as the Chamber of Commerce "badge wearers."

"It is the general opinion among pilots and others connected with aviation here that the Chamber of Commerce will give a dinner for a champion pilot after some other organization or community has financed his feat," Love asserted.

"Even Lindbergh had to go around looking for money for his flight and made a larger individual contribution from his own savings than anyone else."

George Parker, commission member and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Air Board, interrupted to say that the Chamber of Commerce spent $65,000 in connection with the Lindbergh flight.

"That was afterwards," Maj. Love retorted.

President Neun of the Board of Aldermen who, with several others present, appeared to enjoy Love's description of Chamber of Commerce members pushing to the front at celebrations for flying champions, added that "the money is spent for badges."

Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, head of the Airport Commission and a member of the Chamber of Commerce Air Board, said both organizations were ready to co-operate with those active in the aviation industry in having flying interest here.

Suggested the formation of an airport club as one means of stirring interest.

A suggestion by Brandewelle that the name of Natural Bridge road be changed to Airport drive did not receive general support at the meeting.

OULD PUT $1000 A DAY TAX ON PLATTE COUNTY RACE TRACK

Representative Weakley Sponsors Measure Applying to Course in Gov. Park's Home Area.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 3.—The bill to place a $1000 a day tax on the Platte County race track, which has been in operation for several years, with the contribution of betting on races, notwithstanding State laws barring betting, would be required to be the State a fee of $1000 a day for each racing day, under a bill introduced in the House yesterday.

The track is in Platte County, a county of Gov. Park. No test of the legality of the betting system employed there has been instituted by county officials. The Supreme Court held a similar system, used by a former dog racing track in St. Louis County, was illegal.

The bill, introduced by Representative Weakley of Pike County, does not mention the Riverside race track, but the bill would apply to Riverside, as no other horse racing track is operating in the State.

No attempt is made in the measure to legalize race betting. It would limit horse racing to more than 61 days in a year, at one week, and a fee of $1000 a day for each day of the racing meet, would be paid to the State Auditor in advance of the meet. The fee could not apply to State or county fairs.

ARDONS FOR MAN CONVICTED IN 'HUMAN SACRIFICE' KILLING

Gov. Laffoon Grants Clemency to Son-in-Law of Stain Kentucky Woman.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 3.—Clemency was granted by Gov. Laffoon yesterday to Elaine M. Stain, who was sentenced in April to serve 21 years on a charge of manslaughter in connection with a "human sacrifice" murder.

Two other men were convicted with McGinnis and are now in the reformatory here. They are John Mills, son of the slain woman, who was sentenced to a life term at Ballard Mills, a grandson, who was given 21 years.

The Governor said clemency was recommended by Willie B. Mills, who prosecuted the case. McGinnis said the son wrote that there was "no evidence at all" connecting McGinnis with the killing. McGinnis also was recommended, Gov. Laffoon said, by officials.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 3.—The bill of the Riverside race track at Kansas City, who have been conducting horse racing there for several years, with the contribution of betting on races, notwithstanding State laws barring race betting, would be required to pay the State a fee of $1000 a day for each racing day, under a bill introduced in the House yesterday.

FALL IN INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT SLOWING UP

Factory Payrolls Larger, Pay Higher, Despite Production
Drop, Says Commerce Office.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The Department of Commerce said today that industrial production fell less rapidly in October than in August and September.

"Available distribution indices," the department said, in its monthly report, "fail to record the seasonal rise usually evident in the fall, despite the continued growth of purchasing power."

"Commodity prices have risen, and recent increases have been more pronounced in retail than in wholesale quotations."

"Real income, however, is considerably higher than in the early months of the year as well as higher than a year ago."

"Output of mines and factories in September declined, contrary to the normal movement, and the adjusted index dropped 8 per cent, or about the rate as in the preceding month. Manufacturing production declined relatively more than mineral output."

"Decreases were general in all of the major industries, with the exception of food products."

"While the recent drop in total industrial production reduced the September increase over a year ago to 27 per cent, production in the third quarter was 49 per cent higher than a year ago."

"Retail sales in September failed to extend the August gains. The increase in department store sales fell short of the usual seasonal increase and the adjusted index dropped 9 per cent. The increase in freight car loadings in September was less than the usual seasonal rise, and the same was true of the merchandise less-than-carload group."

"According to official estimates over 600,000 persons returned to work in September. Factory employment increased by 4.4 per cent and payrolls by 3.4 per cent.

"Movements in the financial markets have been irregular. Banking figures reveal a steady increase in 'all other' loans, and a decrease in advance against securities."

THREE BETTING INDICTMENTS

Indictments charging custodianship of a bet were returned by the grand jury yesterday against Al Pollack, Fred Hammert and Harry Bowman, arrested last summer in police raids.

Pollack was arrested June 14 at 603½ North Grand boulevard, after a plainclothes policeman reported he placed a bet, using a marked bill. Hammert was arrested Aug. 2 at 6920 Gravois avenue and Bowman at 2919 Natural Bridge avenue, under similar circumstances.

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos
ALWAYS the finest workmanship
ALWAYS Luckies please!

One Hundred Million Dollars worth of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are being aged by the makers of Lucky Strike

In fine warehouses like these—open to soft Southern breezes—a huge reserve of choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos is aging and mellowing. 27 different kinds of tobacco, "the Cream of the Crop"—for nothing but the best is used to make Luckies so round, so firm, so fully packed—free from annoying loose ends. That's why Luckies are always so mild, so smooth.

WOMAN FINED FOR CONTEMPT; AGREES SHE TALKED TOO MUCH

Mrs. Samuel Pollock, Who Made Remark to Juror, Pays $5 Costs.

Mrs. Samuel Pollock, 4605 Lindell boulevard, smilingly nodded agreement with Circuit Judge Hoffmeister's remark that she had talked too much, thanked the court for his leniency and paid $5 costs today when a hearing was held on a contempt citation issued yesterday after she had made a remark in the presence of a juror in a case in which her son, Abe, was prosecuting witness.

"Spectators in the courtroom," Judge Hoffmeister advised her, "should be seen and not heard." Agreeing, Mrs. Pollock replied that she had not known that the man who came to speak to his wife seated beside her was a juror. She had remarked that she hoped the defendant "would get what is coming to him."

A fine of $10 and costs was assessed by the court but the fine was stayed.

The case was that of Roy Lowe, 5044 Emerson avenue, a painter, charged with assault with intent to kill. He had cut Abe Pollock across the face with a knife while working at the Lindell boulevard address. He said he acted in self-defense. On learning of Mrs. Pollock's remark, a mistrial was declared. At this time the jury had retired and was waiting for the court's instructions. Members said they already had agreed on Lowe's acquittal.

Astor's Widow "Very Sick." NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Described as a "very sick woman," Mrs. Madeline Force Astor Dick arrived from Bermuda today, was taken ashore in a stretcher and rushed to Doctors Hospital in an ambulance. She was too ill to see interviewers. Mrs. Dick suffered a broken shoulder as the result of a fall in September. Mrs. Dick is the widow of John Jacob Astor, who went down with the Titanic. At Ray last July she divorced her second husband, William K. Dick.

STRIKERS REJECT FORD'S TERMS AT EDGEWATER, N. J.

In Statement They Accuse Auto Maker of 'Evasiveness'—Cite $800 as Average Wage.

By the Associated Press. EDGEWATER, N. J., Nov. 3.—Fifteen hundred striking workers of the Ford Motor Co. Edgewater assembly plant met today and framed a statement charging their employers with evasiveness and authorizing their attorney to "prosecute vigorously the charges against the company filed by him in our behalf with the President of the United States."

The strike and picketing continued. The statement was dispatched to Ford headquarters at Detroit and one copy was submitted to Neil S. Brown, Edgewater plant superintendent. It was prepared in answer to a statement issued from Detroit Wednesday.

"We, the workers, deny that the Ford Motor Co. has met us at any point in this unsigned typewritten statement submitted 33 days after the walkout," the workers declare, "nor has it displayed any spirit of co-operation with a sincere and temperate effort on our part to better working conditions in a mechanized industrial life."

The workers see no assurance that collective bargaining will be practiced by the company in its statement "that recognition of collective bargaining is already required by the present National Industrial Recovery act." This statement was held last night by Senator Robert F. Wagner of the NRA Labor Board to be sufficient guarantee of the company's recognition of unions.

"The reply covering hours of labor and wages," the workers' statement continues, "indicates clearly that the company is unwilling to relinquish any part of its autocratic control of those questions even though the workers are on an average 300-day year at $4 a day or a yearly income of $800 which so intimately affects not only the worker but his family."

The workers also found the company's statement relative to re-employment of workers unsatisfactory.

"This is not a guarantee," their statement continued, "that the company will not be swayed by vindictiveness or retaliation. The company reiterates its adherence to its former despotic methods of hiring and firing without ascertainable cause."

The unsigned statement was released through J. Glenn Anderson, counsel for the workers who has filed complaints against the Ford company with the NRA.

WHY BELLEVILLE'S MUNICIPAL WATERWORKS IS HELD UP

State Health Board Holds Sewage Disposal Plant Should Be Built First.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 3.—Approval of plans for Belleville's proposed new municipal waterworks plant is being withheld by the State Sanitary Board and the Public Health Department, because a State order to construct a sewage disposal plant has not been complied with.

Public Health officials stated it was more important for Belleville, if it had money for public works, to correct pollution evils before building a new waterworks. An order for the sewage disposal improvement was issued in 1931, but State officials said they had not enforced it because Belleville apparently lacked funds.

Mayor George Brechitz of Belleville said the two projects had no connection, financially or otherwise, and the State officials were mistaken in their position. The new plant, estimated to cost $2,500,000 and depending on a Federal loan and grant of 30 per cent, is to be self-liquidating from water revenue, he explained. Costs of the sewage disposal plant would have to be assessed against property already encumbered with 25 per cent day and night taxes and no special improvement sewer bonds could be sold. He said the sewer disposal project was brought to the attention of the State Sanitary Board by an official of the East St. Louis & Suburban Water Co., which now supplies Belleville with water.

HOLDS STATE BOARD CAN FIX EAST ST. LOUIS WATER RATES

Federal Judge Rules on Injunction Which Illinois Commission Called "Vague."

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 3.—A ruling that the Illinois Commerce Commission has the right to investigate and fix rates of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. in St. Louis, was issued today by Federal Judge Briggs, following a hearing on an injunction obtained by the company in 1928 to prevent interference of the commission.

The Commerce Commission contended that the decree was vague and indefinite and that it could not tell when it was acting within the injunction's provisions. It also argued that if the decree prevented the commission from investigating and fixing rates, as the utility company contended, the court had exceeded its jurisdiction in issuing the decree. Judge Briggs ruled that the commission has the right to set "fair and reasonable" rates for the company.

ROBBED OF $347, BOUND HAND AND FOOT IN GARAGE

Proprietor of Feed Company Attacked by Three Men Back of His Home.

Marcus Haffner, 5144 Wabada avenue, was robbed of $347 and bound hand and foot by three holdup men in the garage back of his home last night.

Haffner, who is proprietor of the North Market Feed Co., 2956 Cass avenue, had just driven into the garage when the robbers entered. One drew a revolver and the others threw Haffner to the floor and bound him with ropes. The armed robber said, "We know you've got money. Tell us where it is or we'll go to your store and blow it up." Haffner said the money was in his pockets. The robbers escaped in an automobile that had been parked in the alley. A neighbor who heard Haffner calling for help released him.

Robert Owen, insurance collector was robbed of $32.00 by two men who held him up at the door of his garage, back of his home, 4140 Wyoming street. One robber was armed.

PADEREWSKI CANCELS TOUR

FOR ACTION ON CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

Committee Approves and Proposes to Ratify Goes on Missouri House Calendar.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 3.—Passage of a joint resolution ratifying the child labor amendment to the United States Constitution was recommended by the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments last night after a hearing.

The resolution now goes on the House calendar for adoption. Passage of the resolution by a majority vote of the House, and concurrence by the Senate by a majority vote, would constitute ratification by Missouri.

Representatives of the League of Women Voters, women's clubs, the American Legion and labor organizations urged ratification.

Representative R. P. Weeks of Douglas County was the only opponent of the amendment appearing before the committee. Weeks urged rejection on the ground that child labor legislation by Congress would be an encroachment on the power of the states.

Representative Henry Lay of Benton County, an attorney, told the committee that rejection of the amendment by both houses of the 1925 Legislature could not bar this session from reversing the action. He said that while the United States Supreme Court had not ruled on the question, available legal authorities tended to support the view that a state could rescind a rejection of a proposed Federal amendment and later ratify it as long as the amendment was still pending before the states.

Lay also declared the Legislature was free to consider the amendment despite the fact that it was not included by Gov. Park in his list of legislative subjects to be considered by the special session. Lay based this view on court rulings that ratification of a proposed Federal amendment was performance by the Legislature of a Federal function, not a state legislative function.

Opponents of the amendment in the House have contended it could not be taken up during the special session, because of the rejection in 1925, and because it was not one of the subjects enumerated by the Governor in his call for the special session.

PIPE LINE FIRM IS ORDERED TO FILE RATE SCHEDULE

State Public Service Commission Acts After Supreme Court Decision.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 3.—The Mississippi River Fuel Corporation was ordered by the Public Service Commission today to file with the commission as soon as possible a schedule of its rates for sale of natural gas to industrial users.

The order is based on a Missouri Supreme Court decision of last Tuesday holding that the Cities Service Gas Co. must submit a schedule of rates to industrial users and submit to the regulation of the commission as a public utility. It marked the most recent step in the commission's drive to bring the natural gas pipeline companies under its control as far as sales to industrial users within the State are concerned.

The commission is informed that the Mississippi River Fuel Co. supplies natural gas to 11 large industrial users in St. Louis as well as to other consumers in the southern part of the State. Its order does not apply to the regulation of the company's supplies of natural gas to the Laclede Gas Light Co. to be mixed with manufactured fuel for sale to St. Louis domestic and industrial users.

MUSHROOMS CHEAP

ENOUGH FOR SOUP

In Price This Week Permits More Frequent Serving.

Fresh mushrooms this week are cheaper than in some time and it's an advantage to buy them for use or to serve with steak or chops.

Of course, there are many ways in which to use them: serving them with spaghetti or in cream sauce for chops or in patties are among the possibilities.

Soup Recipe.

One-fourth pound mushrooms, one tablespoon butter.

Wash mushrooms, slice them thin, using stems also. Cook in two tablespoons of butter until browned. Melt the rest of the butter, add flour and blend well until smooth. Add milk slowly and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add mushrooms and season with salt and pepper.

Mushroom Sandwich Filling.

And here is a mushroom sandwich filling which will please bridge guests. It should be used the same day it is made.

One pound mushrooms, peeled and chopped.

Two cups water.

One-half teaspoon salt.

Four tablespoons quick cooking tapioca.

Two tablespoons scraped onion.

Two tablespoons butter.

One-eighth teaspoon paprika.

One-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Dash of tobacco.

Cook mushroom stems and peelings with water and salt 15 minutes. Drain, add tapioca to stock, and cook 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently.

Chop mushrooms very fine. Cook onion in butter until slightly browned. Add mushrooms, cover, and simmer until tender. Uncover and cook two or three minutes until dry. Add paprika, Worcestershire sauce and tobacco. Add tapioca mixture and combine thoroughly. Cool. Makes one and one-half cups filling.

Sandwich Butter.

Butter should always be creamed for sandwiches. A little minced parsley or finely chopped and drained pimiento added to the butter gives it an attractive color.

Supper snacks

Chop boiled ham and stuffed olives . . . Mix them with this recipe dressing . . . a great sandwich!

RECIPES FOR FRUIT CAKE AND MINCEMEAT

Requests Answered by Government Home Economics Bureau.

Several requests have been received for reliable mincemeat and fruit cake. We know of none better than those given by experts of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, which follow:

Mincemeat.
Two pounds lean beef.
One pound finely chopped suet.
Four pounds tart apples.
One-half pound chopped citron.
Three pounds sugar.
Three pounds currants.
Two pounds raisins.
Two teaspoons cinnamon.
Two teaspoons nutmeg.
One teaspoon cloves.
One teaspoon allspice.
One tablespoon salt.
One pint cider.
One pint canned fruit juice.
Two oranges, juice and one rind.
Two lemons, juice and one rind.
Simmer the beef in a small quantity of water until tender, drain, cool, chop, and mix with the beef broth. Pare, core and chop the apples, and carefully pick over, wash, and drain the dried fruit. Mix all the ingredients except the oranges and lemons. Cook for about one hour in a preserving kettle over low heat with an asbestos mat underneath, and stir frequently to prevent scorching. Add the grated rind and juice of the oranges and lemons and mix well. Store in stone jars and keep in a cold place. If the mincemeat becomes too dry, add more cider or canned fruit juice.

Fruit Cake.
One-quarter pound citron, cut fine.
One pound raisins, chopped.
One pound currants.
Two cups chopped nuts.
Four cups sifted flour.
One-half pound butter.
One cup sugar.
Five eggs.
One-half cup cider.
One-half cup tart jelly.
One-half cup sour cream.
One cup molasses.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-half teaspoon soda.
One teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon cinnamon.
One teaspoon nutmeg.
Prepare the fruit and nuts carefully, combine, and rub in two cups of the flour, so that the fruit is separated into small pieces. Cream the fat, add the sugar, beaten egg yolks, cider, jelly, sour cream, and molasses. Sift twice the remaining two cups of flour, baking powder, soda, salt and nutmeg, and stir into the liquid mixture, add the flour and fruit and nuts, and fold in the well-beaten whites of eggs. Bake in a tube pan lined with greased paper in a very slow oven (250 degrees) to 275 degrees F. for about three hours. This cake will keep from five to six pounds and will keep fresh for a long time if stored in a tin box.

White Fruit Cake.
One-half cup butter.
One cup sugar.
One-half cup sour cream.
Two cups sifted flour.
One-quarter teaspoon salt.
One-quarter teaspoon soda.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One cup chopped blanched almonds.
One cup sultana raisins.
One-quarter pound citron, cut in small pieces.
One slice candied pineapple, cut in small pieces.
Five egg whites.
One teaspoon vanilla.
Cream the fat and sugar together and add the cream. Mix one cup of the flour with the nuts and fruit and sift the remaining cup of flour with the salt, soda and baking powder. Combine these ingredients and mix well, fold in the well-beaten egg whites, and add the vanilla. Pour into a well-greased tube pan lined with greased paper, and bake in a very moderate oven (300 degrees F.) for two to two and a quarter hours. When cold, wrap in waxed paper, store in a tin box, and keep a few weeks before serving.

Fruit Cup Cakes.
One-half cup shortening.
One cup brown sugar.
Two eggs.
One teaspoon vanilla extract.
Two cups pastry flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-quarter teaspoon soda.
One teaspoon each cinnamon and allspice.
One-half teaspoon nutmeg.
Three-quarters cup sour milk.
One-half cup minced citron.
One cup each raisins and chopped nuts.
Cream shortening; add sugar slowly; mix in well. Add unbeaten eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition; add vanilla extract. Sift flour, except one-quarter cup, with all dry ingredients. Add alternately with milk to first mixture. Flour fruits and nuts with the ¼ cup flour; add to mixture. Bake in greased cup cake pans in moderate oven about 25 minutes. Makes 24 small cakes.

PUDDING SAUCE
Four tablespoonsful sugar
One tablespoonful flour
One and one-half tablespoons butter
One beaten egg
Mix together. Add one cupful hot water. Stir over fire until thick. Flavor.

ORANGE PUFFS

One cup granulated sugar.
One-half cup butter.
One cup milk.
Yolks of two eggs.
One heaping teaspoon baking powder.
Bake in gem tins and serve hot with orange sauce made as follows:
One cup confectioners' sugar.
Juice of two oranges; add whites of the two eggs, beaten stiffly.

ORANGE PIE

One cup sugar.
One-third cup flour.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Grated rind one orange.
One cup orange juice.
Two tablespoons lemon juice.
Mix dry ingredients, add fruit juices and cook in double boiler 10 minutes, stirring until thickened. Add two tablespoons butter and three egg yolks, beaten light. Cook two minutes longer. Cool and turn into baked pie shell. Cover with meringue made of three egg whites, six tablespoons sugar and one-fourth teaspoon baking powder.

HOME-MADE pumpkin pie, perfect in flavor, color and aroma, demands the use of nine different spices. The spices must be exactly proportioned, perfectly blended, and, above all absolutely fresh. For reasons of economy most housewives are right in hesitating to buy nine spices just for pumpkin pie. But here is news! Now, for the first time, you can get the necessary nine spices, ready-mixed for instant use, in one 10c package of T & T Pumpkin Pie Spice—enough for 12 pies.

"Ach, dis cheese it make me homesick"

How Herr Keller loves his Borden's Swiss Cheese! Every time he eats it, his memory carries him back to the little village where he was born—for the flavor of Borden's Swiss is exactly like the cheese he ate at home in that peaceful valley in the Alps.

Yes, Borden's Swiss Cheese is made right here in America. But even the Swiss admit that it's as rich, as nut-sweet, as delicious as any cheese that ever came down from the Alps. And its special Borden package not only keeps it fresh, but brings it to you without rind or other waste.

Meet these Borden Cheeses
Try Borden's Swiss. Order some from your grocer today. Serve it tonight. And let its goodness be the recommendation for other Borden favorites: Borden's Cream Cheese, Borden's Chateau, Borden's American, Borden's Pimento, Military Brand Camembert, and Liederkranz.

MANY GREENS SEEN AMONG VEGETABLES

Spinach, Kale, Endive and Escarole Included in Markets.

No excuse for not serving greens every day or so just now, for they certainly are cheap enough and there's a wide variety.

If tired of spinach, try kale or mustard greens, which also have valuable iron contents.

Both should be cooked in a large amount of water for about 25 minutes. Wash a number of times before cooking.

A small piece of bacon or salt pork boiled with either kale or mustard greens gives a flavor liked by some.

And if lettuce has lost its charm temporarily, vary the salad by using escarole or endive. Escarole may also be boiled like spinach.

Ginger Ale Appetizer. Heat one and one-half cups ginger ale and dissolve in it one package lemon gelatin. Add two tablespoons vinegar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, and a few drops of green vegetable coloring. Chill a little, and when it begins to set, stir in one-half cup chopped sweet pickles, one-fourth cup chopped walnuts. Pour into ring mold and let it set. When serving fill center of mold with cottage cheese.

DRESSED-UP WAFFLES SERVED SUNDAY EVE

Peach Sponge, Grilled Tomato and Minced Ham Variations.

Unexpected Sunday night supper guests arouse no alarm in the mind of a hostess who has mastered the art of waffle-making, and has added some out of the ordinary recipes.

Waffles are either very good or very bad. It's one thing that has no half-way stage.

When you purchase a waffle iron, study directions given with it and faithfully follow them each time you use it.

And there is nothing in which recipes must be more carefully adhered to than waffles. Measure each ingredient, mix as directed and don't attempt any innovations of your own.

Peach Sponge Cake Waffles. One-half cup sifted cake flour. One-half teaspoon lemon juice. Grated rind of one orange. Two egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored.

Two egg whites. Two tablespoons cold water. One-half cup sugar.

Sift flour once, measure, and sift again. Add lemon juice and rind to egg yolks. Beat egg whites slightly, add water and continue beating until stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry. Add one-half of beaten egg whites to egg yolks. Fold in sugar, a small amount at a time; then flour in same way. Fold in remaining egg whites. Preheat waffle iron and grease well. Pour batter into iron, close iron, cook 30 second, turn off current, and bake three minutes longer, or until done. Cool waffles. Place canned or preserved peaches drained peaches on each quarter section, cover with another section, add more peaches, and top with sweetened whipped cream, flavored with almond extract. Makes four four-section waffles.

Ham Waffles With Eggs. Two and one-fourth cups sifted cake flour. One-fourth teaspoon soda. One and one-half teaspoons baking powder.

One-half teaspoon salt. One tablespoon sugar. Two egg yolks, well beaten. One and one-half cups sour milk. Two tablespoons melted butter. Two egg whites, stiffly beaten. One cup uncooked ham, finely diced.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg yolks, milk and butter. Add to flour, beating until smooth. Fold in egg whites. Bake waffles according to directions given with your waffle iron, sprinkling one-fourth cup ham over the batter of each waffle just before closing iron. Serve soft scrambled eggs on each waffle. Makes four four-section waffles.

Cheese and Tomato Waffles. Two cups sifted cake flour. Two teaspoons baking powder. One-half teaspoon salt. Three egg yolks, well beaten. One cup milk. Four tablespoons melted butter. Three egg whites, stiffly beaten. One cup grated cheese. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Combine egg yolks, milk and butter. Add to flour, beating until smooth. Fold in egg whites and cheese. Bake according to directions given with your waffle iron. Place a slice of grilled tomato on each section. Makes five four-section waffles.

Diced uncooked bacon may be sprinkled over batter before closing the iron.

MARMALADE COFFEE CAKE

Three cups flour. One-half cup sugar. Six teaspoons baking powder. One teaspoon salt. One-half cup shortening. Grated rind of one orange. One-half cup orange juice. Two eggs. One-third cup scalded milk. One cup orange marmalade. Sift dry ingredients together. Add shortening mixing in with a fork. Beat orange rind in juice a few minutes. Beat one egg and one egg yolk slightly; add orange juice and rind, then add milk. Add to dry mixture; mix well. Put into one very large or two smaller greased, shallow baking pans to thickness of about one inch. Spread top with remaining egg white beaten into marmalade. Bake in hot oven for 25 minutes. Break into squares and serve warm.

Prune and Onion Salad. Remove pits from cooked prunes and replace with pickled onions. Serve five prunes on each individual crisp lettuce leaf with French dressing. A small amount of salad oil added to the pickled onion juice makes a desirable dressing.

Tomato-Avocado Salad. Cocktail-salad of chilled sliced oranges, slivers of ripe avocadoes and small sections of firm tomato is as colorful as it is delicious. Serve with a spicy French dressing made with lemon juice instead of vinegar.

FRESH RHUBARB IN FROM CALIFORNIA

New York Grapes and Florida Grapefruit Among Fruits.

If the warm weather this week gave you spring fever all over again, you can continue the seasonal toasty-turvy conditions by indulging in one of nature's spring tonics—fresh rhubarb.

For a big shipment of that from California was one of the happy surprises of the markets.

Rhubarb sauce, attractive in color and so good to eat, is fine for a breakfast fruit change, or goes well with luncheon dishes. And nothing is better for the youngsters at any meal.

New York Concord grapes, a favorite with many, found many buyers this week.

Grapefruit shipments from Florida are bountiful and prices are reasonable.

NEW BLACK WALNUTS AND PECANS ARRIVE

Big Shipments From Southern States, Nut Cooky Recipes Given.

Black walnuts, some from our own State, and pecans from the South are here to please lovers of nuts. Some of the pecans are especially large.

Nuts in salads, cakes, pies and candy, add richness to recipes. They are good in cookies, too, as the following recipes testify:

Pecan Cookies.
One-half cup butter or shortening.
Two-thirds cup granulated sugar.
Three egg yolks.
One and one-half cups flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One teaspoon cinnamon.

FAMOUS EXPLORER LIKES MEAT LOAF

Wiley Post Expresses Preference After Many Public Banquets.

Wiley Post, the famous aviator, recently remarked at a dinner given him during his good-will tour of the country that in the course of six weeks he thought he had eaten at least half the chicken and steak in America. Asked what he would like for a change he picked a ground meat loaf and after that sausage.

Many men, not so famous, share the explorer's liking for meat loaf, and there are any number of new ways of preparing left-over or inexpensive ground meats so that they will please them and guests also.

Ground veal and pineapple form the principal ingredients for Hawaiian patties that are new and certainly a change from the regular meat dishes. Recipe follows and also other suggestions:

Hawaiian Patties.
Two cups ground uncooked veal.
One-half cup finely crumbled crackers.
One egg.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon minced onion.
Six slices pineapple.
Three tablespoons butter.
One-quarter cup brown sugar.
One-half cup pineapple juice.
One-eighth teaspoon ground cloves.
Mix veal, crackers, egg and seasoning and shape into six flat patties. Brown pineapple in two tablespoons butter; remove pineapple from pan and mix it brown veal patties. Place cooked pineapple in buttered baking dish and on top of each slice place a veal patty. Put remaining butter and sugar into the frying pan and melt over low flame. Add pineapple juice and cloves, heat and pour over patties. Bake covered 20 minutes in a hot oven.

Mommy's Meat Loaf.
One cup chopped cooked veal.
One cup chopped cooked ham.
One small onion, minced.
One teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon pepper.
Two eggs.
One-half cup finely crumbled crackers.
One cup canned tomatoes.
To meat add onion, salt and pepper and eggs. Crumble crackers fine into meat mixture. Mix all together and shape into loaf. Place in a buttered baking dish. Cover with tomatoes. Bake in a moderate oven one-half hour, basting two or three times.

Mock Duck.
Two and one-half to three pounds veal rump.
Salt and pepper.
One cup finely crumbled crackers.
One-third cup chopped suet.
One tablespoon minced onion.
Two tablespoons flour.
One cup stock or water.
Have pocket cut in veal and season. Mix finely crumbled crackers with suet, onion and apple and season. Fill veal pocket with this mixture. Sew or skewer. Dredge with flour and brown quickly in a very hot oven. Add one cup of stock or water, cover meat, reduce oven heat and continue roasting until meat is tender, about one and one-half hours. Serve with pan gravy and garnish with orange slices.

Beef and Ham Loaf.
One and one-half pounds beef.
One cup ham.
One cup soft bread crumbs.
One teaspoon grated lemon rind.
One tablespoon lemon juice.
One and one-half teaspoons celery salt.
One-fourth teaspoon pepper.
One tablespoon minced parsley.
Two eggs.
Three-fourths cup tomatoes.
Pass beef and ham together through food chopper, add crumbs, lemon rind and juice, salt, pepper, parsley, beaten eggs and tomatoes, which may be stewed strained tomatoes or tomato soup. Form into loaf and either place on shallow pan or press into a bread pan previously well greased and sprinkled with crumbs. Bake in moderate oven one to one and a half hours according to thickness of loaf. If cooked in shallow pan, baste occasionally with hot water and melted ham or bacon fat. If cooked in deep pan, unmold for service. Serve with gravy.

Ham Loaf.
One-half cup quick-cooking tapioca.
One pound lean ham, ground.
One pound lean pork, ground.
One tablespoon scraped onion.
One teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
One-fourth teaspoon pepper.
One-fourth teaspoon paprika.
Two cups milk.
Combine ingredients in order named and mix thoroughly. Bake in loaf pan, 7x5x3 inches, in hot oven 20 minutes; then decrease heat to moderate and bake 45 minutes longer. Serve hot or cold.

Orange and Prune Salad.
Soak large prunes overnight in cold water, cook until tender, but not too soft, and remove pits. Insert an orange section, free from membrane, or a cube of firm orange jelly in each prune. Chill thoroughly and arrange on lettuce, allowing three or four prunes to each serving. Garnish with cream and serve with whipped cream dressing.

GRANDMOTHER SERVES OLD-TIME SCHNECKEN

German Rolls Delightful With Coffee When Friends Gather.

A few old friends together, coffee sipped as memories revive old days and old joys, and schnecken rich with cinnamon and brown sugar, that's grandmother's idea of a happy twilight hour.

Her recipe is worth trying for other occasions:

Schnecken.
1 cake compressed yeast
One tablespoonful sugar
One-fourth cup evaporated milk
One-fourth cup warm water, mixed
One cup flour
Three-quarters cup butter
One cup sugar
Three eggs
One-half cup evaporated milk and
One-half cup water, mixed
Four cups flour

One and one-quarter teaspoonful salt
Crumble yeast into a bowl. Add one tablespoon sugar and let stand until yeast is liquified. Add the one-half cup lukewarm diluted milk and one cup flour. Beat until smooth. Set in a warm, moist place to rise, about two hours. Cream the butter and sugar as for cake. Add eggs, beat well, then add diluted milk and flour alternately. Beat in the yeast mixture.

Cover and let rise in a warm, moist place five to six hours. Or cover tightly and let stand in refrigerator over night and set to rise in the morning. When doubled in bulk, roll to one-half inch thickness, spread with melted butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon, roll up like jelly roll and cut into 1/4-inch pieces.

Spread baking pan generously with melted butter and brown sugar. Place rolls in pan and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) 10 to 15 minutes. Invert pan to remove rolls as soon as they come from the oven. Yield: three dozen rolls.

FRUIT COMBINES WELL WITH MARSHMALLOWS

Salad or Dessert With Bananas
Cranberries and Oranges.

A little richer dessert and more elaborate salad are welcomed in the colder weather. Not too rich to be wholesome, however, must be the rule, and that safeguard may be assured by using fruit embellished with marshmallows as in the following recipes:

Banana Marlow.
Sixteen marshmallows.
Two teaspoons lemon juice.
One-half cup water.
Three-fourths cup well-mashed bananas.
One-half pint whipping cream.
Steam marshmallows with the water over hot water until they are melted. Add banana pulp and lemon juice; cool. When cold and slightly stiffened, combine with cream which has been whipped stiff. Pour into trays and freeze without stirring.

Fruit Salad.
Six oranges, shredded.
Two bananas, sliced.
One cup grapes, cut into fourths.
One-half cup broken nut meats.
One-half cup marshmallows cut into fourths.
Three teaspoons sugar.
One package orange gelatin.
Dissolve gelatin in one pint boiling water. When cooled add fruits, nuts and marshmallows. Mold in individual molds and serve with mayonnaise.

Cranberry Sponge.
One tablespoon gelatin.
Three-fourths cup boiling water.
One cup cranberry sauce.
Juice of half a lemon.
The marshmallows.
Dissolve gelatin in one-fourth cup cold water, then add boiling water. Add finely cut marshmallows to hot liquid and dissolve marshmallows by using an egg beater until thick and fluffy. Add cranberry pulp and lemon juice. Pour into mold or serve in glasses with whipped cream. Cranberry sauce: Boil two cups of water and one and a half to two cups of sugar for five minutes. Add four cups (one quart) cranberries and boil without stirring until skins pop open. Allow sauce to cool in vessel.

Bananas and Marshmallows.
Peel and split bananas and place flat side up in a baking pan. Cut marshmallows in halves, using two whole or four halves to each half of banana. Place on the split bananas and bake in a moderate oven about 10 minutes, or until marshmallows are brown.

ROAST FOWL BASTED WITH ORANGE JUICE

Whole Baked Fruit Also Delicious With Chicken or Turkey.

Roast fowl with orange juice basting! If you've never tried this novel method of cooking fowl, be it chicken or turkey, you have a treat in store. The fruit juice gives a delicious flavor to the skin but does not change the flavor of the meat, although helping to keep it moist and to increase tenderness. For further novelty, the fowl so roasted may be garnished with slices of fresh orange or whole baked oranges which are a delicious accompaniment to any roast meat. Oranges may be well used to flavor other foods. There is nothing better than orange cake or a plain cake with orange icing. And orange wafers with a cup of tea will please the friend who drops in for a little gossip.

Fowl With Orange Juice Basting.
Put two strips of fat salt pork over breast of fowl, plump chicken or young turkey. Cook in roaster without cover in hot oven (450 degrees F.) until meat begins to brown. Reduce heat to moderate oven and cook until meat is tender, basting every 15 minutes with orange juice. Add two teaspoons lemon juice to each cup of orange juice used. Amounts of orange juice will vary with size of chicken and length of cooking time, which should average 20 minutes per pound without dressing, or longer with dressing. Liquid in bottom of roaster may also be used for basting.

Baked Whole Oranges.
Slightly grate skin of 6 to 8 medium size, clean skinned oranges. Boil 30 minutes. Cool. This is to make skin tender. Cut slice off blossom end of each orange. Remove core. Place in covered baking dish (glass or earthenware is best). Cover with a syrup made of two parts of water to one part sugar. Bake closely covered about 1 1/2 to 3 hours in moderate oven (375 degrees F.), depending upon desired color of product. (Longer baking gives a darker fruit and one more like a preserve, with a thicker syrup.) If oranges are not completely covered by syrup, baste frequently. Serve hot or cold with roast fowl or other meat.

Orange Cake.
One and one-quarter cups sifted cake flour.
One teaspoon baking powder.
One tablespoon grated orange rind.
One-quarter cup orange juice.
One-quarter teaspoon salt.
One cup sugar.
Two eggs and one egg yolk.
One-quarter cup water.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift together three times. Add one-half cup sugar and orange rind to eggs and beat with rotary egg beater until thick and lemon-colored, adding remaining sugar gradually. Add orange juice and water. Add flour; beat with rotary egg beater until smooth. Bake in greased pan, 8x8 1/2 inches, in moderate oven 30 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven and invert pan until cake is cold.

Orange Wafers.
One-quarter cup butter.
Two-thirds cup sugar.
Grated rind and juice of one orange.
One and three-quarters cups flour.
Cream butter, sugar and orange rind, add sifted flour and orange juice alternately. Turn onto floured board, roll thin, cut and bake in pan lined with waxed paper about 10 minutes in moderate oven.

LAMB CROQUETTES
Three tablespoons butter.
Four tablespoons flour.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
One cup milk.
One teaspoon finely chopped onion.
Two cups chopped cooked lamb.
One egg.
Two tablespoons water.
One and a half cups dried sifted bread crumbs.
Melt butter, add flour, salt and pepper and stir until smooth. Add the milk gradually and bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Add onion and lamb. Cool. Shape as desired. Roll in crumbs, then in beaten egg diluted with two tablespoons cold water and again in crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat until brown—about five minutes. Drain on brown paper. (Other meat which may be left over may also be used in this recipe.)

Apple Whip.
Beat two beaten egg yolks into two cups thick, hot, sweetened apple sauce and add one-half teaspoon grated lemon or orange peel. Beat two egg whites stiff, fold them into the mixture and pipe in sherbet cups. Chill.

BRIDGE APPETIZERS WITH CHEESE BALLS

Anchovy, Caviar and Liver Sausage for Flavorings.

If you want to please men, give them appetizers after the bridge game whether beer or coffee is served.

A tray of assorted cheese and crackers, and in addition attractive little balls of cream cheese appetizers on crackers, will be welcomed. Vary the cheese balls in the following ways:

Folk's Dot Balls.
One package (three ounces) cream cheese.
Black caviar.
Shape cream cheese into small balls. Chill thoroughly. Roll in caviar until well dotted. Dab crackers with butter and place caviar-cheese ball on butter.

Mock Fete-De-Folie Gras.
One package (three ounces) cream cheese.
Three teaspoons anchovy paste.
Blend cream cheese and anchovy paste. Shape into small balls, the size of the top of the thumb. Chill thoroughly. Dab crackers with softened butter. Place anchovy-cheese ball on butter.

Tomato-Orange Juice Cocktail.
Put one and one-half cups tomato juice, one cup orange juice, one teaspoon sugar, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-half teaspoon salt and one-half cup crushed ice in a beverage shaker and shake vigorously for a minute or two. Pour into small glasses and serve with toast, slightly salted crackers.

THIS ROLL DOUGH KEEPS A WEEK IN REFRIGERATOR

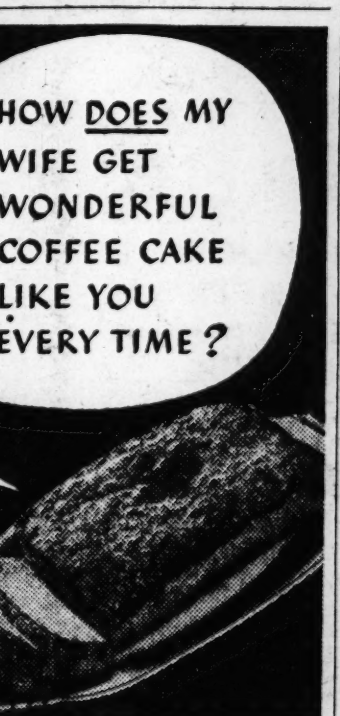

One-half cup lard.
One-third cup sugar.
One and a half teaspoons salt.
One egg.
One cup scalded milk.
One-fourth cup lukewarm water.
One cake yeast.
Three and a half to four cups of flour.

Crumble yeast cake into a cup, add one teaspoon sugar and dissolve in the lukewarm water. Let stand in warm place while preparing other ingredients. Put the lard, sugar and salt into a large bowl. Pour over the scalded milk. When sugar is dissolved and lard is melted, add the egg beaten. When this mixture is lukewarm add the dissolved yeast. Sift in the flour, a cup at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. When dough no longer sticks to sides of bowl it has been beaten enough. Add only enough flour to make a soft dough. Turn on to a floured board. Knead until elastic and smooth.

Care should be exercised not to get too much flour into the dough. Grease bowl and place well kneaded dough in bowl. Punch down, then turn down side up, having greased surface on top. Cover closely and place in refrigerator or icebox at least 12 hours. If kept under proper refrigeration, the dough will keep for a week. Cut off amount desired. Knead, shape, place into greased pan and let rise in warm place until double its bulk. Bake in hot oven 10 to 12 minutes. Yield: Three dozen small rolls.

DOUGHNUTS SERVED AT SKATING PARTY

Invitations of One Hostess Always Eagerly Accepted.

Doughnuts and coffee are the invaluable refreshments provided by one hostess to indoor skating enthusiasts who gather at her home after the evening's spin.

Once partaken of, no one refuses a second invitation, so delicious are both. She tells us her secret of doughnut success is in having the deep fat temperature just the right degree and that this can be done only with the use of a frying thermometer.

Here are two doughnuts recipes: Four cups sifted flour. Four teaspoons baking powder. One-half teaspoon salt. One-fourth teaspoon nutmeg. One cup sugar. Two eggs, well beaten.

Two tablespoons melted butter or other shortening. One cup milk. One-fourth teaspoon lemon extract. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and nutmeg. Sift together three times. Beat eggs until very light and thick. Add sugar and go on beating until fluffy. Add flour alternately with the cream, a small amount each time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Turn out on well-floured board and knead lightly for half a minute. Roll one-fourth inch thick. Cut with floured one and three-fourths inch doughnut cutter. Fry in deep fat (375 degrees Fahrenheit) until rich brown, turning often. Drain on unglazed paper and when cold, sprinkle with confectioner's sugar.

Doughnuts De Luxe. Two and one-half cups cake flour. Two teaspoons baking powder. One-half teaspoon salt. One-fourth teaspoon nutmeg. Two eggs. One-half cup sugar.

LAMB STEW AND DUMPLINGS

Two pounds lamb. One quart potato cubes. One pint quartered carrots. One pint small peeled onions. One cup tomatoes. One-quarter teaspoon pepper. One tablespoon flour. One-half teaspoonful paprika. Two tablespoons chopped parsley.

Cut meat in small pieces and roll in flour to which salt and pepper are added. Brown in hot fat. Cover with boiling water; stew slowly for one and a half hours; add onions, carrots, potatoes, seasonings and tomatoes, and cook until vegetables are tender, about 30 minutes. Add dumplings, cover closely, cook 10 minutes without raising cover. Remove stew to hot platter, surround with dumplings, sprinkle with parsley.

Dumplings. One cup flour. Two teaspoons baking powder. One-half teaspoon salt. One-half cup cold water or milk. Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add enough liquid to make soft dough. Drop by spoonfuls into hot stew and steam, covered, for 10 minutes. There must be plenty of gravy to cook dumplings successfully.

JUMBLE PRUNE GAINS WIDER POPULARITY

Now Jellyed and Spiced and Served in Delicious Cakes.

No wonder so many dislike prunes when they so often appear in a weak, watery state not fit for any meal.

Some home cooks, however, have discovered the family really likes prunes when well cooked, and jellyed or spiced prunes are particularly pleasing.

Then there are prune cakes, which are happy surprises as the recipes below prove.

Jellyed Prunes.
One-half pound dried prunes
Two tablespoons gelatin
One cup sugar

Wash prunes and soak overnight in three cups of cold water. In the morning simmer prunes for 10 to 15 minutes in the water in which they were soaked, drain, and to hot juice add gelatin, which has been softened in one-half cup of cold water, sugar, and salt, stir until dissolved, and set aside to chill. Cut prunes into small pieces and discard stones.

When the gelatin mixture has partially set, stir in prunes and lemon juice and put in a cold place for three or four hours, or until thoroughly set. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

Spiced Prunes.
One pound dried prunes.
One quart water.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One cup sugar.
Eight whole allspice.
Eight whole cloves.
Three small pieces stick cinnamon.

One-fourth cup vinegar.
Select large prunes, wash well, and soak overnight in the water. Add sugar and spices, tied in a cheesecloth bag, and simmer for 15 to 20 minutes. Add vinegar and cook about 10 minutes longer, or until syrup is fairly thick.

Prune Cake.
Two and one-half cups sifted cake flour.
Three-fourths teaspoon baking powder.

One teaspoon soda.
One teaspoon cloves.
One teaspoon allspice.
One teaspoon cinnamon.
One-half cup butter or other shortening.

One and one-half cups sugar.
Two eggs, well beaten.
One cup cooked prunes, seeded and coarsely cut.
One cup sour milk or buttermilk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda and spices, and mix together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and prune pulp. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating well after each addition.

Bake in two greased nine-inch layer pans in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes. Spread caramel frosting between layers and on top of cake. Prune-Apricot Upside Down Cake. One and one-fourth cups sifted cake flour.

One and one-fourth teaspoons baking powder.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Four tablespoons butter.
Three-fourths cup granulated sugar.

One egg, well beaten.
One-half cup milk.
One teaspoon vanilla.
Four tablespoons butter.
One-half cup brown sugar, firmly packed.

Thirteen cooked apricots.
Six cooked prunes, halved and seeded.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs; then flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla.

Melt four tablespoons butter in 8-inch pan or 8-inch skillet, over flame. Add brown sugar; stir until melted. On this arrange apricots and prunes, cut-side up, alternating in apricot with a prune. Pour batter over contents of pan. Bake in moderate oven 50 minutes, or until done. Loosen cake from sides and bottom of pan with spatula. Serve upside down on dish with fruit on top. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

FROSTING BIG AID IN IMPROVING CAKE

Foundation Recipes May Be Used for Many Flavors.

The best of cakes is even better than usual when the frosting is well made and well flavored.

Seven Minute Frosting is favored by many experienced cooks and may be varied with chocolate, coconut or nuts.

Care should be taken to measure ingredients for the frosting accurately, to make it always in top of a double boiler and to have the water in the boiler boiling hard.

A good test of the frosting is that it will pile up in soft little peaks that hold their shape when the frosting is cooked enough.

Frosting Recipe.
Combine two unbeaten egg whites, one and one-half cups granulated sugar, five tablespoons water and one and one-half cups light corn syrup in top of double boiler. Beat with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Then place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with the egg beater and cook seven minutes when the frosting should stand in peaks. Remove from fire, add one teaspoon vanilla and beat until thick enough to spread.

Coconut Seven Minute Frosting.
Fold three-fourths cup coconut into seven minute frosting. Spread on cake. Sprinkle an additional three-fourths cup coconut over cake while frosting is still soft.

Chocolate Seven Minute Frosting.
Fold three squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled, into seven minute frosting. Do not beat mixture. Cool and spread on cake.

Chocolate Coconut Frosting.
Fold three squares of unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled, into seven minute frosting; then add three-fourths cup coconut. Do not beat mixture. Spread on cake.

Sea Foam Frosting.
Two egg whites, unbeaten.
One and one-half cups brown sugar, firmly packed.
One teaspoon vanilla.
Five tablespoons water.

Combine egg whites, sugar, salt and water in top of double boiler, beating with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beating constantly with rotary egg beater, and cook seven minutes, or until frosting will stand in peaks. Remove from boiling water; add vanilla and beat until thick enough to spread. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two nine-inch layer cakes, or top and sides of eight by eight by two inch cake, or about two dozen cup cakes.

Sea Foam Walnut Frosting.
Spread sea foam seven minute frosting on cake. Sprinkle with chopped walnut meats while frosting is still soft.

Toasted coconut may be substituted for walnut meats.

Marble Chocolate Frosting.
Spread seven minute frosting on cake. Pour one square unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled, on frosting in small amounts, swirling with spoon to give marbled effect.

MEAT CROQUETTES
One and one-half cups dry crumbs
One cup thick white sauce
Two cups cooked finely-minced meat

Salt and nutmeg to taste
Few grains cayenne pepper
One teaspoon lemon juice
One teaspoon onion juice
One egg, diluted with
Two tablespoons water

Mix the sauce and meat, season, and cool. Shape into croquettes, dip first in crumbs, then in egg, then crumbs again. Fry in deep fat and drain on soft paper.

PEANUT BRITTLE

Shell roasted peanuts to make three cups. Spread them in a well-buttered, large, shallow pan. Mix two cups granulated sugar with one cup light brown sugar, one-half cup hot water and one-half cup white corn syrup. Heat slowly to the boiling point, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Boil without stirring until it reaches 300 degrees on the candy thermometer. Remove at once from the fire, drop in one-quarter cup butter and one-eighth teaspoon baking soda.

Stir lightly to dissolve soda, then pour in a thin stream over nuts. Do not scrape out saucepan, as it may cause mixture to sugar. Tip candy pan to have brittle form in a thin sheet. When cold, break in irregular pieces. Any nuts or mixture of nuts may be used.

TUNA PATTIES

One cup tuna, flaked
One-half teaspoon baking powder
One egg, beaten
Two tablespoons lemon juice
Eight small soda crackers, crumbled
One-fourth teaspoon prepared mustard.

Mix all ingredients together. Shape into patties and fry in a small amount of hot fat. This amount serves six.

ANGEL ICE CREAM

Two egg whites, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup water, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 1-3 cup maraschino cherries, 1 cup cream.

Boil sugar and water together until the syrup spins a thread. Pour slowly onto the stiffly beaten whites of eggs, and beat until cool. Fold in the cream which has been whipped until stiff, add the vanilla and the cherries cut in small pieces. Turn into a freezing tray and let stand until frozen.

Oyster Sandwiches.
Fry the oysters and place two or three between two buttered slices of brown or white bread. Sprinkle with pepper, salt and either horseradish, lemon-juice, tabasco, Worcestershire or watercress.

Beans are a dish everybody likes. And Beans that are oven-baked are savory to smell, mealy to munch, sweet to eat and soundly satisfying. Heinz oven bakes beans to make a great dish greater still. To make for you the kind of beans that our New England forefathers thrived on, the kind that have come down the years as a well-loved national dish.

First Heinz hand-picks the finest from "choice hand-picked" shipments. Then Heinz bakes them in hot dry ovens, bakes them through and through, then saturates them with rich sweet sauces. These are the kind of beans you will love to have for school day lunches, hurry-up suppers, indeed for dinner occasionally as a change from meats.

Your Grocer has four kinds at thrifty prices. Each is ready to heat and eat. Keep a supply on hand. And when you buy make sure the tin says "HEINZ" and "OVEN-BAKED."

For Illinois Liquor Regulation By State and Local Commissions

Legislative Commission Makes No Decision On Amount or Type of Taxes or on License Fees.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 3.—Control of the sale of hard liquor by both State and local commissions is recommended by the Illinois Commission that is drafting legislation for a second special session of the General Assembly.

No decision was reached as to the amount and type of taxes or license fees from which additional revenue is to be received after the repeal of prohibition, but Senator Harold G. Ward of Chicago, chairman of the commission, was authorized to draw up a bill providing for: Creation of a State commission of five members, to be appointed by the Governor with not more than three members from any political party. Appointment of a city commission of three members by the Mayor of each municipality of more than 10,000 population.

Smaller Towns and Rural Areas. Regulation in smaller municipalities and rural areas to be vested in the present city, village or county officials.

Issuances of licenses by the State commission on recommendation of local authorities, providing for local option.

Revocation of licenses by either type of commission, with the State's action in this regard being limited to cases where a public hearing has been held and then with a court review provided.

The second special session is expected to debate at length varying proposals for State and local taxes on hard liquor and license fees on retailers. Local authorities have asked the commission to give them a substantial share of the anticipated revenues, while the State's Treasury also is in line for income from liquor.

Swinging Doors.

At its hearings, which lasted for several weeks, Ward's commission has urged repeatedly the saloons, if that is to be the name given to retail dispensaries, should be open and unenclosed, with no swinging doors, partitions or back bars.

Another question still unsettled is whether liquor is to be sold at cafes, hotels, clubs and similar establishments. The commission has voted against limiting sales to the original packages.

When the second special session is to be called depends on the disposal of unemployment relief legislation now before the Legislature and the results of next Tuesday's elections in six states, at which repeal may become a certainty. Gov. Horner is expected to call the second session to convene within two weeks after the present session adjourns.

$4,000,000 FEDERAL GRANT
MADE FOR ARIZONA PROJECT

First Allotment for the Verde Irrigation and Power Job.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The Public Works Administration today made an initial allotment of $4,000,000 to begin construction of the $18,912,000 Verde irrigation and power project in Arizona.

At the same time the administration announced allotments totaling $13,578,855 to 41 non-Federal projects in 15 states.

The Verde project, the largest yet undertaken in Arizona, is situated on the north slope of the Salt River Valley, near Phoenix and adjacent to the Salt River irrigation project.

The project was recommended by the Bureau of Reclamation. It is designed to bring under cultivation about 80,000 acres of land. The project is described as self-liquidating, with repayment to be made by users of water under the reclamation act. The project itself will use considerable power for pumping purposes.

THEORY THAT 3 IN FAMILY WERE SLAIN BY INTRUDER

Test Shows That One of Victims at Lawton, Ok., Did Not Fire Pistol.

By the Associated Press.
LAWTON, Ok., Nov. 3.—Investigators declared last night they were convinced Mrs. Robert F. Hayter, a daughter, Nell, 16 years old, and a son, Sidney, 17, were murdered by an intruder in their home last Friday night.

After an autopsy, which disclosed the skull of the youth, as well as that of his sister, was fractured, and that the bullet which killed him entered from the left temple, instead of the right, as first thought, the bodies were buried late yesterday.

C. M. Reber, State fingerprint and ballistics expert, told the Coroner's jury that, since the boy was right-handed, it would have been virtually impossible for him to have fired the fatal bullet. A thumbprint on a pistol found near the boy was being checked.

The bodies were found late Tuesday when another daughter, Virginia, 21, who teaches school at Walters, Ok., returned home.

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—Canadian newspaper manufacturers announce the formation of a co-operative organization known as the Newspaper Export Manufacturers' Association of Canada. A statement said it was hoped that by co-operation with United States publishers under the NRA, it may be found possible to stabilize the industry.

ATTACK ON NRA

BYRNS DENOUNCES

Speaker Rainey Says Criticism Offer Nothing as Substitution for Program That Assail.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Democratic House leaders said today that the recent Republican National Committee pamphlet attacking President Roosevelt and the NRA would be a boomerang to the Republicans because it contained "destructive criticism." "The attitude of the Republican organization is unfortunate at this time," said Speaker Rainey. "In the special session we should have obtained non-partisan support from both House and Senate. Of course, if the Republican organization wants to oppose the program it has that right, but in doing criticism it should also suggest something better. That has not been done. The group of Republicans that prepared the pamphlet, I am sure, does not represent the views of the Liberal Republicans in that party. There are some conservatives who are opposed to it."

Representative Byrns of Tennessee, chairman of the Democratic National Congressional Committee, said: "I don't think the people are going to pay much attention to this attack. There shouldn't be anything by any political party that the President and the House in the country up on the line in this fight. It seems to me that the minority party is shooting at them from the rear. If the Republicans have any constructive to offer, they should come forward with it. We have no effort to improve conditions in the country for 12 years and they have not offered a substitute for the administration's program."

The Republican organization attacking the NRA and the emergency program fails and its campaign will collapse when it gets as it will."

Wilson Predicts Freedom of Press Will Be Campaign Issue.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Former United States Senator James E. Wilson, in an interview yesterday, predicted the next presidential campaign would be an issue of the 1936 and 1938 elections. He said the question would be whether or not the Government could attempt to impose wartime regulations on the press to bridge their right to publish their sincere convictions at no time in the history of the country, as I see it," he said, "the absolutely unfettered press is indispensable as right now."

He said that he thought Washington was making some great mistakes and that "they probably make some more."

And I propose," he added, "that I other citizen to say what they think. And if I know anything at all about the editor of a paper... there will be many men laying in on the experience in Washington pretty heavy for many months."

Progressive Republicans Denounce Attack on NRA.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—A declaration of the American people would be made by the Republican National Committee today from progressive Republicans organization.

The attack just made by the National Committee against the recovery program presented," a statement from the committee said. "The utterance of the reactionary Republican properly manage the country fresh in the minds of the people."

This group which failed so completely cannot with good grace attack the present administration which is at least making an honest attempt to do something on behalf of the people."

The statement called for the "stand loyalty behind the president." It was signed by F. McCormick Adams, Richard E. and Newton Jenkins, national committeemen of the Progressive party.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Democratic House leaders said today that the recent Republican National Committee pamphlet discussing President Roosevelt and the NRA would be a boomerang to the Republicans because it contains nothing but "destructive criticism."

"The attitude of the Republican organization is unfortunate at this time," said Speaker Rainey. "In enacting the recovery legislation at the special session we sought and obtained non-partisan support in both House and Senate. Watson Predicts Freedom of Press Will Be Campaign Issue.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Former United States Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, in an interview yesterday, predicted the freedom of the press would be an issue of the 1934 and 1936 elections. He said the question would be whether or not the Government could attempt to impose wartime regulations on public discussions in times of peace. He said the depression has left the people of America in a state that they are willing to try almost anything as an expedient, but that they would not consent to any attempt to abridge their right to speak out their sincere convictions. He said at no time in the history of this country, as far as he knew, "was an absolutely unfettered press so indispensable as right now."

He said that he thought Washington was making some grievous mistakes and that "they probably will make some more."

"And I propose," he added, "like every other citizen to say what I honestly think. And if I know anything at all about the editors of this country, there will be many of them laying in on the experimenters in Washington pretty heavily before many moons."

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—A declaration that the American people would reject attacks by the Republican National Committee on the Roosevelt administration came today from the Progressive Republicans organization.

"The attack just made by the Republican National Committee against the recovery program will be rejected," a statement from the Progressive Republicans said. "The utter failure of the reactionary Republicans to properly manage the country is all too fresh in the minds of the people."

"This group which failed so recently cannot with good grace attack the present administration which is at least making an honest attempt to do something on behalf of the people."

Norman Thomas Says NRA And AAA Lack Co-ordination And Hope in Them Is Waning

Advises Labor and Farmer to Unite Against Capitalistic Fascism—Thinks Swope's
Plan Means Rule by Big Business.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The trend in America, declared Norman Thomas last night, is more definitely than ever toward Fascism. The Socialist leader, who returned from a six weeks' tour of the Middle East, said the plan of Gerard Swope for self-control of regimented industry was a further evidence of this trend.

"Only the united opposition of labor and the agrarian areas can prevent the setup of a Fascist state," Thomas said. "With such unity behind him, President Roosevelt—if he is of a mind to do so—can thwart this final effort of the capitalist system to save itself."

Although he reported finding a steady lessening of confidence in the NRA and the AAA, Thomas said "the President still is as popular through the land as when he assumed office."

No Co-ordinating Unit.
Agricultural areas, Thomas said, "are in a quandary about what to expect from the Roosevelt administration. Their views reflect sharply the outstanding weakness in the President's program: the complete absence of any national co-ordinating unit. Economic planning for the nation as a whole is a necessity. But in Washington, we have none of it. This only adds to the general feeling of uncertainty about the future."

The farmer, the Socialist presidential candidate of 1932 said, "thinks the industrialist is getting the best of it under the Roosevelt program; the industrialist views with envy the subsidies given to farmers. The NRA and the AAA should have a co-ordinating element. Lack of it has damaged the Roosevelt program possibly beyond repair."

Pointing out that he and other Socialist leaders since the beginning of the 1932 campaign have been crying against the Fascist tendencies, Thomas declared the Swope plan "goes almost all the way toward the setting up of the equivalent of Mussolini's corporate state or possibly the Hitler totalitarian state, the chief difference being that in Italy and Germany the government at least nominally has principal power, whereas here the government's power (under the plan) is subordinate, or, at the most, a kind of veto power."

The C. of C. as the State.
"The Swope plan is the Chamber of Commerce of United States, which becomes in effect the state in governing our industrial life. Nowhere in the plan, Thomas said, is there any mention of direct representation of labor even in the boards for the mediation of labor disputes."

"If labor does not act promptly, if it does not gain the support of working farmers, we shall have virtually surrendered America to the government of big business, by big business and for big business. This is Fascism—the worst sort."

From his cross-continental tour, Thomas said he gained the belief that the farmer deems the gold purchase plan to raise prices a failure; that the growing demand for inflation in the West will bring action to this end from the next Congress, and that the NRA hopes to increase employment and wages have not materialized to any appreciable extent.

As to Socialism:
"I found a greater interest in Socialism than I did in the cross-country tours of the 1932 campaign."

Some Noted College Women.
In last night's well-balanced presentation, the naming of individual women, as products of the higher education, began when Miss Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., said:

"When we college presidents travel together, our conversation naturally drifts to our former students of whom we are most proud. So it was that I heard just today, that your young Dr. Margaret Smith, who demonstrated the presence of a virus in encephalitis, was from Mount Holyoke. It was not Miss Woolley (president of Mount Holyoke) who told me this, and I admire her more than ever that she was able to refrain from boasting of such a pupil."

Later in the program, Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president of Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., announced that he was going to call names. Those whom he named as representing the fruits of the higher education for women were:

"Among women of wealth and social prominence, Mrs. Ogden Reid, vice-president of the New York Herald-Tribune, and important factor in its management; the late Mrs. John Wood Blodgett, who made her home city, Grand Rapids, Mich., a safer place for mothers and babies, with the lowest infant mortality rate among cities; Mrs. Mary Harrison Rumsey of Washington and New York, who is giving her whole time to direction of the consumers' advisory division of NRA; Mrs. Dwight Morrow, whom her late husband's college, Amherst, honored with a degree; a remarkable wife and mother, and a poet besides."

"Mrs. Bonnell of Philadelphia, director of the Bureau of Occupations for Trained Women; Mrs. Atkinson of Minneapolis, leader in filling the Community Chest; and Prof. Esther Richards, mental hygiene worker of Johns-Hopkins University."

Dr. William Allan Neilson, Scotch-born president of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., presided at the dinner, being presented by Mrs. George Gellhorn, a Bryn Mawr graduate. He spoke chiefly of the finances of the seven women's colleges, the total endowment of which is about $36,000,000, and which have this year $300 students.

"We challenge the men's colleges to compare expense accounts," he said. "We can appeal for support, because we make good use of the money we get. Tuition fees cover a much greater part of our expenses than is the case in the men's colleges. In one of our colleges, as high as seven-eighths of the budget comes from tuitions. This is partly because we do not have such expensive research laboratories as the men's schools, but it is also due to careful management."

Dr. Neilson interrupted the announced course of the speaking program, at 9:30 p. m., to call on Lippmann, whose 30-minute address was broadcast, beginning then.

Lippmann's address was a scholarly plea for large financial support of "the higher education of women in colleges not financed by the State." He dwelt on the duty and opportunity of "millions" of Americans, "anyone with a little extra money is allowed to consider himself a millionaire—in fact, we go further and include all those who are going to be millionaires."

Asking the question, "Are there not more urgent needs than the needs of higher education?" Lippmann said no one would deny that "the relief of distress is the first claim on the wealth of America."

"The duty of providing the bulk higher learning, the speaker said seems to be conceded, but is not yet practically recognized, as shown by the fact that in 1932 about 30 times as much money was given to men's colleges as to women's colleges. "The inspired millionaires to whom we are opening up such great opportunities," he said, "will have to think up some good reason why they are entitled to the higher education, and why Mrs. Curie, Mrs. Edith Wharton and Miss Frances Perkins are not."

He then discussed the need for privately supported colleges for women, as distinguished from the tax-supported, co-educational State universities. "It is a question," he said, "of whether one believes that education should be a Government monopoly. We have insisted not only upon equality of opportunity, but upon diversity. We have clung to the principle of State's rights in education, and within the states have preserved local autonomy."

"The privately supported colleges and universities are particularly important to the preservation of our educational freedom. Some of them use their freedom to make experiments which a public monopoly could not make until success was assured. Some use their freedom to preserve ancient traditions which schools responsive to popular moods have, wisely or unwisely, abandoned. The conservative use of freedom, let us say to preserve the classics, and the progressive use of it to further the applied sciences, are both valuable."

Address by Mary Woolley.
President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., who at the age of 79 is senior member of the group, and who was an American delegate to the Geneva Disarmament Conference of 1932, spoke on "National and International Character of Our Colleges." She told of the distribution of the student body in the seven colleges, coming from most of the states and from 14 foreign countries. The contacts thus formed, she said, were important for American girls, and the foreign students

GERMAN ENVOY SAYS UNTERMYER CHARGE IS FALSE

Ambassador Luther Denies to Secretary of State Hull
That He Is Propagandizing in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Secretary of State Hull expressed to Ambassador Luther of Germany yesterday his "concern" at the public attack made on the Ambassador by Samuel Untermyer, New York attorney. The Ambassador denied to the Secretary of State that he was a Nazi propagandist, as Untermyer charged.

Dr. Luther denied Untermyer's allegation that German Government funds were being spent on Nazi propaganda in the United States, implicitly through the Ambassador.

Untermyer, in a speech before the American League for Defense of Jewish Rights, at Cleveland, O., was reported to have called Dr. Luther "One of the most destructive of propagandists" and to have said Germany had allotted $3,000,000 to propaganda, most of which was being spread in the United States.

Hull Issues Statement.
Dr. Luther saw Hull early in the day. He declined to disclose the subject of the conference and when asked by reporters to comment on Untermyer's speech, threw up his hands and shook his head. Several hours later the State Department issued this statement:

"The German Ambassador called on the Secretary of State this morning with reference to press reports of a speech made by Mr. Samuel Untermyer at Cleveland yesterday. Mr. Untermyer is quoted as having declared that Dr. Hans Luther is 'masquerading as the German Ambassador' and is 'one of the most destructive of propagandists.'"

"Also he is alleged to have stated money allocated to propaganda by the German Government was being spent in the United States, impliedly through the German Ambassador."

"Dr. Luther denied this latter allegation. The Secretary expressed his satisfaction at the Ambassador's statement, thanked him for bringing the matter to the department's attention, and expressed his concern that an Ambassador accredited to the Government of the United States should be subjected to a public attack of this nature."

Statement by Untermyer.

After Luther's denial and Hull's statement, Untermyer commented in New York:

"It seems well nigh incredible that Dr. Luther is so naive as not to know what is going on in this country in the way of far-flung, country-wide, Nazi propaganda. In this connection I call attention to the fact that this is not our first experience in the history of relations between the two countries

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles: that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never being to any party, always opposing privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely grilling news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Why Laundry Drivers Organized.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
After reading your two very good editorials on the laundry drivers' strike and Mr. Rauschkolb's answer, I would like to present the drivers' side of the case.

To begin with, the laundry drivers were not included in the laundry code. They were classified as outside salesmen. Mr. Rauschkolb erroneously states a small percentage of the drivers are represented in the union. Our figures show over 80 per cent are in the union.

Since 1930, we have had our wages cut 50 per cent and over, and have had more "charity" and "dead-head" work shoved on us. By "charity" and "dead-head" work, I mean work we had to do for which we were not paid, such as picking up and delivering hotel flat work and guests' bundles, agency or branch bundles, also oiling and greasing trucks and washing and polishing same.

The drivers are also responsible for all collections on C. O. D. bundles, and, in some cases, charge accounts. This means if the driver gives a customer credit and she does not pay him, the amount is held out of his pay or his bond. If the customer has a claim for lost or damaged articles and she refuses to pay him, and the laundry will not make the adjustment, that also is out of the driver's pocket.

At some of the laundries, the drivers cannot get access to their books in the office and must pay the amount charged to them at the end of the week, whether it agrees with their own bookkeeping or not.

Some of the laundries do not pay the driver's commission on charge accounts until the customers pay their bills. This means the driver must often wait two or three months to get paid and sometimes never gets it.

All of this for $18 to $20 a week. I leave it to the fair-minded public if it does not think we were justified in organizing.

TWELVE YEARS' EXPERIENCED DRIVER.

In Behalf of Laundry Owners.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In view of the present laundry situation in St. Louis, I feel that a word from one who has been a laundry worker for nearly 20 years might be appropriate. The laundry industry has been, as has been stated, steadily losing ground for the last three or more years. When one of the stockholders of the firm of which I am an employee made the statement that it had put large sums of money into the business lately in order to provide employment, I felt that the statement was very true.

JOS. K. HUNTER.

Pays Respects to G. O. P.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I BELIEVE this is an expression of an average American citizen, and if so, it should interest the Republican National Committee, whose sentiments regarding the Roosevelt administration occupied your front page.

The criticism is directed chiefly at Roosevelt's financial record, and the committee's criticism is supported by the undeniable fact that the President's efforts in this sphere have not been successful. But how can these Pharisees criticize his efforts to rescue the nation from the results of 12 years of unbroken rule by Republican high priests of special privilege?

What have they to offer except further subservience to the entrenched few who have acquired economic control of the country, and who now gnaw their lips in fury because the governmental control is slipping away from them? How can we know that their return to control of our Government would not result in another decade of more than 10,000 bank failures, which we had during their last regime?

Their criticism is intended to return Republicans to office by the old contemptible method of knocking their competitors for public office, since they can find no qualifying virtues within themselves.

But the old leaders still remain in control of the Republican party and by that sign the American people know the party remains unclean and unashamed. The old political sleight-of-hand tricks, the sham phrases in sham speeches, no longer avail an election. In grim resolution, we face a new day, with new ideas and ideals, wherein the old false leaders and their treachery shall have no part.

Roosevelt may not be re-elected, for his sincerity and high courage will not excuse him if he fails. But the Republican chambermaids of greed will not climb back to favor over his ruins. Out of that crisis a new political structure will rise. CHARLES J. SCHUSTER.

MR. CURLEE'S DEFENSE.

In his speech before the Cathedral Luncheon Club, Francis M. Curlee, attorney for men's clothing manufacturers, whose employees have been out on strike since Aug. 25, gave his version of the dispute. It seems that, but a few short months ago, the men's clothing manufacturers and their employees represented one big, happy family. Into this paradise stalked a serpent in the form of outside labor agitators, who persuaded a few of the employees to join the union. Most employees wanted to remain at work, but they were intimidated by this small minority and were forced to quit.

This certainly is a villainous proceeding. Unfortunately for Mr. Curlee, it does not tally with the facts. As to the one big, happy family, that is a matter of opinion. Our guess is that the happiness of the family had been somewhat clouded by the small wages its working members had been getting. In any event, the family showed a disconcerting willingness to dissolve, employers on one side, employees on the other.

These outside labor agitators to whom Mr. Curlee adverts consisted of one lone man, Hyman Schindler of Chicago, a tailor by trade. He came here on leave of absence from his work and, in the short period of two months, working single-handedly, was able to organize the men's clothing industry. Mr. Curlee says only a few employees joined Schindler. On the day of the strike, 1200 employees out of 1600 were registered with the union, according to the union's records. These 1200 employees are still members in good standing and are receiving strike benefits.

Mr. Curlee describes the controversy as a battle for markets. He says St. Louis, in order to retain its existence as a garment center, must have advantages to offset certain natural advantages enjoyed by New York and other centers. That, it seems to us, is a debatable point. So far as its own market is concerned, St. Louis has the advantage of proximity. While declaring that wages are not at issue, Mr. Curlee says St. Louis manufacturers must resist unionization in order to have "elbow room." He did not explain what he means by elbow room.

Despite Mr. Curlee's assertion, wages, if not an issue, certainly are involved in this strike. Under the stimulus of the strike agitation, wages have been increased. That alone shows they have played a part. Mr. Curlee, we daresay, fears they will play a further part. What he and the local garment manufacturers want is the privilege of underselling manufacturers in cities which are unionized. They want to remain rugged individualists, while the remainder of the country adjusts itself to the New Deal.

However, if Mr. Curlee is so convinced of the justice of his cause, why was he unwilling to lay his case before the front door of the Mediation Board, instead of using the back door? Why was he unwilling to present his case before the National Labor Board at Washington? Why does he not go before the Regional Board of Mediation, recently set up to hear such disputes, and permit arbitration of the dispute, with both sides present?

Under Section 7A of the NRA, the workers have the right to organize and bargain collectively. This the clothing manufacturers are resisting, and it is the core of the controversy. In his speech, Mr. Curlee studiously avoided discussion of Section 7A.

It is the view of the Post-Dispatch that Section 7A is the foundation stone of the NRA program, and upon it rest the chances of the program for success. This is because Section 7A is designed to bring about a better balance in the national economy. It is to end the lamentable condition by which the vast majority of our people live at or near the poverty level. This is why industry is held by its own petard. By keeping wages too low, American industry has destroyed its own market. It will never recapture that market until it gives labor a fairer share of the profits of industry.

Our sympathies, then, lie not with labor alone, or capital alone, but with the job of righting the whole national economy. Bitter as the lesson is, we must all learn it.

ANOTHER COMRADE.

Gerard Swope says business must clean itself up or the Government will, and Senator Couzens said the same thing a couple of years ago. So, no matter in what direction it looks, the esteemed Chicago Tribune is seeing "comrades," and Al Smith is wondering whether the flag of the Constitution has been hauled down, and Huey Long might speak a piece, too, if he could only be sure those Long Island gangsters wouldn't give him another playful scold on the jaw.

A PILGRIMAGE OF TOLERANCE.

Recent developments in Germany have brought the matter of racial and religious intolerance keenly to the fore throughout the world. Though our own country is dedicated in its Constitution to freedom of opinion and opportunity, the issue is beginning to be raised here by various small and irresponsible groups. Because it is felt the time is ripe for a demonstration of America's traditional tolerance, the National Conference of Jews and Christians has launched a novel plan. Three clergymen, representing the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, will make a tour of the country, conducting meetings, seminars and public forums, in which the ideas of unity among our varied population will be expressed and demonstrated.

The activities of these men, the Rev. Everett Ross of Cincinnati, the Rev. J. Elliot Ross and the Rev. Morris S. Lazarus, will not consist of rhetorical blessings upon inter-religious good will, but searching examinations of the facts and frank discussions of the realities. All parts of the country will hear these men present their message. It is well to recognize differences frankly, and to find a common ground for reconciling these differences for a common purpose. The pilgrimage of tolerance should be an effective way of counteracting the preachings of prejudice, and to bring new understanding to the people.

A PROPHETIC VOICE.

Interest centers in the three major candidates in New York City's mayoralty campaign, but this has not caused the Socialist candidate, Charles Solomon, to retire into silence. He has injected the cause of lower utility rates and public ownership into the contest, a matter that cannot fail to interest the thoughtful citizen, whatever its effect on the present race. New York consumers, says Mr. Solomon, pay about three times as much for electricity as those in Tacoma, Wash., and Toronto, Ontario, where municipal plants are operated. He presents specific figures: An annual bill of $36.60 in New York would shrink to $12 for the same amount of current in Tacoma, to $14.76 in Toronto, to $18 in the Muscle Shoals area, to $21.60 in Kansas City, Kan. Ergo, he offers public ownership of utilities as the logical solution.

We have previously called attention to the manner in which Socialist platform planks have been adopted and put in practice by the major parties. It requires little prophetic ability, in view of the nation-wide trend toward public ownership, to see that the public ownership plank is destined, before long, to be similarly appropriated.

"A DISGRACE TO THE CITY."

Medical and other authorities who comment on conditions at the city's Negro hospital are unanimous in their condemnation. Health Commissioner Thompson calls the place "a disgrace to the city." Dr. Oral S. McClellan, the hospital's superintendent, says it is a "makeshift and fire trap." Dr. Haven Emerson of New York, in a survey of St. Louis hospitals, stated: "Sanitary conditions for the animals at the zoo are better than those at the Negro hospital." Dr. Fred K. Slaughter, former-superintendent, said: "The death rate among our patients is appalling." A succession of grand juries has assailed the institution.

Among the deplorable facts brought out at the hearing this week was that children sent to the hospital for treatment of injuries frequently contract infectious diseases, due to the enforced mingling of patients, many of whom have tuberculosis. In fact, Tuberculosis Controller Spector partly attributes the alarming rate of this disease among St. Louis Negroes to the hospital situation. These comments describe no new condition, but refer to abuses that have existed for years. The hospital, with a capacity of 200, today has more than 500 patients, with a hopelessly long waiting list.

It is to remedy these shocking conditions that the transfer of $1,500,000 allotted in the 1923 bond issue to the northeast approach to the Municipal Bridge, a project since abandoned, will be sought at a special election Nov. 21. A new Negro hospital is being built, but the funds available will make possible only an institution of 300 beds. The $1,500,000 will enable expansion to 600-bed capacity, for which there is crying need.

It is a shameful condition that health facilities for 11 per cent of the city's people should be so wretched. The condition applies to more than the Negro community, but constitutes a source of infection for the entire city. No new expenditure is involved in the transfer proposal, but merely a timely use of bond issue funds already voted. Furthermore, it is likely the Government will grant money to meet part of the cost. The project, besides filling a humanitarian purpose, will provide public works employment at a time when it is sorely needed. Our citizens will be advancing the public interest if they vote two weeks from next Tuesday to end this "disgrace to the city."

An American gunman who robbed a bank in Canada has been tried, found guilty, given seven years and six months in prison, which he will serve, and 15 lashes for attempting to break jail, which he can verify by counting. Justice across the border may be a blind goddess but she's no easy mark.

ARMING THE LONDON POLICE.

For more than a century, London's "bobbies" have had a proud tradition of keeping the peace by the authority of clubs alone, without firearms. British visitors to this country have expressed polite amazement at finding our police carrying pistols, and have made the comparison a text for criticisms. That this British gallantry has been a bit quixotic, that all the sportsmanship has been on one side, is evident from the comment of Basil Thompson, London's former Assistant Commissioner of Police, who says: "This restraint has cost the lives of many fine policemen." Lord Trenchard, the present Commissioner, is a practical man. He now has armed every London detective with an automatic, and is preparing to equip his police similarly. Detectives are ordered to shoot to kill, both in self-defense and whenever a suspect does not surrender at the third challenge.

Police stations have had stores of arms in the past, but the men have seldom deigned to carry them. A wave of hold-ups and killings has caused the authorities to revise this policy, and they have decided to meet the underworld on its own ground. The criminal element scoffs at the traditional knightly attitude of the bobby, and bitter experience has brought home the lesson, as in this country, that society must be fully armed to put down the menace to its security.

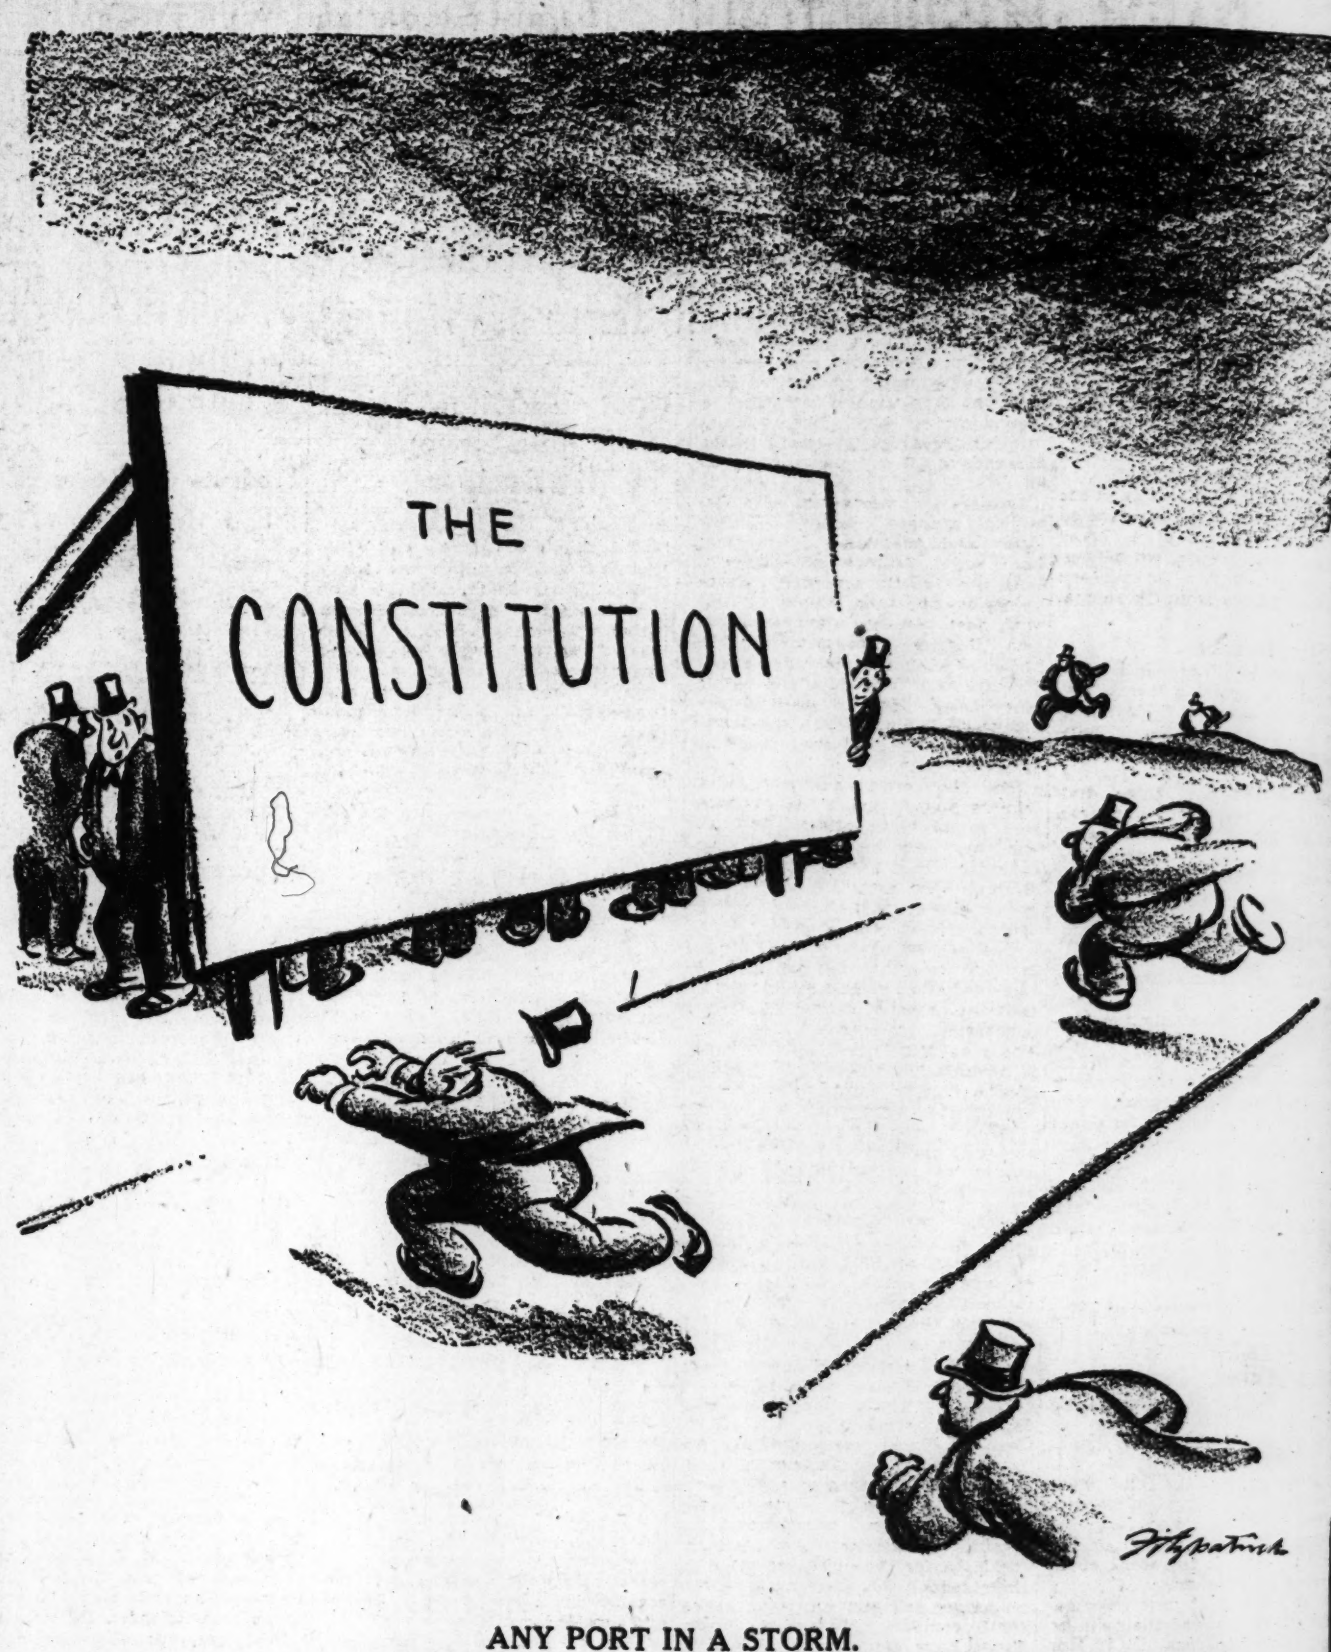

Mrs. Boole of the W. C. T. U. explains the repeal vote in simple language that even a college professor could understand. It has been accomplished, she says, by a corrupt collusion between the wets and the politicians. So if there's nothing more before the meeting a motion to adjourn will be entertained.

MR. WIGGIN, GUESSING CHAMPION.

The "success story" which Banker Wiggin is telling, in reluctant installments, to the Senate committee, is a gripping tale. Ethically, it may chill us to the marrow, but, practically, Albert was a wise homie, a lineal descendant of dapper Dan Dives himself, a traveler who knew his way about in the labyrinth of finance. Engagingly different, too. That episode of the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit Co.'s stock is really piquant. The year was 1932, and "scented, sweet, contented June" would presently trip in, in bridal veil and orange blossoms, and the board of directors would meet and, as everyone now knows, would pass the dividend. As it happened, Mr. Wiggin had sheafs of this stock. So did that family affair of his, the Shermer Corporation. Senior Wiggin and Junior Sherman both disposed of their stock at a handsome price.

Mr. Wiggin did not know the dividend would be passed, but he had a premonition. And well he might have had a premonition. For as chairman of the Chase Bank, to which the Transit company owed a lot of money, he felt the notes would not be renewed. And since he was also chairman of the Transit company's Finance Committee, at a salary of $20,000 a year, he might have suspected no dividend would entwine itself around that Brooklyn trolley. But suspicion is not knowledge, and neither is intuition, nor yet premonition. "It would be a guess. I wouldn't know," said Mr. Wiggin in explaining how he cleaned up and got out while still the sun was shining.

Honor to whom honor is due, let the chips fall where they may. As a guesser, Mr. Wiggin will please go to the head of the class. And if anyone wants to crown him—you may fire when ready, Gridley.

Distortion of the NRA

IN many parts of the country, there is a growing disposition to challenge the constitutionality of the NRA. There is, however, a more immediate question which needs to be considered first. That is, whether the administration of the NRA is in accordance with the spirit of the law that Congress voted in June. If any spirit of the law, because, not being a lawyer, I am not qualified to speak about legality. The question raised here is whether the policy of the NRA, as developed in practice, can be squared with the policy of the law, as enacted by Congress.

Let us pass by the general declaration in Section 1 and proceed at once to the sections of the act which describe the new powers dealing with codes. We find first, under Section 3A, that "upon application to the President by one or more industrial or trade associations or groups, the President may approve a code of fair competition" under certain conditions. Note that the language of this section seems to say that an industry may apply for a code and that its application may be granted if the code meets certain specifications. Thus the trade association must be representative. The code must not promote monopoly or oppress small enterprises. The code must safeguard the interests of consumers, competitors, employees.

Furthermore, under Section 7A, before the code can be approved, it must provide for collective bargaining by the employees "through representatives of their own choosing." If all these conditions are met, the industry is to be granted the privilege of exemption under the anti-trust laws until 1935, unless the President or Congress declare before that date that the emergency has ended.

Now, to a layman, all of this means just one thing: that Congress meant to allow industries to combine for two years, to enjoy the benefit of exemption from the anti-trust laws, provided they lived up to certain conditions. The initiative was to come from industry. Certain privileges were to be granted to industries if they made certain concessions and submitted to certain standards. I do not see how any other interpretation can be put upon this, the central part of the act. It seems to me clear that, for most industries, Congress meant that codes, under certain conditions, be permitted, and that codes should universally be imposed.

Let us look now at the rest of the act to see whether this view of it, that the intention of Congress was in the main to write a permissive law, is borne out by those sections which give the President power to coerce. Under Section 3D, the President, "upon his own motion or if complaint is made" that "abuses inimical to the public interest and contrary to the policy of Congress" are prevalent in an industry, may impose a code. Now, to a layman, this would seem to mean that a code may be imposed only after definite proof that great abuses exist. There is nothing here which suggests that codes may be imposed on every industry and without definite proof that they are required for that industry.

We come next to Section 4, which gives the President power to license members of an industry and therefore the power to destroy a business by refusing a license. The act says clearly that he may do this only when he finds and publicly proves that there are "destructive wage or price-cutting or other activities contrary to the policy" of the act.

To a layman, this would seem to mean that Congress intended to authorize a policy of this sort: For most industries, codes are permitted under certain conditions; for industries publicly demonstrated to be full of abuses, such as sweating or cutthroat competition, codes may be imposed by the President. I do not see how the act as a whole can be read so as to make it mean that codes may be imposed on all industries.

It seems to me that, when the administration adopted the method of moral coercion by means of the Blue Eagle and the boycott, when it attempted to force all industry under a blanket code and when it set out to impose special codes immediately on all industries, it departed from the spirit and intention of the National Industrial Recovery Act. The resort to moral coercion was tantamount to a confession that the legal power to carry out this policy did not exist.

What was the cause of the distortion of the intent of the act? Fundamentally, it was the theory that recovery could be promoted by advancing wages faster than production, a theory of recovery never yet successfully applied in any country, including Russia. The fallacy lay in the failure to realize that the main lack of purchasing power is not due to the rate of industrial wages among those employed but to the low prices of farm products and to want of investment in the heavy industries.

Holding to its fallacy, the administration seems to have felt morally justified in interpreting the act as a warrant to impose codes universally. It hoped by this means to create purchasing power. In no condition has purchasing power been created by this method, and it will not be. Along with this theory of recovery, there has been the vision of a new industrial order growing out of the codes. This is, in my opinion, a great vision. There has been a disposition in Washington to realize it in a rush. But its realization has, in fact, been profoundly endangered by the attempt to impose the new order suddenly from Washington, instead of permitting it to grow, and to guiding and controlling its growth. The long-term ideal is endangered for two reasons: first, because the misconception of the act has produced a policy which hinders recovery; second, because the excessive centralization and dictatorial spirit are producing a revulsion of feeling against bureaucratic control of American economic life.

The trouble, as I see it, is not in the act but in a mid-summer misconception of what should be its realization. It is not the act that ought to be attempted under the act. If this rough analysis is substantially correct, the administration ought, both in the interests of recovery and of the longer objectives of the New Deal, to revise and modify its procedure under the act. (Copyright, 1933.)

The Press and the Codes

From the New Republic.

NO regrettable propaganda campaign is more regrettable than that of the newspapers against signing a code under the NRA. The argument has been made that the press must be free, that the sort of license planned in Washington might infringe press freedom and that, therefore, in the name of liberty, the publishers must resist the wicked Gen. Johnson to the death. This is, of course, just a lot of highly polished hokey.

What Washington proposes has nothing to do with freedom of the press, and the administration has in general been scrupulously careful to avoid any suggestion of censorship. Moreover, if the Roosevelt administration should decide to bring pressure on the publishers, it would not do so by means of licenses under the NRA. It would take much more subtle, and more effective, methods.

What the publishers really object to is the code is exactly what other business men have objected to. They want to continue to work their employees for what are, in many instances, shockingly long hours of shockingly low wages. Of particular importance is the fact that they want to continue to use children to deliver and deliver papers under conditions which are often as desirable in the extreme.

Some papers are now waging a propaganda in regard to this last point, of which they ought to be heartily ashamed. They are using advertising space for this, and other methods. For instance, the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times are furnishing to their delivery boys copies of a form letter, to be signed by their patrons and mailed to Gen. Johnson. This letter seriously misstates the terms of the newspaper code, making it appear much more drastic than it is.

Shoddy activity of this sort is not the right course for the newspapers to follow to gain public sympathy for their plea of "the liberty of speech" is endangered.

PRAISE BY A REPUBLICAN JOURNAL

From the Empress (Knox) Gazette.

AFTER seven months in the White House, Franklin Roosevelt is still going strong. A seven-month honeymoon after inauguration is an unusually protracted period of bliss for any President. But for a President to be able to survive almost unopposed the hearts of his countrymen during a time of turmoil and catastrophe indicates that the man has unusual qualities.

President Roosevelt is making good. He is running this Government in the interest of the common man. President Roosevelt has surrounded himself with broad-minded clear-sighted men. Most of his advisers know little politics. For the most part, they are patriots rather than partisans. Step by step, he has walked through this depression with a firm purpose toward a definite solution of the perplexing problems that have come upon mankind.

It may not be the right way. He may not win. The forces at work to wreck the capitalist world seem to be still operating and still undefeated. But Americans have the only leader in the world who is trying honestly, bravely, intelligently to get at the heart of the problem. He may fail, and in his failure go down in the obloquy which overcomes statesmen who make the wrong guess and take a misstep. But now, late October, 1933, Franklin Roosevelt has made a firm record. He has continued his enemies. And probably has astounded his friends.

'THE DEVIL PASSES' AT LITTLE THEATER

Two New Players in Leading Roles at Season's Opening Performance.

As the first play of their seventh season, the Little Theater last night presented Benn Levy's unusual romantic comedy, "The Devil Passes." It introduced two performers of unusual merit who had not previously appeared with this company. It was the first production here directed by F. Cowles Strickland, who recently directed plays in Boston and Stockbridge, Mass.

"The Devil Passes," given last year in New York, is unusual not only in its technique, but also in that it has a mission—and a mission which is opposed to the dominant tendencies of the post-war stage. The central theme is that, despite any professions of egotistical philosophy which men make make, they will subordinate them to high ideals when actually put to the test.

In this case the test is the enticement of the devil, "God's advertising man," in the shape of the Rev. Nicholas Lucy. By means of a hardened picture and his mistress, an anti-religious parson and a group of artists, to reveal their "heart's desires." Then he proceeds to put these desires within their reach, in order to disclose the latent altruism which dominates the subconscious mind of each.

Robert Tiegan, who played the reverend devil, and Ann Peck, who was cast as the mistress, distinguished themselves especially.

The crucial scene during which the game of "Truth" is played was given a skillfully arranged background and effective lighting, which contributed to the effect.

The play itself was not simple to put on. "The Devil Passes" is always on the verge of becoming maudlin in its moralism. The Devil is lugged in by the heels at every opportunity. The anti-realism of the play is buttressed by cynical pleasantries which are sometimes clever, and often very thin. This sprinkling of epigrams and a scattering of cultured references to the arts are combined with a cold shower of moral platitudes, which makes a combination that is bound to be difficult to digest. And although the cast at the Little Theater was capable of making the main thesis perfectly clear (too clear, perhaps), the muddle of subordinate notions remained a muddle when the curtain fell.

"The Devil Passes" plays to its Little Theater member audience tonight and tomorrow. From next Monday through Saturday night the performances are given to the public.

The guild presented the play, "Porgy," on Broadway in 1927, where it ran for more than 500 performances, and later 300 performances on tour. It also had a successful run in London with its original cast.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

At an elaborate tea given this afternoon at her parents' home, Miss Katherine Hillman James, 6425 Wydown boulevard, was introduced to society. Autumn and winter colors of yellow and red predominated in the reception rooms, and the fruit motif, instead of the usual flowers, was stressed.

There were two tea tables. One in the dining room was adorned with a large mound of natural fruit, golden, and piled high in the center, where it touched bunches of golden grapes depending from the low hung ceiling chandelier.

Punch was served in the sun-room, which was decorated with smilax and flowers. From this room an entrance was provided to a canvas marquee built adjoining the house, to give additional reception space. The room was illuminated with indirect lighting. Clusters of grape tinted balloons depended from the ceiling and smilax covered walls and hung in the windows. Here a second tea table was set. The centerpiece was also of fruit and there were lighted golden candles.

Mrs. James, her daughter and her sister, Mrs. Charles H. Hillman of Nashville, Tenn., who arrived here several days ago to be their guest, received from 4 to 6 o'clock in the living room surrounded by clusters and baskets of blossoms in which the guests were made to harmonize with the red draperies. Miss James was wearing a black crepe trimmed with a white lace collar, and wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Hillman's gown was in black and white with touches of sequins. About 400 guests called during the receiving hour.

Mrs. Charles Parsons Pettus, 33 Westmoreland place, who has been visiting her brother, Thurston Wright, in Pittsburgh, has gone to New York where she has been joined at the St. Regis Hotel by her daughter, Miss Martha Pettus. Since her return from Europe this summer Miss Pettus has spent much of her time in Hot Springs, Va., as the guest of Miss Ellen Bates, with whom she traveled. Miss Bates is with her aunt, Mrs. William Maffitt, 4315 Westminster place, at her summer home. She motored to New York with Miss Bates.

Mr. Wright's home in Pittsburgh adjoins the Rolling Rock Club which was organized by Andrew W. and Richard Mellon. Richard Mellon Jr., who came to St. Louis for the Bridgeport Hunt Club sleigh-chase races recently is master of the fox hounds.

Mrs. George M. von Schrader of Edmondson road has taken an apartment at the Park Plaza for the winter.

Cards were received yesterday from Mrs. Edward Walsh, 4341 Westminster place, for a reception at her home Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 15, to meet her debutante granddaughter, Miss Julia Walsh, daughter of Mrs. Edward J. Walsh, 4349 Westminster place, and Miss Delphine Polk, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Julius Polk, 23 Westmoreland place.

Cards have also been received from Mrs. Adrian Frazier, 6601 Waterman avenue, for a debutante luncheon to be given at the St. Louis Woman's Club, Thursday, Nov. 16, in honor of Miss Dorothy Leggett, daughter of Mrs. James A. McVoy, 20 Westmoreland place, and Miss Jane Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyd Armstrong, Mosley and Ladue roads.

Miss Katherine Hillman James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank James, who will be presented to society this afternoon at a tea at her parents' home, was the guest of honor at a party given Wednesday night at the Odeon when Eida Vettori sang a concert. The hostess was Mrs. J. H. Robie. The guests, in addition to Miss James, were Miss Laura Gray, Miss Elizabeth von Phul Keeler, Miss Frank James Jr., Austin P. Leland and William S. McChesney II.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Stegall of the St. Regis apartments returned home yesterday from a visit in Chicago.

On Trial in Mary McElroy Kidnaping

GEORGE MCGEE

IN court at Kansas City, Mo., yesterday conferring with MISS LILLIE KNIGHT, one of his counsel. Walter McGee, brother of George, was convicted and sentenced to death in the same case.

STORY OF CONFESSION TO BE TOLD IN KIDNAPING TRIAL

Court Rules Against George McGee in McElroy Case at Kansas City.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 3.—William Simpson, one of the officers who helped return George McGee to Kansas City from Virginia, will be permitted to describe McGee's purported confession to implicate in the kidnaping of Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of City Manager H. F. McElroy, Judge Emory Wright ruled today.

Simpson was called to the stand late yesterday by the prosecution, but Defense Counsel Ralph T. Harding entered objection, charging his client had suffered brutality at the hands of the officers and that they should not be allowed to testify concerning McGee's purported confession.

Judge Wright, in overruling his objection, stated he was willing to hear evidence of police brutality. The jury remained locked in its quarters today while Harding presented testimony in an effort to substantiate his charges. Howard E. Wilson, who was arrested with McGee and returned to Kansas City for investigation, under questioning by Harding, testified that, prior to McGee's arrest, he had been drinking and, exhausting his supply of liquor, he had taken some drug tablets as a substitute. He still was under the influence of the tablets, Wilson said, when he was arrested and made his purported confession.

By the Associated Press. CAMDEN, Ark., Nov. 3.—Six indictments charging Lawrence E. Wilson, former Lieutenant-Governor, with embezzlement were dismissed yesterday in Circuit Court. Wilson was acquitted Tuesday of another charge of embezzlement in connection with the liquidation of the Peoples Bank of Stephens.

when they were at peace and strange things happen.

"Dr. Luther may recall that Capt. Boylston, Capt. von Papen and Dr. Albert, all of whom at the time were members of the German Embassy, as well as Mr. Dumba, the then Ambassador from Austria, were invited summarily to leave the country because of their abuse of our hospitality.

"We are hoping and expecting that there will be an official, public investigation by a committee of Congress at which we shall learn something of the extent to which this vast country-wide propaganda is being financed by German money.

"Meantime, there is a Federal grand jury investigation under way in this city, and the House Committee on Immigration is about to start hearings at which it is expected that the country will learn considerably of which Dr. Luther does not seem to be aware."

CO-RECEIVER'S PLEA FOR MORE PAY REFUSED BY JUDGE

William H. Leyhe Told He Can Resign If Not Satisfied.

The plea of William H. Leyhe, a lawyer, for additional compensation for serving as co-receiver of the Louis Maull Co., 215 North Market street, wholesale grocery concern, was denied by Circuit Judge Calhoun today.

Leyhe, appointed last Nov. 12 by Circuit Judge Hall to serve as co-receiver with Louis Maull, president of the company, has been receiving $100 a month. Maull has been getting $200. In requesting more pay, Leyhe told Judge Calhoun "it was understood by all parties that this $100 a month was just partial compensation."

"The decree states $100 a month," Judge Calhoun retorted, after reading it. "If you are not satisfied, you can resign. I don't believe in co-receivers anyway. In most cases they don't do anything."

ALLEGED JEWELRY THIEF SENT TO BALTIMORE FOR TRIAL

Man Caught After Seven Years, Leaves St. Louis Wearing "Oregon Boot."

William Malcolm Ritchey, arrested at Hotel Jefferson Oct. 8 after having been sought for seven years in connection with jewelry robberies in various parts of the country, started today under guard for Baltimore, to face an indictment charging him with the theft of $20,000 in jewelry in 1926.

As a result of a remark to prisoners in City Jail that he would "take care of myself as soon as I get my feet in the bricks," the prisoner wore an "Oregon boot," a device which makes it impossible for him to run without tripping. He was guarded by a St. Louis detective, a Pennsylvania railroad special agent and United States Marshal Elton.

The Baltimore indictment charges he obtained the sample trunk of a jewelry salesman in the baggage room of the Pennsylvania Railroad by substituting a forged baggage check on which he held the duplicate, having it sent to another destination. He also was accused in nine other cities for jewelry thefts carried out in the same manner.

In his room here, police found two revolvers, an automatic pistol, skeleton keys and about 800 bogus baggage checks. Ritchey served a prison term in New Jersey in 1925 for a jewelry robbery.

STOCKS RISE FOLLOWING ADVANCE IN WHEAT PRICE

Active Buying in Late Market Brings About Net Gains of 1 to 3 Points in Numerous Issues.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Active buying swept through the stock market, on the heels of an upturn in Chicago wheat, in the late trading today. Net gains of 1 to 3 points were numerous at the finish, and transfers approximated 1,300,000 shares.

The list was wobbly in the earlier hours of trading, with nonferrous metals sagging under the weight of profit-taking, but the sold-out appearance of the market prompted bullish sentiment in the afternoon, and the list moved up easily.

The action of shares was in contrast to gilt-edged bonds, which developed rather pronounced heaviness.

Gains of 2 to more than 3 points appeared in U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Case, Union Pacific, Consolidated Gas, du Pont, Western Union, Delaware and Hudson, Liggett & Myers, B. K. McKesson, National Distillers, New York Central, Chrysler, United Aircraft and Westinghouse. General Motors was up more than a point. Socoy-Vacuum rose 1 on resumption of dividends. Extreme losses of about 3 points were suffered by American Smelting and Refining, and by the latter.

Wheat pushed up 1 1/2 to 2 cents a bushel at Chicago, and corn about as much. Wheat was helped by strength of foreign markets, and expectations of developments from the farm states' Governors' Washington conference. Cotton advanced but moderately, closing 30 to 40 cents a bale higher.

The dollar failed rather emphatically to follow the higher gold price in Washington, and at one time actually advanced a little against gold currencies. It then subsided a little. By late afternoon, however, the French franc was up only 0.1% of a cent to 60 1/2 cents, and sterling up a cent to 48 1/2 cents.

The News of Day.

Further agitation for sound money and a return to the gold standard, in the form of a resolution of the New York State Chamber of Commerce, attracted much attention in financial quarters.

Announcement was made of substantial loans from the Government for railway equipment purchases. This week's exchange of the movement of revenue freight showed a drop of 13,808 cars, however, was 19,390 above the like week of last year.

Dun & Bradstreet found business again hesitant this week, but said actual recessions were being held to narrow limits.

Monetary News.

The RFC gave its gold price the relatively sharp drop of 1/2 cent to $32.57 an ounce, but it developed that foreign purchases will be made steady.

The decline in the dollar in foreign exchange markets slackened at the start today. Sterling was down 1/4 of a cent to $4.84, and the French franc, advanced but 1/4 points to 60 1/2 cents, which was a little under yesterday's high.

The weekly statement showed the Federal Reserve System's open market purchases of U. S. Government's had slumped to $20,000,000 from the recently weekly average of $35,000,000. Money in circulation was $12,100,000,000, reflecting turn-of-the-month requirements. New York City member banks reported a rise of $152,000,000 in their loans and investments, of which $80,000,000 was in U. S. Government securities, evidently reflecting the taking up of the new treasury bond issue.

THE dollar drops again. Late "money news." United States is buying from France, paying the price, above $32 an ounce. Frenchmen were shipping gold New York to Paris in neat kegs, tons of it, when it so $20 an ounce. Also, the United States may issue $11,000,000 in silver notes.

That would be better than $11,000,000 more Government on which taxpayers would pay interest.

THE dollar drops again. Late "money news." The United States is buying gold from France, paying the new high price, above $32 an ounce. Wise Frenchmen were shipping gold from New York to Paris in neat little kegs, tons of it, when it sold for $20 an ounce.

Also, the United States may soon issue $11,000,000 in silver certificates.

That would be better than issuing $11,000,000 more Government bonds on which taxpayers would pay interest.

Some day this country will realize that the Government's promise to pay is just as good on a piece of green paper as it is on a piece of yellow paper, the green paper having the advantage of NOT paying interest and increasing taxes.

Edmund Schulthess, president of the Swiss Republic, wise man, says the Swiss kept out of the big war, no fighting Powers daring to trespass on Swiss soil. All knew that every Swiss under 50 is trained, armed, ready to fight for his country.

Switzerland will now spend what may be necessary to protect her borders, believing that if war comes Germany will try to go through Switzerland this time as she went through Belgium last time, because of recent Belgian and French frontier fortifications.

Through Switzerland the German army might "turn the French flank" and connect with Italian allies. Germany expected to connect with Italian allies last time, but the Italian allies were not there.

The best defense for Switzerland might be one good squad of powerful bombing and racing airplanes, and the statement "we shall at once destroy the biggest city of any nation that sets hostile foot on Swiss soil."

Yesterday, old Jerusalem, that once depended on a great wall around the little city, learned that the airplane is here and works. A great crowd of Arabs, moving to join a demonstration against the coming-in of Jews, was dispersed first by one low flying airplane.

That roaring just overhead is disconcerting. While Germany with Capt. Eckener and his Zeppelin shows how easy it is to fly from Germany to South America and from South America to Chicago and back to Germany by dirigible, the British are pushing their heavier-than-air passenger and mail line across the Atlantic to the United States with a base at Newfoundland.

The route would be Liverpool to Northern Scotland, Iceland, Greenland, Labrador, Montreal and other American and Canadian cities. This country that invented the flying machine sits, watches and "who's afraid of the big bad wolf?" That is a better song for three little pigs than for 48 big states.

Men have been a long time on this earth, but are still amazed by its weather. Washington, Pa., reports frogs croaking in November, first time in 60 years, and pussy-willows budding.

Last Tuesday was the hottest October 31 that New York City has ever seen. Sun spots have something to do with it, and what happens behind the sun-spots also, so the wise men tell you. But just what happens, they don't say.

The Government is expected to tax whisky made abroad five dollars a gallon more than the same products made at home, and that, it is thought, should encourage the home products. Why allow foreign whisky to come in on any terms? Why not let Americans that drink whisky drink the kinds made of grain raised by Americans, employing American labor? Whisky is whisky, and for those that think they must have "Scotch" a smoky taste could easily be provided. Beer and whisky used here should pay revenue to this country only, wages to working men in this country only, and be made of grain from American farms only.

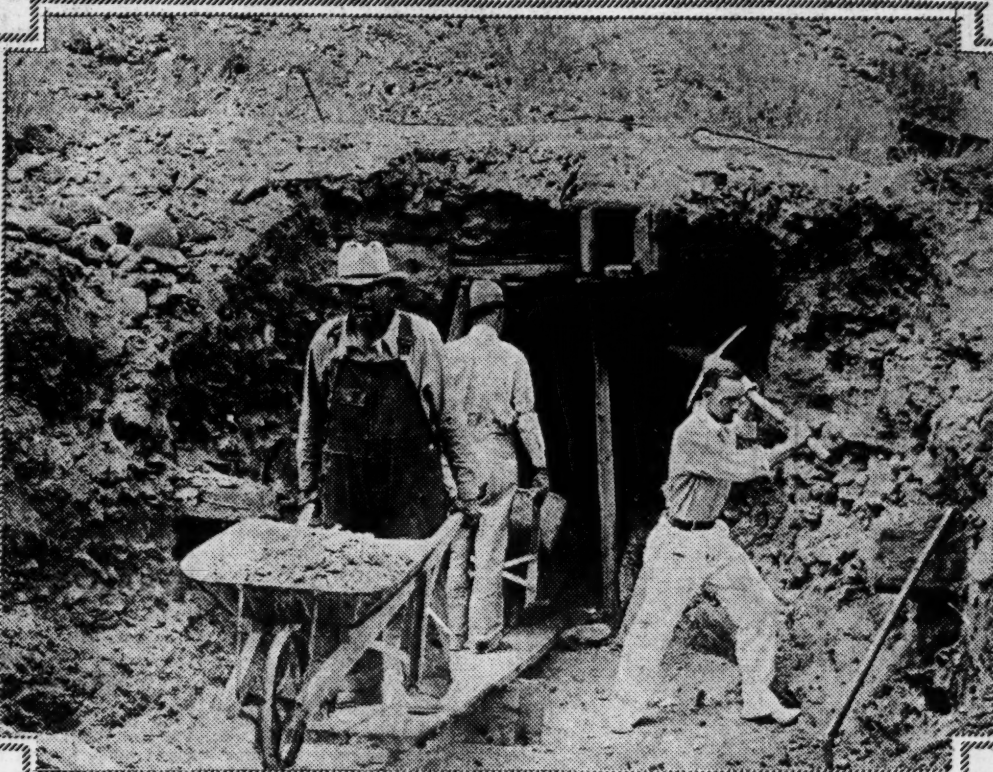

Stock Exchange seats dropped from about $500,000 each to one-tenth of that price, when the bottom dropped out in 1929. Then when hope again began to "spring eternal," they suddenly bounded up to $250,000. Now they drop back to $36,000. Human nature, including fondness for speculation, does not change in one generation or in 10. A seat on the Stock Exchange, with its small membership, will be worth in future twice its highest price on record, with fairly intelligent Stock Exchange management.

Deserted mines throughout the canyons of Colorado are being worked again because of the high price the Government is paying for newly mined metal. ### Give the Kids a Hand!

NOWADAYS people say I'm a fine woman. They say I'm sensible, industrious, honest and kind. BUT THEY DIDN'T ALWAYS SAY IT. TIME WAS WHEN THEY SAID I WAS A PERFECT SAPI.

Along back in my teens, people used to be mighty sorry for my mother and dad. They said they didn't see how two such fine people could have such a worthless brat. They said I fibbed. Which I did. I was almost too way to breathe. Which I was. They said I didn't have an ounce of respect in me—that I was impudent and scatter-brained and selfish and silly. All of which was true.

AND YET ALL THE TIME I ALSO KNEW I WAS A GOOD GUY! Actually, I didn't like myself any better than they liked me—I was as tangled up with myself—I mortified and double-crossed myself constantly. Yet I knew that behind all this turmoil and confusion there was a REALLY WORTH-WHILE ME. And although I disliked myself and often despised of myself, I REALLY BELIEVED IN MYSELF.

I was sure that the time would come when I wouldn't fib to raise Cain, when I wouldn't be lazy and silly and impudent—WHEN I'D BE THE REALLY FINE PERSON I KNEW I WAS MEANT TO BE.

It came, because, in spite of countless failures and failures, I believed in myself. AND I AM SURE THAT IF OTHER PEOPLE HAD BELIEVED IN ME AS MUCH AS I BELIEVED IN MYSELF THAT DAY WOULD HAVE COME MUCH SOONER.

I often think of that when I hear people criticizing the youngsters of today. I see myself so clearly mirrored in these youngsters. I see all my silliness, selfishness and smartness—

I see how these qualities irritate older people. But, remembering back, I recall how those same qualities in myself irritated and discouraged me! And I know that these youngsters, in spite of their bragadocio, ARE IRRITATED AND DISCOURAGED WITH THEMSELVES JUST AS I WAS.

I feel the confusion that lies behind their hard, young smartness—the dreams that waver behind their derision. AND I KNOW THAT THESE YOUNG PEOPLE, IN THE FACE OF THEIR OWN FURY AND FALTERING, STILL BELIEVE IN THEMSELVES. . . . AND THAT FAITH IS JUSTIFIED.

For every human that was ever worth shucks went through just what they are going through. Look as I said, before what happened to me. If there was a hopeless mess, I was it, and yet I'm drawing regular wages today. MIGOSH! IF LIFE COULD MAKE A RESPECTABLE CITIZEN OUT OF ME, THEN ANYONE HAS A CHANCE. AND I'M ALL FOR GIVING THE KIDS A HAND!

WHAT IS ELASTICITY?

Elasticity is the ability of matter to resume its original shape and size after the external strain which caused its deformation has been removed. Various materials differ in their ability to undergo deformation without breaking, and upon this ability depend their elastic rating. Rubber which is popularly considered very elastic, rates very low in the list of elastic materials and ivory and glass exceed it greatly in elastic power, while high-grade steel ranks supreme in this respect.

IN HOLLYWOOD--With Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 2

THE picturesque, glamorous life of Lola Montez, adventures, will be screened with Greta Garbo as the girl who vamped a King of Bavaria. Metro-Goldwyn Mayer has purchased the screen rights of "The Heavenly Sinner" by T. Everett Harre, which gives a complete account of Lola's marriages, romances and career as a dancer. The story of the dazzling Lola, who numbered among her marriages one with a San Francisco editor, is now running in the Hearst evening papers. Plenty of atmosphere both here and abroad for "The Heavenly Sinner" and MGM plans to utilize it. With Garbo as Lola it's a natural.

One of the most prolific writers I know is Faith Baldwin by the yard. Furthermore, she sells them by the yard to screen studios who seem to grab greedily at anything the lady writes. Radio has just purchased her latest yarn, "District Nurse," which is the story of a young nurse who falls in love but is persuaded by her mother to forget romance. Irene Dunne, who has been visiting in the East with her husband, is due to return home almost any day now, to discuss her role of nurse.

You may credit young Billy Fluke and his partner, Count Carpegna, with rare discrimination. These two newcomers in the film business have gone and signed Paul Robeson to play in "Dark Surender" by Donald Kirkbride. Robeson covered himself with glory and praise for his screen work in "Emperor Jones" and "The Sign of the Cross" and is now heading for North Carolina to get the correct atmosphere and cotton fields.

Perennially "Marie" Gallant, Jacques Duval's romantic and daring play, comes up on the carpet at Fox studio. It has been discussed for Clara Bow, mentioned for Lillian Harvey, and kept on ice for dozens of other prospects only to be postponed. Winfield Sheehan now has his Marie Gallant and he is bringing her over from England. Her name is Kitty Gallant and she is a French actress.

I am afraid the name Helen Westley doesn't mean much in Hollywood. In New York, where Miss Westley is a Theater Guild director and an actress to conjure with, she is pretty much of a power. She comes to Hollywood to play Sephanie in "Death Takes a Holiday."

If Jean Muir is half as good as Hal Wallis says she is, she is pretty apt to be a screen sensation. Little Miss Muir, who a year ago had never faced a camera, is being given the important post of Richard Barthelmess' leading lady in "A Modern Hero," that is, she shares honors with Margaret Lindsay who plays Barthelmess' wife. Imagine our surprise to walk into Cary Grant and a Virginia Virginia Cherrill at Warner Brothers' Beverly Hills Theater. We had pictured

Can it be true that the elusive bachelor, Gary Cooper, is about to become a benedict? A little busy bird who knows all and sees all says that very shortly the engagement of Hollywood's most famous bachelor and the statuesque Sandra Shaw will be announced. Miss Shaw, who is very beautiful, is the niece of Cedric Gibbons, husband of the lovely Dolores Del Rio.

Five-pound chicken.
One-third cup flour.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon paprika.
One-fourth teaspoon celery salt.
Two tablespoons bacon, cut fine.
Four tablespoons butter.
Carefully wash and clean chicken and cut into serving pieces. Rinse in several cold waters. Let drip dry. Sprinkle the chicken with the flour and add the salt, paprika and celery salt. Fit chicken into buttered baking pan. Sprinkle with chopped bacon and dot with butter. Cover and bake 15 minutes in moderate oven. Add one cup of water and cook

When in Doubt, Don't Double

PLAYERS who make the opportunity to play a few sessions against some of the top flight tournament stars, and to whom this is a new experience, quite often commit themselves on the fact that they are allowed to play so many unsuccessful high contracts undoubled, while their big reverses come when low contracts are doubled, usually unexpectedly.

A fine player is careful not to HAL SIMS help you by doubling a high contract when he has observed that your bidding is methodical and reasonably well coordinated. If he has the high cards that may cause you trouble, a double by him will locate them for you and tell you how to play the hand; further, it will, in many cases, inform you that he may be subjected to a squeeze, so that you now will substitute a successful squeeze for the finesse or finesses which, had he not doubled would have seemed to you to be the natural, straightforward way of playing the hand.

Warned that the finesses will almost surely fail, you are, to your salvation, compelled to find a less natural way of achieving your purpose. If declarer is vulnerable and an opponent feels quite sure of setting the contract one and has some hopes of setting it two, he actually gains by not doubling, as a set of two undoubled will cost you 250, while one down doubled is only 200. It is more likely than not that the double would show you how to play the hand so as to be set only one trick.

An Instance From Actual Play.

♠ A x x	♥ K x
♦ A x x	♠ J 10 9 x
♣ A x	♥ J 9 8 x
♠ A K J x x	♦ x x x
♠ J 10 9 x	♠ K x
♥ x x	♥ J 10 9 x
♦ x x x x	♦ x x x
♣ 10 x	♣ x x x

South became declarer at six no trumps—the hand was really slightly overbid. North opened with a club, not having a no-trump type of hand despite his four aces. Two no trumps, somewhat exuberantly, by South, six no trumps by North, judging that South must have at least two kings and a galaxy of queens and jacks in order to have bid two no trumps without an ace. I think four no trumps would have been a wiser bid, allowing South a little latitude. However, all was well because it ended well. East doubled the no-trump slam, digging his own grave.

The Play.

West right opened spades, and East's king won. He returned that suit and South realized that the double marked the king of diamonds in East's hand, so that this finesse would lose. However, if East also had held a stopper in hearts, as seemed likely from the double, that could only consist of four to the jack; therefore, he might be squeezed.

Declarer took in the third round of spades, then the ace of diamonds, then five clubs. When North had led the last club, the cards left in his hands were A x x of hearts and the small diamond. East has to discard from his four hearts and the king of diamonds. South holds his original four hearts and the queen of diamonds. Discarding after East, he cannot fail to win the remaining tricks. Six no trumps doubled, made because doubled. But for the double, South would have staked the hand on the diamond finesse—no worse than an even chance, while squeeze possibilities looked to be ten to one. The double showed that the finesse was almost ten to one, while the squeeze, assuming that East had doubled on what he considered protection in three suits, looked up as a better than even chance. Jack high protection, even J 10 9 8, is actually a liability when you double six no trumps unless you are doubling on your partner's hand. You cannot expect to protect three suits yourself with the discard problem in immediate view. You will be squeezed or end-played. Trap the declarer by passing.

Tomorrow—Triple Bales.

Walter Winchell On Broadway

MAN ABOUT TOWN.

THE SENATOR WILLIAM G. M'ADDOOS will make it a definite reconciliation. The Walter Wangers (Justine Johnston) are seriously talking over one of their surprises. Walter Hagen, the golf ace, and Peggy Joyce are sighing in unison. Florence Rice, who shelved Owen Davis Jr. for Philip Holmes, is arm-in-arming it with the playwright's boy again. The Alfred Smith Jr. situation which was retarded because of their faith will be settled in the near future, anyhow, with Mrs. Smith bringing the action. William V. Dwyer's daughter Muriel will be merged to the late Judge Kelly's son on Nov. 9th. The Baron and Baroness Von Bonebergs will tell it to a Chicago judge. Her action is unique—Nazi trouble. The Baroness, incidentally, will attempt to stop the book "Scandal House" because, she alleges, it concerns her. Arthur Johnston, the lyricist, is New York bound from the coast to wed Loretta Sayres he says. What!

Courtney Burr got $76,000 for the chin-ema rights to "Sailor, Beware!" from Paramount, but how they are going to screen that one is beyond most of us. The only movie house in Warrenton, Virginia, is owned by Mrs. Jock Whitney. Herbert Bayard Swope is the favored man for the post of Ambassador to the Soviet, if recognition goes through. Samuel Untermyer, who upset the McKee machinery, tells his intimates that he has equally damaging evidence against Fiorello.

The lowdown on Detective Fiaschetti's hunt for the long absent Judge Crater is that the insurance firm which must pay Mrs. Crater a sugary sum is convinced the judge is alive and is trying to save all that coin. Mrs. Horace Dodge will grant him that divorce for a mere five million smackers—which he asserts he hasn't. Leah Ray, the canary with the Phil Harris crew, and Martin Lewis, editor of Radio Guide, are putting it in writing.

Recommended to diversion seekers: Stanley Walker's "The Night Club Era" (due Nov. 9th) — an entertaining lowdown on locals. "Here We Are" from Dorothy Parker's "After Such Pleasures" (gab between newswomen and the headliner). Any of Jack Benny's radio routines. "Heat Wave" from "As Thousands Cheer" a swiny-thingy. The first rate cast and Paul Muni in "The World Changes" one of the better kodak shows.

Little Jack Little says that Henry Ford's motto appears to be: "Hear No Eagle, See No Eagle, Speak No Eagle." Those frequent sallying spells of the President are due to sinus trouble. William Gaston doesn't even know the June Parks, the chatterbox asserted was the headliner. Sander Rameau, the show girl who went to Monte Carlo, will return as an Indian princess of Nepal. Julius, who once owned the best known speakeasy in lower Manhattan, is now a waiter at the Ha-Ha Club. "Picture Parade" a new mag due in January, containing only photos of screen players and reviews, will be distributed gratis to "select people" by the Western Union messengers. That gab about Hunk Anderson being ousted from Notre Dame, and that Kizer of Purdue would succeed him, is squelched by insiders, who figure the post will go to Elmer Laydon, Duquesne coach. He was one of the Four Horsemen and has Rockne's system perfected. Robert Young, an ermine wrap.

mooned at the Embassy—instead of in Washington. "Patsy" Boland, of the Hollywood ensemble, is in a seafaring condition at the Forrest, after a major operation. The reason Anita Page didn't appear on that furrier program as listed is that they offered a silver fox and she wanted an ermine wrap. Add new vogues: At Pauline Turner's fashion show at the Waldorf Wednesday the bride and bridesmaids will be gowned in black.

ANITA PAGE... wanted an ermine wrap.

Dear Mrs. Post: Your answer to "How long may a widow wear her wedding ring?" is "For life or until she becomes engaged to another." Why should I wear my wedding ring since my marriage was dissolved by the death of my husband? I should wear my wedding ring until I am remarried. I am separated from my husband because of circumstances; she is separated only because of mutual agreement.

Answer: Whether you wear your ring or not is a matter of your own preference. There is no reason why you should wear it if it means nothing to you. My answer that you quoted was to a widow who deeply mourned her husband and cherished his ring. She was unhappy because her family told her she could no longer use his name nor wear his ring—which was of course entirely wrong.

Dear Mrs. Post: Won't you at some time, for the benefit of the manner of our young, express yourself on the subject of young girls allowing their boy friends to announce themselves from their automobiles by way of the horn? I tell my young son if a girl doesn't command more consideration than that, then he should make his date with one who does.

Answer: I agree with you about this, as well as about a number of other intricacies of behavior that I might mention—and some day soon I think I will! (Copyright, 1933.)

Miscellaneous

Dear Mrs. Post: I RECEIVED a nest of tables for a gift and am not sure to what extent I may use them. I have seen them displayed and then again I know people who always put them away in closets between parties.

Answer: Use them for every purpose imaginable. Primarily they are intended to hold conveniently cigarettes and ash trays, or glasses, plates or napkins and saucers. Not only when you give a party, but whenever convenient. What you do with them when not in use depends upon whether they are pretty ones, which are becoming to your living room. If they are, then place them stacked together, wherever they look best, exactly as you would use any single occasional table. If you have no room for them next to a sofa or an armchair, treat them as a convenience rather than as a furnishing and put them under the edge of a big table or wherever you can. If they're ugly, keep them in a closet and use them only on occasions when you can't do without them.

Dear Mrs. Post: Your answer to "How long may a widow wear her wedding ring?" is "For life or until she becomes engaged to another." Why should I wear my wedding ring since my marriage was dissolved by the death of my husband? I should wear my wedding ring until I am remarried. I am separated from my husband because of circumstances; she is separated only because of mutual agreement.

Answer: Whether you wear your ring or not is a matter of your own preference. There is no reason why you should wear it if it means nothing to you. My answer that you quoted was to a widow who deeply mourned her husband and cherished his ring. She was unhappy because her family told her she could no longer use his name nor wear his ring—which was of course entirely wrong.

Dear Mrs. Post: Won't you at some time, for the benefit of the manner of our young, express yourself on the subject of young girls allowing their boy friends to announce themselves from their automobiles by way of the horn? I tell my young son if a girl doesn't command more consideration than that, then he should make his date with one who does.

Answer: I agree with you about this, as well as about a number of other intricacies of behavior that I might mention—and some day soon I think I will! (Copyright, 1933.)

There are a number of firms here who handle rare editions of books. I could not find the books named in the column. If you will look at the classified section of the telephone book, for book dealers, you will find them. Writing the date of publication of the book and the name of the first edition or "special edition" and describe its appearance.

Dear Mrs. Carr: AM 28 years old and have been for some time in love and with a girl some years senior. We have spoken recently of marriage. But two things worry me: one is that while my girl loves me and will marry me, sometimes I think her affection is really centered on a young man. He is athletic in type, well looking. Every once in a while she lets it slip that she is tired something about him. Another thing, my girl is a prospective nurse and I think she has a liking for surgery. Her people are well to do and she can do (make a nurse) I think she learned domestic science school. She doesn't know how to sew or do much about house finances. I have told her that all business improves, she would have to do her own work.

Mrs. Carr, do you think I should give up this girl and try to find a more domestic inclined? Or do you think I should carry on and try to bring her around to seeing things my way, which I think is correct one. "PUZZLED."

She seems to "appeal to your imagination," which one writes is the necessary entrance. The question is, do you appreciate sufficiently to make her overcome domestic requirements, which you are inclined to think must be considered—imagination or imagination? I have heard it said that you must catch your bird before you tame him. I call this one might be on the wild side, she is domesticated. No, as you seem to me it is all right, whether your divinity is inspired or not, get the win out; with the solid qualities pulling heavily in the other direction.

Dear Mrs. Carr: AM 13 years old, writing a story and would like to send it to a magazine, but as it is not I don't know just how to get it sent. Another question is: One of my friends tells me parents that I take swimming lessons, tennis, go horseback riding and get pretty clothes, that I am time I start out I will be tired and not get a thing out of it. I would like to try this. What is your opinion of it? THANKS A LOT.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Mrs. Carr:

HAVE had the pleasure to peruse several articles written by dejected and love-worn youths. It is really startling for the result of the 15-year-olds is on and will continue — for who knows when? It is affecting school girls of every social stratum, and I am convinced it stands in our "best interest." She has very sophisticated and charming manners, but as soon as she is under the home roof, she discards them like a threadbare coat. She talks slang; invites her girl friends into the house; and proceeds to develop her "personality," her conception of what she is and would like to be. She desires to convey the sense that she has lived and loved and suffered, and there are depths in her heart that could never be sounded by the narrow attempts of her contemporaries.

She and her pals imitate each other to a degree that is appalling. Miss X whose diction once was excellent is this year talking with a nasal tone because Miss Y talks through hers.

These young sincerely believe themselves to be martyrs. From their viewpoint they are cut off, by their parents' narrowness of outlook, from the diversions and companionship of their friends. But the conscientious boys must be the martyrs — and who is looking for matrimony nowadays?

"DISGUSTED" WEITON.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I SHALL appreciate it very much if you will advise me where one might write in regard to disposing of early editions of books. I have several books which may, or may not, be rare editions and shall appreciate any information I can get of the subject.

LILLIAN S.

There are a number of firms here who handle rare editions and used books. I could not give you these names in the column. If you will look at the classified section in the telephone book, for book dealers, you will find them. Write giving the date of publication and say whether or not the book is a "first edition" or "special edition" and describe its appearance.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

AM 28 years old and have been for some time in love and going with a girl some years my senior. We have spoken recently of marriage. But two things worry me: one is, that while my girl says she loves me and will marry me, sometimes I think her affections are really centered on a younger man. He is athletic in type, very good looking. Every once in a while she lets it slip that she admires something about him.

Another thing, my girl is not sure on things that a prospective husband should know and I do not think she has a liking for such things. Her people are well off and the one thing she can do (make a meal) I think she learned at a domestic science school. She doesn't know, however, the difference between a curriculum and a syllabus, and not much about finances or how to keep a house clean.

I have told her that, until business improves, she would have to be her own work.

Mrs. Carr, do you think I should give up this girl and try to find someone more domestically inclined? Or do you think I should carry on and try to bring her around to seeing things my way, which I think is the correct one. "PUZZLED."

She seems to "appeal to your imagination," which one writes to you. The question is, do you appeal sufficiently to make her overlook the domestic requirements, which she is inclined to think must be considered — imagination or no imagination? I have heard it said that you must catch your bird before she is domesticated. Now, with you it seems to me it is all a question of whether your divine inspiration is inspired by the imagination or by the solid qualities which are pulling heavily in the other direction.

Another question is: One of my neighbors tells my parents that because I take swimming lessons, they must go horseback riding and get pretty clothes, etc., that by the time I start out I will be tired of everything and not get a thrill out of life. I would hate to think this is true. WHAT IS YOUR OPINION?

Have your story typed neatly on paper about 8 1/2 by 11 inches, leave a four or five inch margin at the top of the first page and about an inch and a half on each side. Write your name and address at the upper left-hand corner, and in close a self-addressed and stamped envelope, for its return, if it is rejected. You will find the address of the editor on the inside of cover or one of the pages following.

The point made by your relative is well taken, if you spend too much time thinking about how you look and what impression you are making. But pretty, appropriate clothes (not too many) and training in athletics of any kind does not mean that you will be satisfied with life by the time you make your formal bow.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I AN, you tell me when or where I will find rummage sales?

I know a family of children that do not have sufficient clothing for cool weather and I want to get them some; but as I am working on small wages I cannot buy new ones.

KATY.

If these children are of school age and need the clothing in order to attend school, I think the Child Conservation Conference, Inc., may help you out. Telephone Mrs. H.

WOMEN AND EDUCATION

Seven College Presidents, in St. Louis, Believe Educated Women Have Held Country Together During Crisis of Depression—Discuss Differences With Men's Schools—Increasing Interest in Political Science Noted in Last Few Years.

of the men's schools have adopted certain of the ideas to a greater extent than others. As, he cited, the increasing interest in dramatics at Yale, and in music at Harvard.

ON THE other hand, there are courses of great importance to women, which are quite unlikely to be adopted by men's colleges. Child psychology was mentioned by Miss Park as one course in which women almost exclusively needed groundwork for later life. There are courses also in social work, child and family welfare and even a course in "maternity" at Vassar, Dr. MacCracken supplemented. Men's colleges, on the other hand, have courses which are not overlapping, in technical work such as engineering, geology, the applied sciences.

In the common group Dr. MacCracken named Latin, Greek, the social sciences, and various of the fine arts. And in the fine arts, the women's colleges, he said, have led the way.

Not that there needs be any great difference in the general training of men and women for their future part in the world, said Miss Pendleton. It is difficult to say that women need this and men that in their education. So much depends on the individual, so that the important thing is not to direct the student in a particular channel, but to develop the personality. Technical training can be obtained in a comparatively short time; the larger scope of training is to enable women to become an intellectual stimulus in later life, to attain a sense of largeness and breadth of life, so that they may provide the necessary influence both for husband and children. However, she said, it is a difficult thing to train women for motherhood, because a general broadening of viewpoint does this.

In this connection Dr. Neilson's view is that there "is no more reason for a course in motherhood than for one in fatherhood." He believes that it is very important to have cultivated mothers in the home and in the community.

It was from Dr. MacCracken, however, that the greatest tribute to the influence of women in the national life came. A keen student of politics who displayed his wide information on the subject during discussion, he attributed the stability of the United States during times of stress, and its freedom from the drastic political upheavals, to women.

"Women," he said, "are the central force in the national life; they are the source of the cohesion of society, the influence that holds it together. Men are centrifugal; their tendency is to spread out, to diverge. In America, during crises such as the one through which we are now passing, it is the women who hold the country together. There has not been the fear and talk of revolution, of governmental upsets in this country that there has been in Europe. The reason is that there are more educated women in the United States. The educated groups of women remain calm and considerate in times of stress; they give attention to the welfare of others as well as themselves; they reassure the uneasy, the distressed.

"And if you will consider the matter, you will see that with the enfranchisement of women, there has been no great effort or desire on their part to hold office. The enfranchisement of women has been of utmost importance to this country, but not in the way of office holding; the importance has been in the intelligent use of their influence on the voters and as voters, in seeking political progress and betterment.

"And that women are taking an interest in political science is illustrated by the fact that at Vassar we have been forced to add two new teachers on the subject to the trips to learn the language, of which they come back masters. However, during their stay abroad, the students live with the families of natives of the countries visited, study under native teachers, and so acquire a valuable comprehension of foreign viewpoints and affairs. It is a decidedly broadening project, he said.

The influence of the seven colleges represented may be realized by the fact that they have at present a total enrollment of approximately 8300 students, representing about 44 states. The alumnae total between 13,000 and 14,000 women, Neilson said.

The educators arrived in St. Louis yesterday afternoon, having made the trip from the East together.

"You would never find seven heads of men's colleges traveling together so congenially," Miss Woolley laughingly commented to representatives of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch who accompanied the group westward from Indianapolis. "You see, we are under a code and stopped competition, to work together. We have a common cause—the furthering of education for women."

After a preliminary education in private schools, Miss Woolley traveled abroad and hoped to attend Oxford, but instead became one of the first two women students of Brown University. There she received a Master's degree in 1895, and taught at Wellesley until she became head of Mount Holyoke in 1901.

Miss Parks is rather slight of build, an inclusive woman of genial personality. She was born in Andover, N. Y., where she attended the public schools, and attended Bryn Mawr. After a post graduate course abroad in Latin and Greek she taught in several schools, and then took her Doctor of Philosophy degree at Bryn Mawr, where she was made acting dean. A year later she became dean of Simmons College in Boston, then for a year was dean at Radcliffe, after which she became head of Bryn Mawr. Incidentally, an aunt, Miss Elizabeth Mead, was president of Mount Holyoke prior to Miss Woolley's presidency.

Miss Gildersleeve, while holding the nominal title of dean at Barnard, since Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia is president of both schools, is really the head of Barnard. She was born in New York, where she has lived her entire life, attending New York schools and Barnard College.

Miss Pendleton, a native of Westerly, Rhode Island, attended the schools there before taking up her student work at Wellesley. After a post-graduate course at that school, she was asked to teach Greek, Latin, and mathematics on the faculty, and has been there since, except for one year at Cambridge, England. Her ability as head has been well illustrated on two occasions. When College Hall burned in 1914, she had a temporary office and recitation building erected in 15 days. And one time, when the school was hard pressed for funds, she visited a well-known philanthropist, and returned with a check for $500,000.

Miss Comstock, who was born in Moorhead, Minn., was admitted to a boy's Episcopal school when eight years old, along with four other girls, but the experiment had a distracting effect on the boys, so she and her companions were asked to go elsewhere. Later she entered Smith, and then taught English at the University of Minnesota. Her activities toward bettering the living conditions of the women students led to her appointment as dean of women. Then she became dean at Smith College, later becoming president.

Dr. MacCracken was born at Toledo, O., although his father for many years was chancellor of New York University. He was educated at New York University and at Harvard. He taught at several colleges, including Harvard, before he became head of Vassar.

Dr. Neilson is a native of Scotland, and received his education at Edinburgh University. He also holds degrees from Harvard University, and has taught in Canada, as well as at Barnard, Harvard, Bryn Mawr, Columbia, Radcliffe, and Sorbonne.

JOHN B. KENDRICK

By the Associated Press.
SHERIDAN, Wyo., Nov. 4.—
John B. Kendrick, senior U.S.
States Senator from Wyoming, in a hospital here late yesterday.

He was stricken at his Wednesday night. Doctors at diagnosed his illness as uremic hemorrhage, but later decided it was uremic coma.

The oldest man in the Senator Kendrick observed seventy-sixth birthday, Sept. 6.
When stricken he had just turned from Washington where had worked through the summer in behalf of the Casper-Alco-viation project in Wyoming.

Senators Carey of Wyoming,
Robinson of Arkansas, and Representative Carter of Wyoming.

Lea of California were named to attend the funeral at Sheridan.

Senator Kendrick began as a cowboy and a cattle raiser.

He was born Sept. 6, 1857, in Kee County, Texas, where parents were cattle raisers. He completed only seven grades of grammar school at Florence, Tex., when at the age of 16 he became a cowboy. Feeling the need of education eight years later, he went to a Wyoming ranch, he studied grammar, arithmetic and history in the bunkhouse. Later, when he came a cattle owner, he always read a book, either arithmetic, geography, history or grammar, wherever he went, whether on the roundup or in the cattle trail.

He went to Wyoming where was 22 years old, "riding trail" drive of cattle from Matagorda, on the Gulf of Mexico to Run-water River, Wyo., taking months to cover the 1500 miles.
was employed on this journey
Charles W. Wulfsberg, a Texas rancher, who was moving his herd from Wyoming and later became Wyo.'s foremost on his Northern ranch, and married daughter, Eula, then a school teacher at Greeley, Colo.

Returning to Texas in 1883, invested his savings of $150 in a small herd of cattle and drove it to Wyoming, where established his own ranch. In he owned 200,000 acres on which grazed his herds in North Wyoming and Southern Montana.

He undertook to prevent bleeding on his ranches. Once caught a group of his cowboys engaged in a poker game. Instead of discharging them, he said himself and, before it was finished, he had cleaned the entire game.

He did not become interested in politics until 1910, when he was elected for two successive terms to the Wyoming State Senate.

In 1914 he was elected Governor of the State and in 1917 resigned
Governor to be elected to the United States Senate, where served for two terms.

During his service at Wash-

R. F. C. GOLD PRICE IS $32.
59 CENTS ABOVE WORLD

This Is New High for Dom-
Declines.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—
World price of gold was lower today, but the Reconstruction Finance Corporation quotation newly mined metal here went up a new high, while dispatches abroad indicated the day's purchases in bullion markets for the American Government.

The London gold figure fell eight from the equivalent of an ounce to $32.08, but following their policy of constantly increasing the domestic figure, administration officials raised it to $32.57 yesterday to $32.67 today, above world quotations.
London dispatches said the only transaction recorded there today was a sale of 100,000 ounces.

Too Much Individualism

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

WHEN you are in trouble up to your chin you shouldn't make waves.

That's what the half-baked agitators are doing. They've mixed up all the rules for co-operation.

They have their noses to the wheel and their shoulders to the grindstone. The Government cannot help a man who won't help himself. And your corner agitator ain't helping anybody by shouting from the soap box tops.

When you're on a raft you should be buying lumber and not selling it.

It speaks badly for any nation when an appeal to patriotism harvests nothing but a crop of its own echoes.

So far we have had plenty of bickerings, squabbles, strikes and selfishness. Outside of that, it's a nice day.

It proves that almost every man adheres to the pro rata formula. "First comes me, then comes me again and then comes you."
